We learn that O. K. Rice of Greenwich, Washington county, N. Y., died at his home there on Feb. 7th, at the ripe old age of 91 years. He was well known over Nebraska, and has, or did have not long since, real estate holdings in Sherman county.

Drs. Davis & Farnsworth of Grand Island, Neb., are prepared to treat all forms of chronic diseases, such as Rheumatism, Stomach disorders, Tumors, Cancers, Paralysis, Kidney diseases, etc. The doctors use, besides medicine and surgery, the x-ray, hot air baths, electricity and massage.

THE NORTHWESTERN has received two pieces of music, one a novelty two-step by B. H. Four, the blind composer, which is making a hit all over the country, and one an expressive song, "Let me kiss my mama good-bye," a sweet melody, both published by J. W. Jenkin's Sons, of Kansas City, Mo., which will be mailed to you by the publishers upon receipt of 25 cents. Our judgment is that they are worth your while in obtaining.

Misses Florence Leininger and Winnie Outhouse visited the Misses Aurtrecht in Washington township the latter part of last week.

Jim Conger shipped a car load of ice to John Wall at Arcadia, Tuesday. James has now finished his ice cutting and storing for the winter.

The young people gave Dwight McCombs a pleasant surprise party at his home on last evening, preceding his removal with his parents to Arkansas.

Wes McCombs leaves with his family for Gentry, Arkansas, next Monday, where he has purchased an hundred acres of land near that town and will make it his home. May good luck attend him.

John W. Long was a very sick man last Saturday and Sunday with la grippe which terminated in pneumonia, but a vigorous constitution has brought him surely through and he is on the fair road to his usual good health.

Pastor Wold will preach a special sermon to the I. O. O. F. fraternity this coming Sunday evening. Subject "Love." This is the second address of a series of three lectures which Mr. Wold is giving the local lodge.

C. J. Tracy returned last Friday from a few days' absence in southwest Nebraska, looking over the land handled by Zimmerman & Brewer. C. J. wouldn't commit himself, but acknowledged the land was much better than he anticipated.

J. D. Slyder and daughter, Miss Lizzie Slyder, of Wilbur, Neb., are here visiting their daughter and sister, Mrs. W. H. Creery, of this city. Mr. Slyder is here also for the purpose of purchasing suitable real estate, in which laudable endeavor we trust he may be successful.

We have the implied promise of Supt. Mead to hereafter run an educational column in THE NORTHWESTERN. If the worthy head of our county schools does not give back, we may confidently expect to furnish our readers with live articles on school matters each week hereafter.

The art lectures last Friday afternoon at the Baptist church for children, and in the evening for adults, by Mrs. F. M. Hall of Lincoln, aided by pictures thrown on a screen, all in the interest of the fund being raised for a public drinking fountain in this city, was well patronized at both entertainments, and a neat sum realized.

Last Saturday evening the members of the D. D. club were very pleasantly entertained at the home of Miss Sophronia Wharton. The evening was passed with games and music, Miss Libbie Adamson winning the prize. An excellent luncheon was served and at a late hour all departed for their homes thanking their hostess for a very pleasant evening.

Bridge Contractor W. T. Gibson thus sings: "Now is the winter of our discontent made more glorious," etc., all because the weather has given him his waiting opportunity for plenty of ice in the river that he may rush through his work on the new Austin bridge, at which he is now busily engaged. So, you see, it takes all kinds of weather to suit all kinds of people.

By the Tingley (Iowa) Vindicator we see that a half interest in a hog sold there last week for $1500, making the animal's value $3,000. That's nothing. We know of a hog in a town where we used to run a paper, that was president of a bank and who was claimed to be worth many times that amount, and the animal was a two-legged porker at that.

Earl Thompson is to start a new Haberdasher store in the building recently vacated by the restaurant, next door to Gasteayer's, and has had the room newly papered and painted and made attractive. Earl tells us that he proposes to carry everything in the men's furnishings line and of the latest styles and fashions. Earl is up-to-date and we shall expect him to "Get there, Eli," in great shape.

The basket social at the Baillie school house in Washington township last Saturday evening was well attended, and a good time was had. C. T. McKinnie acting as master of ceremonies. The program consisted of vocal music by B. P. McKinnie; graphophone by W. R. Mellor, and a male quartette consisting of Messrs. W. R. Mellor, A. J. Johnson, L. N. Smith and G. S. Leininger. Eighteen baskets were sold netting the sum of $32.

Homemade head-cheese 8c per pound, minced ham, 10c per pound at Siepmann & Oltmann's.

E. S. Hayhurst went down to Lincoln Tuesday morning to be in attendance on the state hardware dealers' convention.

Dr. J. H. Long was a very sick man Monday night and Tuesday with la grippe, requiring the services of a nurse in the person of Mr. Cowell, sr., but at present is convalescing.

A. L. Zimmerman returned home Monday evening from a business trip to Lincoln county, in the west part of the state, where he took a number of home-seekers, to look over the country.

Frank Foster, our popular tenorsial artist, painfully lacerated one of his fingers last Saturday on the point of a pair of shears. Had it been on the cheek of an average newspaper man, no damage would have resulted.

I. H. Winchell arrived home Monday evening from a trip to southwestern Nebraska, where he looked over the land offered by Zimmerman & Brewer, and we understand has conditionally purchased a nice holding there.

Dr. T. L. Sexton of Lincoln will preach for the Presbyterians next Sunday morning and Tuesday evening. Dr. Sexton is the synodical missionary of the state and will take up the subject of Home Missions in one of his discourses.

R. D. Hendrickson, who has been exploring the Oklahoma country the past few weeks, returned home last Saturday, and a stick of dynamite lighted and placed near his pedal extremities wouldn't elicit any circumstances connected therewith.

Mrs. L. D. Gardner and Mrs. Frank Huser are enjoying a visit from their daughter and sister, Mrs. D. R. Twist, of Twist, North Dakota. She had been visiting a sister at Wood River, this state, who was seriously ill, but now convalescing, and is on her way home.

By reference to the statement of the First National Bank published last week, we see that the deposits exceed those of three months since by some $10,000 or over, as shown by the statement at that time. Another story showing that Sherman county people are among those favored by Providence.

Last Monday, while Chet Tracy was hauling a big wagon load of ice from Conger's pond, and just as he was crossing the culvert bridge east of the pond, his horses shied off the bridge, hauling the wagon and load of ice after them. As good fortune would have it, the horses were uninjured, but the wagon was badly demoralized. And Chet just smiled.

A. Sorensen, a prominent farmer living near Danneberg, was killed last Thursday in a runaway near that town, according to a telegram in the dailies of last Friday. It seems Mr. Sorensen and wife were returning home from a visit to neighbors, when the team became frightened, throwing them out, breaking the neck of Mr. Sorensen and badly injuring Mrs. Sorensen, although the lady's injuries proved not fatal and she will recover.

The entertainment given at the Presbyterian church Monday evening of this week, by D. Webster Davis, the reader and impersonator, was hailed by a goodly audience, notwithstanding the extremely bad weather, and the receipts were very satisfactory. Bert McKinnie came in from Washington township through the storm and gave several of his choice vocal selections, which with the excellent readings given by Mr. Davis, gave an evening of unalloyed pleasure to all present, and as one lady said to us at the close of the evening, "It was worth a dollar, rather than the price asked."

Mr. T. A. Clark is the new agent at the U. P. depot, a fact we omitted mentioning last week, when we spoke of the change. Mr. Clark had been operator at St. Paul for two years previous to his transfer to this station, and is a very pleasant and accommodating agent. Mr. Clark is a railroad man of many years' experience and is a veteran in the work. For the past five years he has been with the Union Pacific people and previous to that time was several years with the Burlington at points in Colorado and Kansas. While our people regret the loss of Mr. Hiser, they will find in Mr. Clark an equally equipped man for the station at this point, and give him a welcome to this city. Mr. Clark has not as yet made arrangements to move his family here, but undoubtedly will as soon as a suitable home can be secured, which are proverbially scarce in Loup City any part of the year.
