The CONVICT CO or FIGHTING for MILLION

BY CHARLES MORRIS BUTLER

CHAPTER XII.

in for a concert saloon.

The party turew off all restraint when

Author of "The Revenge of Pierre," A Tenement Tragedy,"Anila" Etc. Copyright, 1905, by Charles Morris Butler. in the fight which ensued. The attack struggle between Lang and Long The Journey to the Convict Country. by the Indians was made by night. Rope. Lang had succeeded in freeing extent in China for the transporta-We left our friends Lang and Den- The train had been on the move up himself from the grasp of his antago- tion for long distances of passengers ver in company with Regan and Gold- till ten o'clock at night. Just after nist, and by a herculean sweep of and freight. Lieut. Col. C. C. Manien, traveling toward the West. Upon forming a solid circle, for protection his arm had planted his trusty blade fold of the British army writes as folarriving at St. Paul, which was reach- at night; and while all was in con- in the breast of the chief, ending the lows of the wheelbarrow men in the

try, and embarked on board one of the Charlie, accompanied by Lang, was but slight loss, considering. large Mississippi steamers on its jour- viewing the surrounding country from ney down the river. At St. Louis the the ridge, preparatory to mapping out already large crowd was further add- the next day's march, when he caught the grand stand. Others may have is the wheelbarrow. There is no ed to by a curious quartet; one was a a glimpse of moving forms in the celebrated pickpocket, called "Limpy woods on one side of the train. It Jim," and his "stone," "Pocketbook was this fact alone that saved the thing had been made snug and com- to the fact that draft animals are not Pete," who were in company with train from total annihilation. It took fortable for the night, Louis was bred in any numbers or that from time two women of questionable character, the scout but a moment to warn his feted to his heart's content. He had immemorial wheelbarrows have been "Dizzy Lill," a tumbled-down variety colleagues of their impending danger. actress, and "French Fannie," a roper- The wagons were huddled more closely together, the women sheltered be-It was not Golden's wish to travel hind an impromptu barricade of boxes in company with such a large gang in the center, and the mules securely of crooks and thus court capture, but picketed as far from danger as posin this he was not a free agent. How- sible. The charge was not made imever, the vessel had been chartered mediately, but the Indians waited for for the gang's exclusive use, and the the moon to pass behind a cloud, so · more people carried the better for the the boys were somewhat prepared colony. Jim Denver, in the character for them. Where a confusion reigned of a stowaway, managed to secrete a moment since, ominous silence himself on board the boat, but at the now held sway. Desperate men, used junction of the Arkansas and the to frontier life, upon one knee in a Mississippi, fearing that Regan and half-sitting posture, with rifles resting Golden would discover his identity upon the spokes of the wagons and and being aware by this time of the their revolvers handy, listened for the probable situation of the country, signal of attack. Cool and collected, parted company with Lang and left every one was waiting for the inevit-

All was darkness for a moment, once the vessel began to ply the Ark- then the charge came! Now all seemansas. There was no one on board ed confusion; the women screamed; his bravery, and it is bravery, if anynow but the emigrants to the Convict | the mules brayed; the Indians yelled; Country. Our German girls had by the actual defenders alone were silent, this time, if they had not before, With grim determination painted on learned their fate, which was to be every face, the emigrants awaited the married off, even against their wills, attack and were not caught asleep! to the several farmers who supplied At last there came the discharge of the city with edibles. This to arms-and yells of more unearthly them was no great misfortune. They sounds, and when the moon again were to find homes. This was to them | burst out from behind the clouds the compensation enough and they made first skirmish was over, and all but themselves quite happy.

Swayed back and forward.

he expects to reap some benefit from Long Rope was mistaken. the expenditures of his fortune (supposed to have been stolen from Jim awares, though unused to border war-Denver). Before his eyes were the fare. After firing one volley from his terrible chances he was taking. Time repeater he laid it down before him and time again had his life passed in and was upon his feet just as he saw a review before him (like the brief sur- form leap out from the darkness upon vey of a drowning man) and he realiz- him. Louis was armed with that tered that he was rushing on to almost rible instrument called a "detective's certain doom. He had constantly in | dirk" an instrument made in the mind these thoughts: riches or death! shape of a policeman's billy and used Life (to him) was not worth the liv- much as a sandbag, and by pressing a ing unless he obtained wealth and spring through the head of the billy fame, even if he had to enter the very protrudes a shining steel blade, which jaws of death to accomplish his pur- can be used as a knife. This is a very pose. To look at him no one would dangerous weapon, being both a suppose him an extraordinary youth; bowie knife and a club at the same he is as much an ordinary mortal as time. Long Rope expected to run his can well be conceived, yet he is a hand against the barrel of a gun, and little different. He sings and dances, tomahawk in hand, expected to cleave plays upon the mouth organ and tells the owner's skull in twain. But in funny stories, even the watchful and this he was mistaken. In the darksober Golden has to laugh at his wit, ness the Indian ran quite unexpectedand each of his German cousins is in ly into the arms of our friend.

the vessel was abandoned. The party | Knife in hand, the chief would have | argument that floors you thoroughly. forms a pack train and proceeds over- stampeded the mules; confusion would guard of ten rough border men, and as perhaps have been trampled to death strong, handsome and gay. The girls the other male personages were furnished with bronchos to ride, while horses, and that would have been the women folks were placed in the enough to have made them lose the wagons. The whole outfit were now day in an encounter such as they were furnished with defensive weapons, as in. they were traveling over a dangerous | However, Lang was no "tenderfoot." portion of the continent where might even if he had been brought up in made right and where it was worse the city. As he felt the earth jar as than folly to be caught napping with the chief sprang toward him, he anything on their persons worth steal- reached out his arm and grasped his ing either by desperadoes or Indians. foe, at the same time dealing him a It was just four weeks after the time blow with his billy. If Lang could of leaving Chicago that the party set have seen his foe in the first place. out boldly across the plains. None but the chief would never have moved convicts' wagons have ever passed again. As it was, the blow did not over the route taken, for they are now stop the rush of the chief, simply surin the "Bad Lands," and unless fully prised him as the blow landed only protected their lives will pay the pen- upon the shoulders. For a moment the diamond scarfpin in his sweater, alty of their rashness. It is an eight | Lang and the Indian fought hand to | "how they did up Sullivan over in een day's journey from Umbrina to hand. Lang held the Indian's right Kawich." the Convict City by wagon (25 miles | hand with his left; the Indian held a day), but in three days 108 miles are | Lang's in the same manner, and they made uninterruptedly.

taken by a severe storm-a "north- antagonist. easter," accompanied by sleet and hail, lasting for over a day. It took second charge was made upon the when there is any in camp, is worth its fully three days to rest up, and dur- train, and the moon uncovering itself, weight in radium. Well, a fellow went ing that time they were sighted by a a second and third volley was fired into Sullivan's the other day with sevroving band of Indians who were out by the emigrants, with considerable en friends, and just out of pure cusafter a herd of stampeded cattle.

the dead were out of sight.

Louis Lang seems to be out of | Two or three braves, more daring place in this group. He is unlike any than the rest, in the first mad rush. other individual in the gang. A pas- had leaped to the front, and tomasenger paying his way into the city. hawks in hand, had managed to break There had been just as foolish men as into the circle. One was met by he appears brought into the city be- Bowie Bill; one by Cowboy Charlie, fore, who, for fancied security had and the third, a young chief, by Lang. paid over their all, and awoke to find Long Rope, the chief, was out for little general conversation, for the pro- of more or less celebrated individuals, that their past was but a dream, and a scalps, and had singled out Lang as future of toil and slavery still ahead the easiest man to dispose of, and and very popular with the entire uniof them. As we know Lang, we know thus break into the enclosure. But

Louis Lang was not taken un. in his eye:

The journey is uneventful up to the complishing his purpose of besting navigable source of the river, where Lang, the game would have been won. land. Here the party was met by a have reigned supreme; the women many prairie schooners with six big beneath the hoofs of the infuriated liked him, and he, I fear, liked the strapping mules attached to each and half-tamed animals; the men to girls. The following conversation, one wagon. Lang, Regan and Golden, and save the train would have had to devote some attention to capturing the swayed back and forward, each striv- is busted flatter than the bank at On the third day the train was over- ing his utmost to get the best of his Goldfield? You haven't been over to

During the time of this struggle a miles out in the wilderness, and water, accuracy, which completely routed the sedness they all ordered water."

Indians. Bowie Bill had dispatched BETTER THAN MULES his antagonist, and had propped the body up before him as a shield, while calmly meeting the second charge. CHINESE COOLIES TRAVEL FAR Cowboy Charley had gone to his last account, nevertheless he had succeeded in finishing his slayer. His knife, plunged with the strength of a Their Cheerfulness and Endurance Undying man, was found embedded in the heart of his enemy. When the repulse had been successfully accomplished the border men Louis Lang conducted himself nobly turned in time to see the end of the ed, as Golden supposed, without being fusion over preparing supper, while fray, becoming conqueror in a most upper Yangtse provinces: "The plain detected, the group was reinforced by the guards were busy with the tether- desperate encounter. The Indians, of Suicho is as densely populated as another gang of female domestics of ing of mules and rubbing down of now without a leader, made a few any part of China and a great trade in about the shade of intelligence of stock, the charge of the Indians came. feints, then abandoned the fight, fur- locally manufactured cloth is carried those already being taken to the coun- The chief scout of the train, Cowboy nishing victory for the whites with on from its neighborhood and sent all of the hour. His was the play before affluent of the Han river is reached, done more to merit approbation, but doubt that a good cart road could be his was the act seen. After every- easily made, but whether it is due longed for just such a chance as this used, these latter alone hold the field to prove his skill in an emergency and no attempt has been made to conmade his reputation.

tool," said Bowie Bill, as he patted be despised as a means of transport. our hero upon the shoulder. "I kinder Hundreds of them were passed by us, fearful of the responsibility he had dia, and the same human beast of burtaken upon himself in bringing Lang den will go on making the journey along, but now he was satisfied with cheerfully day in and day out, without the result. Louis had gained the hearty any halts for lameness or sore backs. good will of these desperate men by thing, that all men admire in men.

French Fannie came over and embraced Louis. "You are a duck of a fighter," she said. And as Limpy Jim approached, she continued. "And if I was not 'Pete's flame' I'd stick tighter'n glue to you. See?"

"Thanks," replied Louis, "you do me

Then Dizzy Lill said that she would sing and dance for him on the morrow. This was quite a concession on her part, as Louis had been trying to get her to do this very thing for him, but had thus far failed.

"I'm your huckleberry," he said. To himself he allowed himself to admit that at last he had the bull by the horns, and was on the highway to the accomplishing of his intentions.

(To be continued.)

THE LINE HE DREW.

Professor Had Answer Ready for Inquiring Sophomore.

Prof. "Bill" Bailey's recent visit to at his expense by a prominent sopho-

About a month ago, when everybody was getting his spring clothes, the to bed was far from their thoughts professor noted with great annoyance | and that my sleep was often disturbed that the attendance at once of his by the noise they made as they sat classes was falling off rapidly, due to up gambling long past midnight and records he found that there were more | before 6 in the morning, having risen absentees from that one class than to make up their loads and get their there were names on the sick list of food cooked before 5 o'clock." the entire sophomore class. A general rounding-up followed, and as a result the attendance once more became nor-

The next week, however, fate ironically decreed that the professor him. | tended a reception given by a Philaprevented from attending his classes, known writer. The student in question called on his instructor one afternoon, and after a was introduced to the whole roomful fessor is a "prince of good fellows," versity, the young man looked at him | could remember an amazing propor as he lay there and said with a twinkle | tion of the names of those present.

"I say, professor, just where do you draw the line on this sick business?" moment, then appreciating the humor | was not of a "literary" turn, she reof the situation, snapped back with his | marked: ever-ready wit: "Oh, I draw-I draw the clothes line!"-New York Times.

PROMISE WAS TO LIVE ONE.

Circumstance Raised Obstacle to Matrimonial Project.

Mayor Weaver, of the awakened city of Philadelphia, was talking to a reporter about a very astute and wily politician.

"It is difficult," said the mayor, "to get this man to do anything he doesn't want to do. Cornered, he advances argument after argument against the course you desire to pursue. He begins with weak arguments. You think If Long Rope had succeeded in ac- you've got him. But just as victory appears assured he puts forth a final argument that is insuperable, a fine

> "The fellow is like the fickle sailor of the old romance. This sailor was moonlight night in the tropics, passed between him and a young woman: "'Then, Jack, when shall we be mar-

"'But I promised my wife, sweetheart, that I would never marry a second time.' "The young girl, beautiful in the flattering moonlight, murmured: "'Would you cast me off for the sake of a promise to a dead woman?"

"But she isn't dead yet,' said the flickle sailor." Breaking Up a Nevada Saloon. They were exchanging the gossip of the mining camps of Nevada.

"Did you hear." said the fellow with "Yep. Sullivan's saloon at Kawich nawich, have you? It's forty-five

WITH HEAVY LOADS.

der Hard Labor Calls Forth Admiration of British Traveler-Need Little Food and Less Sleep.

Wheelbarrows are used to a great over the country. The only transport Circumstances made Louis the lion used, until the railway or a navigable and the test was to his credit. It struct roads suitable for any other form of wheeled vehicle. These wheel-"You're a handy man with a killing barrows, however, are by no means to thought you was a tenderfoot, but I each loaded with at least five and see you know how to handle your often seven or eight of the bales of narrow cotton cloth made in the sur-"You can bet your bottom do lar rounding districts, each of these bales on that, old sport!" said Louis, in weighing about seventeen pounds. One braggadocio. "I done him up brown." man would wheel a barrow carrying "Yes, done it neatly," said the bor- 350 pounds and make his twelve to twenty miles a day, more than double "He robbed his bank as easily," said the amount which the government Golden proudly. Golden was a little pack mule is allowed to carry in In-

> "My admiration for the Chinese coolie is unbounded: there is no man in the world who does the same patient, laborious work so cheerfully. Farther on, when we came to the mountainous watershed country, where only back loads are possible. I became still more confirmed in this opinion. Often after a long and weary day with the surveyors, in the course of which we would have climbed up from 5,000 to 8,000 feet, and made several such ascents and descents, having, perhaps, been on the move from 5 in the morning until dusk, we would come in, rather inclined to pat ourselves on the back at the thought of what a hard day's work we had successfully accomplished, only to find that the Chinese coolies had made as good time, auto while he was away this sumeach man having covered nearly as mer." much ground with a load of 100 pounds on his back. This done on a tion?" few bowls of rice and bean curd, for a wage of less than ninepence (18

"Then, on their arrival, one might have thought that the coolies would New York recalls a story that is told have been glad to rest; but if, as was often the case where accommodation was limited, I slept in the same house. I found to my annoyance that to retire "illness." On looking up the college | yet they would be again on the road

On the Right Track.

Dr. Weir Mitchell relates the sad case of a young woman from Baltimore affecting literary fads who atself should be indisposed, and thereby delphia woman in honor of a well-

The young woman from Baltimore and it seemed to be a circumstance on which she prided herself that she When, however, she came to say fare well to a certain rather distinguished young man, who, by the way, was "Bill" looked keenly at him for a probably the only person there who

"Do you know, I've remembered very nearly all the names, but when it comes to yours I must confess that I'm entirely at sea."

With a smile the young man replied "Then you're not far from wrong. My name is Atwater."-New York Times.

His Return.

Ah. do you remember those halcyon days When I went barefooted and you made mud pies?
On many strange scenes have I centered my gaze Since you bade me good-by with hot tears in your eyes—

I have roamed o'er the world, all its wonders I've scanned—

ders I've scanned—
I'm holding And here, where we parted, I'm holding your hand! Ah, yes, I remember the ples and the There was one of your toes which was

It seems as if yesterday there in the You left me a child, in short dresses And I wept, as you say, when you bade And-will you forgive me for wondering Hoodoo on June 1.

In deference to a superstition which has prevailed for many years, there was on June 1 a complete cessation of at Bethesda, in Wales, where 4,000 teacher. men are employed. The superstition owes its origin to a succession of fatal biles in his day," replied the boy. acidents on Ascension day. Some years ago the management succeeded in inducing the workmen to remain at |, "He's at the top of the ladder, their posts, but, strange to relate, a isn't he?" fatal accident occurred.

Bet on San Francisco's Growth. In 1900 Andrea Starboro, a wealthy citizen of San Francisco, bet another, P. C. Rossi, a dinner of twenty covers at $10 each that in twenty-five years San Francisco will have a population of 1,000,000. Arrangements have been made for the payment of the bet by the heirs of the betters if necessary.

Improved Typewriter. Cerman newspapers speak of a new typewriting machine which prints syllables and short words instead of single setters, attains much greater speed | before a pig." than others, and, it is claimed, will revolutionize the art of typewriting.

No Letup There. Tess-"Miss Hussle is in for everything. She's constantly doing some-Jess-"Yes, but the one thing she is doing most constantly she won't Tess-"What's that?"

Surprised. "Ella gets her beautiful complexion from her mother." "Is her mother a chemist?"

Jess-"Growing older."

Made Himself So.

last evening, but he wasn't at home. Subbubs-Oh! yes he was. Neerbye-I tell you he wasn't.

Let Him Retire. tire from the prize ring." "Well, who is holding him?"

A HARD BLOW.

Her Brother-Sister took up for you last night allright. Pop said you were a fool.

Her Suitor-What did she say?

Her Brother-Sister said that he shouldn't judge a man by his looks.

"Charles asked me the all-important question last night," said Clara. "What-a proposal?" "Oh, heavens, no. He wanted to know if I would like the use of his

"And what about the other ques-

"Oh, that will come; but I felt uncertain about the auto."

Little Daughter Looks Ahead. Mamma-My dear, what are you do-

Little daughter- aking a dolly for my little sister. Mamma-But you haven't any little

Little daughter-No, not yet, but Sally Stuckup has just got one, and I know we always get everything the Stuckups do.-Illustrated Bits.

A Plea for Mercy.

"You've been fishing," said the stern parent. "Come with me, sir; I'm going to punish you." "I hope, father," said the boy, "that you will make the punishment fit the "That's what I propose to do, sir."

"Well, father, I only got one nibble. That's all the crime amounted to."

Easily Satisfied. "Stop and think, young man. Why do you drink that stuff? Remember, that water is the best beverage-it is a priceless drink." "Sure, that's all right. But I'm not extravagant in my tastes-the best is too fine for me. All I want is a drop of something good."-Cleveland Lead-

Following Instructions. "Now," said the magistrate, "you must testify to what you know; no hearsay evidence."

"Yes, sir," replied the female wit-

"Now, then, what is you age?" "I-er-won't tell you. I have only earsay evidence on that point."

Describing Her. "But she goes to church regularly." "Of course. I don't deny that."

"Well, then, in the matter of her reigious duties she's a close observer-' "Say, rather a 'clothes observer.' she simply goes to observe the clothes of the other women."

Difficult Navigation. Church-Aerial navigation is still ifficult, is it not? Gotham-Why, yes. We had a very ard shower the other night when I was at a roof-garden shown and the avigation was something fierce!-Yorkers Statesman.

A Good Reason.

"And, Willie, do you know why Methuselah lived to such a good old work at Lord Penrhyn's slate quarries | age?" asked the Sunday school "I s'pose there wasn't no automo-

> At the Top. "I guess so. He can hear of an-

Not Devoured by Curiosity. "Did th' docther find out what it is that's ailin' yez?" "No. He said th't nawthin' but a postmortem examination wud iver re- pronounce it nonsense. veal ut. An' I haven't enough curiosi-

A Gentle Insinuation. "Is this the best dinner you can give a man? I wouldn't set such a mess wait on yourself."

ty about ut to have ut done."

sore."-Detroit Tribune.

"Alas!" said the old horse. "There's Neerbye-I called to see Brassy Subbubs-But I tell you he wasvery much at home. He monopolized the hammock on our porch all even- to hay; then fodder and only this

"I see that Jimmy Britt wants to re-

The way He Painted.

Mr. Subbubs-I spoke to the painter about it, but he's so busy he won't be

Mrs. Subbubs-We can't wait that

Mr. Subbubs-Oh, in that case I'll

The Last One In.

"At that time," the beautiful girl replied, "I had no reason to believe that you would prove the Apache of Synonymous.

"So he said I was a polished gentle-

"Well-yes. It was the same thing."

"He said you were a slippery fel-

"Ah! What was the exact word?"

Telltale Physiognomy.

Joe Cose-Yes, regular gin phiz.

Moe Rose-Jagby has a dissipatedme," said the jilted lover.

the bunch."

man, did he?"

long, it needs to be painted very that back shed painted right away.

Whizzer-"Cut out the modesty, old man. If you don't boost yourself no one else will do it."

killed a man this morning."

Seeing Things. Mr. Crimsonbeak-"Wife, we'll have to get rid of some of those hatracks in the hall."

Made a Clean Sweep.

no hope for me now; I see my finish."

Jersey cow.

in the meadow."

a curve."

"What's the trouble?" asked the

"The new breakfast foods. My master tackled oats first; then he changed morning I saw him looking yearningly

at the only patch of green grass left

Modesty.

Whizzer-"I hear that you nearly Goggles-"Yes; but I wouldn't have done it if he hadn't been just around

Mrs. Crimsonbeak-"What on earth are you talking about? We've only got one hatrack in the hall!"

"Why, when I came in last night, I thought I saw six or seven."

Not a Spendthrift Bridegroom. "He's rather close, I understand." "Close! His uncle left him a fortune on condition that he take a wife and spend his honeymoon abroad." "Well?" "He went over and married a French girl so as to save her passage one way."

Incongruous. "'Pleasant duty,'" snorted the chronic kicker, "that's another ridiculous expression."

"Why so?" demanded the speaker who had used it. "Because no duty could really be pleasant if it's actually a duty."

Ha! a Joke. "Quite a number of Englishmen are locating in that new suburb he's build-Mrs. Subbubs-We'll have to have ing up, and he's thinking of calling the place 'Shilling.' " "I don't quite see the idea." "Well, that's the Engilsh quarter, able to attend to it for several weeks. you know."

Looked Like a Procession.

"Was DeLush very drunk?" "Was he? Say, I was trying to get him to go home when Jones came past in his runabout. And DeLush looked at him and said, 'Why, didn't you tell "But you promised you'd wait for me there's goin' to be 'n automobile p'rade?' "

Stung. Bacon-"Did you ever go to a sewng bee?"

Egbert-"Oh, yes." "What happened?" "Got stung."

"Oh, you met your wife there, did Proof Positive.

"I was not drunk last night." "You were."

"What makes you think so?" "I saw you trying to set your watch by the fare register on a trolley car!" -Cleveland Leader.

A MISUNDERSTANDING.

Hiram-Maybe our boy Reuben will turn out to be a preacher. He's great on the Bible the President of his college wrote me. Mrs. Hiram-Whatever did he write?

Hiram-He says for one thing that he's noticed Reuben is much inclined to be bibulous.

lously poor."

installment plan."

boarding house lady.

replied the thin boarder."

An Actor Knows.

Miss Sue Brette-"Some people say 'chest' and others say 'trunk;' what's young man, my dear. He is ridicuthe difference, do you suppose?" Foote Lighte-"Well, you see, a chest is something you throw out and a trunk is something you let down." Hard Luck.

"Funnysmith seems to be feeling grouchy these days." "Yes; they settled that life insurother man's success without getting ance squabble before he got a chance to work off a Jekyll and Hyde gag."

> Sense Not Needed. Poet-I'm sure I don't know what to do with this poem. The editor says it's utter slush and even my friends Friend-Well, I'll tell you-why don't you have it set to music?

Went Deep. "Is Brown's wife one of those deep feeling women?"

Milwaukee Sentinel.

The One Thing Needed.

Breaking it to Mother.

"But he has expectations."

"On the installment plan?"

every month in order to keep it."

Slim Eating.

"Do you think there is any difference in a man's weight before he eats his meal and afterwards?" asked the

"Well, not if he gets the meal here,"

"What expectations?"

"I wish you wouldn't encourage that

"My little fortune, mamma dear."

Alimony.

"Binks is getting a divorce on the

"Yes-he has to pay a sum of money

"I guess so; he says he can never "Oh, yes, it is; only, instead of us-"But, John, I haven't asked you to keep any change in his pockets."- ing logical arguments you should use convincing ones,"

"But it is no use to argue with a voman."