SUICIDE NEAR PLEASANTON

Body Found on Track by Engineer O'Bryan.

Yesterday afternoon as Engineer J. B. O'Bryan was running his train into Pleasanton, and when about three miles from that station, he noticed an object on the track ahead of him, and stopping the train found the body of a dead man, with the top of his head blown off from the contents of both barrels of a shotgun. An investigation brought forth the fact that the body was that of a man named Peters, living near Pleasanton, and it was further revealed that the man had told his wife that morning he would kill himself, but she had taken his threat as a joke or bluff and only found out the ghastly truth when the dead body was found and taken to town. We have no further particulars.

HOB0 NOW IN ORD PALACE

Hobo Freeborn Changes His Headquarters.

The sensational shooting case at Ashton suffered an inglorious ending on Monday of this week. On that day the man Freeborn was taken back to Ashton, accompanied by his attorney, H. M. Mathew, and the matter closed without trial, the tramp being given some $20 in money and a ticket to Sargent, and Constable John Goc settled the costs accruing out of the case, except the costs of the prisoner's stay in the county jail, which we understand the county will have to foot. Later—The hobo got off at Arcadia, hired Harry Sawyer, the liveryman, to take him to Ord, and held him at Ord all night in the expectation of going back to Arcadia in the morning, but instead he hired another team and boy to take him some four miles in the country, stealing Sawyer's $18 overcoat and had the boy take him to North Loup. He then sent the boy back to Ord with the team and left for parts unknown. When the boy returned, Sawyer swore out a warrant and arrested the hobo at Scotia and the fine-haired gentleman is now languishing in jail at Ord.

NEBRASKA GIRL IN OREGON

Continuation of Series of Interesting Letters.

MEHAMA, Ore.—I must tell you about our moonlight excursion. Our amiable hostess had captured one of the Happy Four, the Little Mother, and taken her off for an afternoon call, so that left the Trio to amuse themselves. Hearing our hostess inform the guide that some mutton must be taken up to the Miner's Retreat that evening, and scenting pleasure ahead, the Baby Schoolman innocently asked how he was going up, and in some way it was soon arranged that the Trio were to go, it being considered very dangerous for one to travel alone over such awful roads, especially during fair weather in June and more especially if the guide wishes to have a "stand in" with the rest of the party.

We started between four and five o'clock p. m. The sun was beating down with intense heat in the clearings but soon we were riding along under the shade of an Oregon forest in perfect comfort.

Ah, if I could but make you see with me, the beauties of the grand old woodland road in the Santiam Valley. I have already learned to love it, though it is so different from what I have been used to.

Can you not fancy you see us as we ride along, now over nearly level roads, now up and up till we gain the summit of a hill and at every step we watch the lights and shadows playing and changing among the trees.

You know something of what a variety of forest trees grow here, so I need not try to describe the tall, stately firs, the dark green cedars, the alder with its light colored moss-grown trunk and dark green foliage, the graceful slender vine maple and the many other varieties of timber, each having its own particular charms, and in thinking of them all we must not forget the lichens and mosses, which spread over every otherwise bare and unsightly place, like a mantle of charity which noble minds throw over the faults of others. The ferns and brake grow everywhere in wild profusion and add to the beauty of the scene.

Anon, or a little before anon, as Samantha Allen would say, we descend the long slope of the hill, and as we go down into the depths of the canon the foliage is so dense that we can hardly see the sun's rays.

As we near the bottom of the hill perhaps we see a rustic bridge. Ah! we have learned to know what that means. There will be a lovely glade where only an occasional ray of light can filter through the dense green above.

Occasionally we pass a little clearing with a house and barns, standing back from the roadside.

For the most part the dwellings are rude and unpainted but comfortable and homelike.

At one point we cross the river, and from the bridge we get some pretty views. From another place, we just catch a glimpse of a lovely waterfall.

In our drive of about nine miles we pass two rather dilapidated schoolhouses, one of which holds many pleasant memories for the Baby.

We arrive at our destination at about 7 o'clock, or rather the destination of the mutton.

We have ere this decided that we will have view of the Narrows by moonlight, but first we have one more short call to make, as friends must not be slighted even if it is nearly sundown.

Soon we drive on as far as the wagon road goes, tie our team, and go down to the river where we eat our supper. If you could see the river, the woods and bold rugged mountains rising so abruptly on either side of the river, all gilded by the glorious sunset light, you might guess what made our supper taste so good.

But we have over a mile and a half yet to walk, much of it hard climbing, so we must not linger. We have gone only a short dis-

Lizzie Her, widow of Lorenzo Dow Her, deceased; Leonard A. Her, Hazel D. Her and Alberta May Her, minor children and sole heirs at law of Lorenzo Dow Her, deceased, Defendants.

In the Matter of the Estate of Lorenzo Dow Her, deceased.
On this 9th day of May, 1905, at Chambers at the Court House at Broken Bow, in Custer County, and State of Nebraska, this cause came on for hearing upon the petition of Lizzie Her, administratrix of the estate of Lorenzo Dow Her, deceased, praying a license to sell the following described real estate situated in Sherman County and State of Nebraska, to-wit: The northwest quarter of Section two (2) in Township sixteen (16) north of Range fifteen (15) west, and the northeast quarter and the east half of the northwest quarter of Section three (3) in Township sixteen (16) north of Range fifteen (15) west, containing 306 3/4 acres, subject to a mortgage of $1,000.00, with interest thereon at 10 per cent per annum from Nov. 1st, 1903, or a sufficient amount of the same to bring the sum of $1,044.43, for the payment of debts allowed against said estate and the costs of administration, there not being sufficient personal property to pay the said debts and expenses.

It is therefore ordered that all persons interested in said estate appear before me at the Court House in Loup City, Sherman County, Nebraska, on the 30th day of June, 1905, at 10 o'clock a. m., to show cause why a license should not be granted to said administratrix to sell so much of the above described real estate of said deceased as shall be necessary to pay said debts and expenses.

It is further ordered that this notice be published for four consecutive weeks in THE LOUP CITY NORTHWESTERN, a newspaper published in said County of Sherman, Nebraska. Dated this 9th day of May, 1905.
