The Model Restaurant wants all patrons to know that it has fresh oysters to serve in any style. Lovers of that delicacy should remember this when in want of that toothsome delicacy.

The mammoth sale going on at the big store of B. M. Gasteyer, which commenced last week and to be continued for thirty days, is the biggest thing of the kind that has struck Loup City for the past decade. The store last Saturday, for instance, was crowded from early morning till late at night with eager buyers from the country alone, the townspeople giving way to their country cousins at the time, thinking that on Monday there would be less trouble in getting their wants attended to, but the result was the same, and Monday, and all the week up to the present time, the store has been crowded and bids fair to so continue indefinitely.

The store, by way, with its draperies, and markings of goods and fanciful designs, is a revelation to our people and shows what advertising will do.

The immense signs over the front and sides of the building, the hangings inside—in fact all the advertising designs show the true artist's skill, whoever the artist may be. Then too, the big store reaches out in the columns of THE NORTHWESTERN with full page ads, as witness last and this week's paper, calling our reader's attention to the big bargains, as the proprietor believes in newspaper advertising, as well as other methods of reaching the people. This is not an advertisement in the name of a sense, and is given as a just tribute to the enterprise exhibited by this store, which other mercantile firms would do well to emulate. All in all, it illustrates to a nicety that advertising pays, a fact that is too well known to need argument at our hands.

Blondin & Leon's Co. in the celebrated masterpiece of Rip Van Winkle gave a very appreciable rendering of that famous play at Pilger's opera house on Monday evening of this week.

The company is very capable and a big house greeted them and seemed well pleased. The company carries a good band and an excellent orchestra, and it was a pleasure to attend the performance and listen to the excellent music accompanying the dramatization.

I wish to thank to all my boarders, real estate people, public and friends for their kind patronage while in business here, and also thanks to our school teachers for their sincere teaching my children, therefore we decided to stay and get benefit of our noble teachers and school here for our children. Through the courtesy of Dr. Long the editor and wife took dinner, Sunday, at the St. Elmo hotel under its new management. The dinner was a most excellent one, and if Landlord Harper keeps his dinners up to that presented Sunday, he may expect to have a very large complement of our people there to Sunday dinners.

While returning to her home a few miles west of town, last Sunday, from a visit to friends in Oak Creek township, and while riding over a sidling place in the road, Mrs. Anton Dimnick fell from the wagon, breaking her right arm just above the wrist. Dr. Jones was called and reduced the fracture.

W. S. Waite, wife and children and Mrs. Dar Garrow attended the thirtieth marriage anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Wilson at Ashton last Saturday. We have heard no report of the no doubt happy occasion, but just the same tender the happy pair another thirty years of joyous wedded life.

IF YOU BUY

a heating stove without a reputation, because it is low priced, and you take it home and put a fire in it and it does not do the work as you think it ought to, what are you going to do?

There is trouble ahead, no matter what is done.

You know, or, if not, it can be proved to you, before you take a genuine Round Oak home, that it is absolutely the best of all heating stoves. It is guaranteed—you are not allowed to take any chances.

We, therefore, advise our customers that it is economy for them to buy the genuine Round Oak.

We know that, for soft coal, with the new hot blast it makes the finest fire ever seen in a heating stove; that it will also burn hard coal (with or without magazine) to your perfect satisfaction; also coke or wood, and it will last. How long do you think the ordinary cheap heating stove will stand up? There is a point it will pay you well to look into.

Only the genuine has the name "Round Oak" on the leg.

P. O. REED

"This is the famous, genuine Round Oak. Fritz—the stove you heard about, way over in Germany. It is conceded to be the best heating stove in the world. It is the most popular stove ever made, and has the largest sale."

Their China Wedding.

On last Saturday evening occurred the twentieth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Adamson of this city. Some 225 invitations had been issued, for the most part to their legion of friends in and about Loup City, where they have lived the greater portion of their married life. Eight o'clock being the hour designated for the guests to assemble, the hospitable home was early filled to overflowing, an hour or more being passed with choice instrumental music and conversation, when at a given signal all repaired to the opera house, where banqueting and other ceremonies were to be held. At the opera house tables had been prepared by the fair hostess, capable of seating possibly 150 guests, which were soon occupied by the happy throng, and the banqueting board being loaded down with the choicest and daintiest of viands, ample justice was done the occasion. At the close of the banquet, the bride and groom of twenty years ago, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Mulick, as groomsman and bridesmaid, repaired to the stage and there were re-united in the holiest of ties by Judge Angier, in his most felicitous manner, at the conclusion of which, Groomsman Mulick embraced the blushing bride after the most approved fashion of twenty years ago, while the bridesmaid attempted the difficult feat with the bashful groom, but having no step-ladder at hand was obliged to give up the premeditated attack, much to the disappointment of the tall sycamore who, like Birken, "was willin'." Following the ceremony, Judge Wall gave one of his characteristic and most pleasing after-dinner talks, followed by R. P. Starr, Editor Brown, Prof. Nicolson and B. T. Snyder in few, well-chosen words, the guests then departing for their several homes, showering congratulations upon the host and hostess who had entertained them so royally. Mr. and Mrs. Adamson were the recipients of an elegant Austrian-China dinner set of 100 pieces, and numerous other choice remembrances of the occasion in costly china, table linens, silverware, etc. THE NORTHWESTERN gives heartfelt well wishes to this estimable couple and desires to be able to attend their diamond wedding as well.

This week Saturday night, Oct. 28th, at Pilger's opera house, our people will have a chance to see and hear Dr. Roikjer, the celebrated and wonderfully gifted medium, just arrived from London. In these days, when so much is said about this strange and supernatural agency, it will pay our people to go and hear this renowned professor, whether you believe in it or not. The professor gives all sorts of strange phenomena from the spirit world, from the common table rapping to slate writing, spirit hands and faces, ethereal forms appearing in the bright light, with material objects passed before them, in fact wonders you never thought to witness. Skeptics are especially invited to attend. The doctor guarantees that there shall be no sleight of hand in it at all. The doctor also makes the fair offer that anyone not perfectly satisfied with this wonderful exhibition of the spiritual phenomena, may have their money refunded. Go and see and hear and explain if you can what you see and hear. Doors open at 7:30; seance begins at 8:00.

The reading at the opera house last evening, by the talented monologs, Miss Sara Blocky, was well received by the large audience in attendance, and only words of praise are uttered by those who were favored by hearing her.

A Free-for-All Fight.

At the Polish wedding Tuesday, six miles east of Loup City, a free-for-all took place in which Peter Lewandowski received a cut over the eye in addition to other fistical reminders. The attack was made by the Oshontoski brothers, who were brought to town yesterday by Sheriff Williams and placed under bonds pending their trial, which has been set for the 22d day of November, owing to the condition of the wife of one of the Oshontoski brother, who was injured in the melee, preventing her appearing at the trial at present. The origin of the trouble is between two rival threshing machine outfits.
