The per capita wealth of the United States at this present time is $31.73. Got yours?

That Russian who shot himself to prove his honesty merely returned a Scotch verdict.

If Rockefeller loans $200,000,000 to Russia we know who will own Russia a few years hence.

The Japanese are animated, perhaps, by a laudable ambition to grow up with their country. After living in New York a while, Mark Twain defines a gentleman as a biped who is not a lady. In order to be on the safe side it may be just as well to eat the un-canned varieties of fish.

Mr. Balfour has managed to squeeze into parliament, but he is likely to find it a very lonesome place.

It is announced that shoes are to cost more. But let us hope on. It may presently be cheaper to ride than to Granting the correctness of the theory of evolution, there must have been a time when there was no stork.

Yvette Guilbert is back in New York, but is said to have no naughty songs. Humph! Why, then, is she in Count Witte's cabinet is breaking up. This ought to relieve any kindling wood stringency that may exist at St. Petersburg.

The savant who says everybody is going blind because of electricity can't scare us worth a cent. We've seen about everything.

At least Washington should be made as much of a "model city" as is possible with frequent congressional sessions on the premises.

The feeling of Paris toward Jimmy Hyde is very cordial, says a cable dispatch. Any time Paris is cross with a man who has $4,000,000!

Mark Twain insists that he knows veracity when he sees it a block away. Then why doesn't he cross the street and make its acquaintance? Boni de Castellane says he is going to be good hereafter, unless, of course, he should have the luck to get his hands on some more money. The Englishman who says that he can measure the one-seventy-millionth part of an inch can safely defy doubters to prove that he is only boasting. The Chinese, even under Japanese leadership, are not yet ready to fight the foreign devil. A premature movement will land them in the chop tic potash because her hair was turning gray. It did not restore the natural color, but she won't worry about it

A Boston man who discovered that he hasn't any bad habits to give up during Lent says that he won't be caught that way again next year .-Boston Globe.

The Japanese have begun to use beer instead of sake. This may not make them taller, but it is likely to necessitate their letting out their waistbands occasionally.

What has become of the old-fashioned editor who never used to fill a gap in one of his columns by asking what has become of the old-fashioned" something or other?

The doctor who predicts that the world will soon go blind from the effects of electricity might give good testimony on the progressive softening of the brain from causes unknown.

Scientists claim that insanity is caused by microbes. If proof is wanted they can point to a large number of people who have grown crazy over microbes and others who are still go-

It has been decided that men may eat dinner at the big restaurants in New York without wearing evening dress. This is another important triumph for the advocates of personal liberty. ..

Speaking of human nature, the man who kicks the hardest about the increase of 10 cents a hundred pounds in the price of ice is generally the man who pays 15 cents for two ounces of it in a highball.

Now that Pierpont Morgan has paid $50,000 for some Robert Burns manuscripts, the conviction of the average contemporary poet will be strengthened that all he needs to get good prices for his stuff is to be dead a hundred years.

A New York doctor says that skeletons should not be used in women's classes in teaching the principles of first aid to the injured. "Women," he declares, "are too feminine to see skeletons-it makes them nervous." And yet every woman has one.

Mrs. Craigie (John Oliver Hobbes), when interviewed in London on her return from this country, said: "American women don't have large families . . America is the paradise of women." We guess we know where Mrs. Craigie stands on the race suicide question.

Gen. Ramon Guerra, just released by President Castro after more than four years' imprisonment because of alleged participation in political conspiracy, is now open to offers from the editors of enterprising magazines.

THE NEW NILE AND RED SEA RAILROAD

1. Covered Freight Car, All Steel, 3. Hadendoa Arabs Helping to Twenty-Five Tons Capacity. 2. A Cutting in Khor Kamobsana.

The new line between Atbara Junction and Port Soudan was opened by Lord Cromer Jan. 27. The work has been directed by Col. Macauley, R. E., and has been in progress since August, 1904. The line, which is 307 miles long, runs from Atbara Junction to Port Soudan. This last is a better harbor than Suakin, but Suakin was used as the eastern base for the construction, owing to the greater facilities there existing when the line was begun. The highest point of the railway is 3,010 feet above the Red sea.

DETERMINED TO TAKE CHANCE. Man of Toil Decided to Hold on to His

Pickles. There were two politicians occupyng the same seat in the smoking car and talking together, and in the seat ahead was a farmer. Presently one of the men said. "Don't you think China is the slow and old-fashioned country the newspapers speak of. She is having her with the latest muskets and artillery. | you lay it out, Ezekiel?" I tell you, she will be heard from within another decade.' "Do you think she will bring on another war?" was asked.

"I have no doubt of it. Yes. sir. I expect to see a war between China and Russia within another decade." "So you think another war is bound to come, do you?" asked the farmer, as he turned around. "I haven't the slightest doubt of it.

"And will it affect us?"

"It is certain to, more or less." The man of toil turned back and hought things over for a few minutes nd then wheeled to say:

"Well I think I'll take my chances am in the pickle business. Pickles ought to be worth $3 a bar'l, but they re selling for 25 cents less. I guess Il hang on, war or no war, 'till they come up to my figger. Durn a man who hasn't got some sporting blood n his veins."

Perfume 3,000 Years Old. The curator of the museum unorked an ancient alabaster vase. "Smell this," he said.

The odor was delicious. From the ase emanated an odor sweeter than iolets, roses or lilies of the valley. "You are now smelling," said the urator, "an Egyptian perfume 3,000 rears old. This perfume was made n Egypt before Christ's birth, and it ras buried with an Egyptian princess -there she is, over there.

"How well it must have been made o keep strong and sweet for over thirwe find perfumes in mummy cases, build." but when we do they are always delicate and pure.

"Marvelous perfumers the Egyptians must have been! Beat us all hollow!"

British Fisheries.

Eleven million hundredweight of fish, valued at £6,500,000, is the toll taken from the sea in British boats in 1904. The amount is greater and the value less than in the two or three previous years, and, in fact, the rule seems to be that the greater the catch the less is the value. The latest figures give an average price of nine and one-half pounds for a shilling as the value of the fish when it touches land. -London News.

Jap Designs on Australia. Many Australians have an idea that Japan is looking covetously on their island-continent. Their suspicions were increased the other day by the discovery in the baggage of two Japanese, who were traveling in Australia as merchants, of a complete set of the secret plans of the Sydney fortifica-

Mrs. Harvey, of Marvel, Isle of Erect a Bridge. 4. One of the Railway Bridges.

5. Map Showing the Connections of the New Line With the Egyptian State Railways and the Soudan Gov ernment Railawys.

HAD NOT WASTED THE MONEY. | TOWNS MADE WHILE YOU WAIT

Candidate Handled Political Contributions to Advantage.

A practical politician of the first water came to light in a small Indiana town not long ago. In this town there in an officer, designated as Inspector of Streets and Roadways, who receives the munificent salary of $250 per year. As the opposing political parties are very nearly balanced in this town, there is keen opposition, so that when this office became vacant and the authorities ordered an election to fill it. there was a lively campaign for this small plum, no other elections being near. One candidate was a rather shrewd old fellow by the name of Ezekiel Hicks, and it looked as though he would be successful, as a neat little sum had been subscribed and turned over to him as a campaign fund. To the astonishment of everybody, however, he was defeated.

"I can't account for it," one of the armies officered by the best military leaders said, gloomily. "With that talent in the world, and she is arming money we should have won. How did of the future city—Outing Magazine. "Hum," Ezekiel said, slowly, pulling his whiskers. "Yer see, that office only pays $250 a year salary, an' I didn't see no sense in payin' $900 out to get the office, so I jest bought me a little truck farm instead."-New

An Incredible Fact. In a frenzy, the astronomer ran his long, white fingers through his gray hair. "How can I explain to you," he cried

'the immensity of the universe, and, by contrast, the littleness of the earth, the petty futility of man? "Light travels at the rate of 186,000 miles a second. The inhabitants of Sirius, if they are looking at us now through their telescopes, are beholding the destruction of Jerusalem, which took place over 1,800 years ago. "So far away is Sirius that the light of the world, with what this light illuminates, traveling 186,000 miles a second, takes nearly 2,000 years to reach Sirius."

Building Up to Requirements.

A Kansas City man purchased a city lot with the restriction that he should not build a house on it to cost less than $2,500. After having paid for the lot he decided to build a $1,500

Before he had completed it the real estate man from whom he had bought the lot threatened to sue him for breach of contract. "This little shack you are building," said the real estate man, "lacks a whole lot of being a ty centuries! It is only rarely that $2,500 house such as you agreed to

"Don't form too hasty judgment," replied the owner. "True, it hasn't cost that much yet, but I intend to put a solid gold brick in the chimney." -Kansas City Times.

Too Hot to Get Warm There.

During my experience as traveling agent for a certain railroad 1 was one day obliged to call on an agent whose station was located in the mountains in northern Vermont. It was a bitter cold day in February, and, although there was a roaring fire in the station, the building was so loose one had to almost sit on the stove to feel any warmth.

Soon after I arrived an old gentleman came in, and, walking to the stove, extended his hands, but it was so hot he was obliged to retreat a few steps, and after making several unsuccessful attempts to get near the fire he remarked: "It's so gol durned hot here I can't get warm."

Blind Barrister is Dead.

George Summers Griffiths, who was well known on the Oxford circuit and in the criminal courts in London for many years as "the blind barrister." has just died. About twenty-five years ago he became fotally blind from a Wight, died recently. She was 100 gunshot wound, but bravely stuck to ing been born in Milwaukee. years old, and, as a girl, knew the his profession, going on circuits reg-Duke of Wellington.-London Mail. | ularly, led about by his clerk.

Additional Specks on the May Made With Rapidity.

In the clearings the log house is a rarity, because the portable sawmil goes along with the timberman and slits the log into framing and boards for the dwelling-while you wait. And the people are even in touch with the world. If they have no time to plant telephone poles, they nail the insulator to trees and run the wire through the woods. In the old days of the "Plains West" the town was born when the saloon, the smithshop and the corner store threw open its doors. In this Northwest the community springs into existence with everything ready for the daily life of its inhabitants. Not only are the stores prepared for trade, but the schoolhouse is awaiting the children, the church invites to Sunday worship, and it is strange if the town newspaper does not come off the press to its readers

Not a Good Advertisement

A Welsh judge had before him a case in which a printer sued a pork butcher for the value of a large parcel of paper bags with the butcher's advertisement printed thereon.

The printer, having no suitable illustration to embellish the work, thought he improved the occasion by putting an elaborate royal arms above the man's name and address, but ultimately the latter refused to pay.

The judge, looking over a specimen observed that for his part he thought the lion and the unicorn were much nicer than an old fat pig.

"O well," answered the butcher, "perhaps your honor likes to eat animale like that, but my customer's don't. I don't kill liens and unicorns -I only kill fat pigs!"

Verdict for defendant.-New York World.

Rapid Progress of the Angentine. No South American country has made such strides in every respect in recent years as the Argentine republic. It has established intelligent and stable government and its rate of movement recently has been on a large scale, with rapidly increasing acceleration. A very few figures will show this: For the first nine months of 1905 imports were $155,651,460 and exports $247,110,133, showing an increase of imports of $16,899,197 and of exports of $43,917,214 over the same period for the previous year. This enormous export trade was substantially all agricultural and pastoral, while the imports were miscellaneous, the largest items being clothing and textiles, metal and manufactures thereof, lumber, agricultural implements and railroad appliances and pottery. Great Britain leads both as seller and buyer.-Cincinnati Enquirer.

Sons Dislike Politics.

In recent years no political leader in New York state has had a son with a taste for politics. Senator Platt's son shows neither aptitude nor in clination for the game. Boss Tweed left no son, and Boss Kelly died childless, while Murphy, the present leader of Tammany, is in the same position Richard Croker had three boys, but none of them cared for politics. Rich ard, the only remaining one, has not voted in years.

Shears with Every Paper. The Cavalry Journal, which is the latest British military journal, and is edited by Gen. Baden-Powell, has its pages perforated, postage stamp fashion, on the inside line, so that if a reader wishes to save a page for reference or send it to a friend he can easily tear it out.

American Editor in London. Ralph D. Plumenfield, editor of the London Express, is an American, havlearned his profession in Chicago and plenty of variety and sprightliness. The Penang correspondent of the Straits Times of Singapore writes: "Since all our dogs have been chained up, muzzled or shot, pussy has had it all her own way. What I object to very strongly is the vagabond cat, that lives nowhere and looks it. My compound is overrun with them at present and they are of all sizes, breeds and colors, and only agree in one particular, which happens to be the unpleasantness of their voices. They've eaten my canary and are now levying toll upon the cook's chickens. I wish you could tell me if there is any great demand for catskins in Singapore. I am also writing for full particulars of the rabbit-canning industry, for I fancy that might be added to the fur-dealing business with profit.

IN THE MALAY PENINSULA

"Most of the milk sold in Penang is shocking stuff. The Indian milkmen are the biggest rogues in creation. The other day I found the milk particularly weak. I called up the cook and expostulated mildly but firmly about it. He told me next day that the milkman was very sorry; dient of a spear made from the spike he'd given me milk out of the wrong

Life in the Malay peninsula has that the man had two tins, one of the lenty of variety and sprightliness. Which contained 'sahib's' and the other—what? I was rather relieved to hear that I was a real sahib, but I explained to the milkman when I paid his bill that in the future I should have a sanitary inspector or something of the sort hidden behind the door to take samples of his wares now and again. Since then my milk has been overpoweringly strong.

"The men sent out by the Kedah authorities to hunt down the Situl gang of robbers, or pirates, have succeeded in killing the ringleader. Like many other Malay bad characters, he was popularly supposed to be invulnerable and I am gravely told by a Malay friend that the punitive expedition found him absolutely invulnerable to bullet or spear. Bullets simply bounded off his body like peas off a drumhead, while, when he was sinks to sleep on the bare ground at thrust at with spears, they either snapped or had their points blunted directly they touched his skin. He would not have been killed at all if one of his pursuers, wiser than the rest of the party and versed in witchcraft, had not thought of the expe of a sting ray's tail. He was stabbed Further investigation showed eventually with this and so killed."

ALL DISAGREE OVER EDEN

dispute among Orientalists and scrip- says that Gihon "compasseth the tural scholars of highest reputation, says the Brooklyn Citizen. Some have endeavored to locate it by the pear in the second chapter of Geneverses 11 to 14 of the above mentioned chapter. The weight of investhe third and fourth rivers mentioned ancient city of Babylon. in the biblical description of the gar-As to the last, it is altogether probable | that will probably never be solved.

The location of the earthly paradise that they are correct on that point, or garden of Eden is still a matter of | because the biblical account plainly whole land of Ethopia."

Some investigations confirm that Eden was a spot of comparatively fruits and mineral productions named small area located on the tablelands in the biblical descriptions as they ap- of what is now Armenia, from which rise the Tigris and the Euphrates. A sis; others by the rivers mentioned in few scholars of distinction argue that the Adamic paradise was located in Africa, in the vicinity of the mountigation and tradition inclines to an tains of the Moon. Still another agreement that the Tigris and the school of Orientalists locate the cele-Euphrates of modern geography are brated garden in the vicinity of the

You will notice, however, that none den. Those who agree so far differ of these theorists has been able to widely as to what rivers should now get the four rivers mentioned in the be regarded as the ancient Pison and biblical account properly located. Gihon. The Buddhistic scholars, al- Neither have they found a place though they reject our Bible in great- where one great river "separates into er part, incline to the opinion that the four heads." This being the case, it Pison is the sacred Ganges, and that is hardly necessary to add that the the Gihon is none other than the Nile. exact location of Eden is a mystery

LOCATING MEN IN SNOWSLIDE

Eli Smith is credited with having | saved the lives of twenty-five men at took out three men, unconscious, but Sheep Camp in the spring of 1898 at alive. Those three men recovered and the time of the great snowslide on the Dyea trail. It will be recalled that sixty-three men were killed by the out other places, which resulted in the slide, most of them suffocating before locating of many bodies and the unrescuers could reach them. Smith covering in all of twenty-five men was on the trail several miles below the slide. He came up three-quarters of an hour after the tragedy and found the survivors frantically trying to dig the victims out.

"Give me that stick," said Smith to man who had a flat lathlike piece of wood in his hand.

slide. Finally he shouted:

"Come! Dig here, quick!"

whose lives were saved.

were all right by morning.

"Where did you learn that trick?" Smith was asked the other day.

At a depth of nine feet the rescuers

"I learned that in Idaho, at Wood river," said he. "The Indians know that trick. I guess a wire would be better than a stick, but they don't keep wire in stock out in the wilds, The stick was turned over to Smith, so Indians always use a stick. You who immediately whittled the end so see if a feller is alive, you can sort teeth. Then he thrust the stick in the is kicking or moving around you snow and held the end in his mouth, can hear him plain. You just put the apparently listening. He repeated the stick down into the snow two or three operation at several points in the feet and you can hear a feller breathing, even if he's twenty feet further down."-Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

TWO ANECDOTES OF CRANE

A New York newspaper man who down before Frederic, who, engaged knew Stephen Crane, one of the most in an earnest discussion with Crane, promising writers of English of his had mechanically picked it up and generation-who died before he was 30-when he was in London just after his return from the Graeco-Turkish war, relates some amusing stories concerning that erratic genius.

One morning Crane dropped into a newspaper office to borrow a sovereign from a friend. He said that he Frederic, now also dead, for whom he had an admiration almost amounting to awe, but with whom he was then only slightly acquainted, though they afterward became inseparable friends. In the middle of the afternoon Crane came back for another sovereign and told a tale of woe. He had asked Frederic into a "pub" to have an appetizer on their way to luncheon, and had handed out the sovereign he had just borrowed in payment therefor. The barmaid had laid the change Street."

put it in his pocket, without pausing for a moment in his conversation Crane's reverence for his fellow craftsman was so profound that he preferred to lose the money rather than embarrass him by asking for it.

Acquaintances of S. S. McClure, proprietor of McClure's Magazine, will was going to luncheon with Harold appreciate Crane's emotions on another occasion about the same period. McClure has two brothers, and the three bear a striking resemblance to one another, with their pronounced Scotch features and fair hair and mus taches. Crane rushed up to a friend in Trafalgar Square one morning in a condition of great excitement.

"I've had a terrible shock," he said "I was coming through the Strand jusnow and I saw three S. S. McClures standing at the corner of Bedford

AND FOSDICK SOLD OUT

When it was announced in Brookby | Albert had just stepped to the door that Albert Fosdick had decided to give up the grocery business, nobody was much surprised; Albert's methods had not been of the sort to commend themselves to the ordinary shopkeep-

"But I expect he'd have kep' it up for years if it hadn't been for that kind of a cyclone we had summer before last," said a Brookby resident to a returned native. "You see, 'twas Albert's custom to keep his hat on all the time, he being so bald, and he'd write what folks had bought on little slips of paper, and stick 'em inside the lining of his hat, and come Saturday night he'd figure 'em up at home, with his wife to help him.

"Well, the cyclone, or whatever Field and Rock,' and I notice she cartwas, struck us Saturday afternoon. ries a reticule."-Youth's Companion.

when the wind struck him. His hat was tron off'n his head, and nobody ever knew where it went. "I don't consider that Mis' Fosdick had ever thought he was a real stirring business man, and folks said they had high words that night. I expect mest of the Brookby fam'lies paid up pretty well, but there's a mess of people down toward the river that aren't overscrup'lous. Anyway, Mis' Fosdick told Albert if he hadn't realized but $9.17 on his week's sales, and had got a hat to buy, too, she thought 'twas about time he retired from active business, and accordingly he did so.

"He is now engaged in driving her about to sell soap and get subscriptions for 'The World's History in

WOMAN AND THE HAIRPIN

Whenever her switch would grow sudden ly loose ly loose ne would fasten it up with a hairpin if her belt buckle grew too weak for She would fasten it up with a hairping mornings, when she wished to ope Of mornings, when she wished to ope-her mail, Or if in a magazine she read a tale And wished to cut pages, this maid young and frail ached up in her hair for a hairpin. A man might call for a whole box of schools To learn what she did with a hairpin;

man would get flustered, and frown

A man would get flustered, and frown, and perspire, And ask who the dickens had taken his When for some repairing such stuff he'd pin;

An egg beater broken? A laundry pipe plugged?
A corkscrew not found? Then her shoulders she shrugged
And reached, while her sense of contentment she hugged Right up to her hair for a hairpin.

A manicure set, and a button hook, too, She always could find in a hairpin; In fact, there was nothing a person could train;

The crew cried: "We'll have to send back for a crane!"
he murmured her arm through a cracked window pane:
"Don't bother. I'll lend you a hairpin."

There is no Rochelle Salts, Alum,

Baking

Compiles with the Puro Food Laws of all States.

Contradiction in Nature.

For hundreds of years, perhaps thousands, the Australian black has accepted the doctrine of a trinity in heaven and the theory of evolution. In some respects he is far superior to his civilized contemporary. Yet he curls himself round like a dog and sunset. In the dark he is a veritable coward.

Astonishing!

It is astonishing, though, how far a good complexion will carry a girl. verily believe that nine out of every ten men are more attracted by a really good complexion and a healthy. color than by fine eves or pretty hair. or even a good figure-which is another valuable asset for a girl to possess.—"Ambrosia," in The World.

Tends Monkeys and Men.

The monkey house at the London zoo is being cleaned, disinfected and partly reconstructed. The Field remarks: "The work will be done under the supervision of Dr. Gordon, the expert, who has been in charge of the sanitation of the House of Commons."

Shake Into Yeur Shoes
Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder. It cures painful, smarting, nervous feet and ingrowing nails. It's the greatest comfort discovery of the age. Makes new shoes easy. A certain cure for sweating feet. Sold by all Druggists, 25c. Trial package FREE. Address A. S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y. Family Umbrella. There has been discovered at Greenock, England, an old-fashioned umbrella with whalebone ribs, which must be quite 120 years old. When opened it affords shelter for a whole

Time to cleanse the system and purify the blood. Take Garfield Tea, Nature's perfect axative; it is the best blood purifier rnown It cures sick headache, regulates the l ver, lileys, tomach and bowels. Send for sample. Garfield Tea Co., Brook-l n. N. Y.

The most mistaken endeavor and fervor is better than sleek apathy and In the same manner Smith pointed indifference.

Smokers appreciate the quality value of Lewis' Single Binder cigar. Your dealer or Lewis' Factory, Peoria, Ill.

Many Tailed Kittens.

Cats with nine lives and cats without tails have always been plentiful in Wapakoneta, O., but cats with two or three tails were never seen there before. Peisler brothers are the proud possessors of three kittens with seven tails, two have two tails each, and that he could insert it in his mouth of hear him breathe, or I guess it's one has only one common tail. The and grasp it firmly with his back more like feelin' him breathe. If he extra tails grow out of the kittens' backs along the backbone, are fully natural tails.-Exchange.

French Rural Postmen. The French postman of rural neighborhoods ekes out the small salary of his governmental position by doing all kinds of errands in the village for people who live along his route. He makes a small income from the fees received for his services. In summer nowadays, he sometimes goes his rounds on a bicycle, but in winter he has to walk.

French Tailor's English. A French tailor, who advertised "English spoken," was sometimes at a loss for the right word. On one occasion, wishing to tell a customer that her girdle was too high he hesitated a moment, then, with a look of inspiration he said: "Madyame your curvature is too upstairs."

The most valuable book in the British Museum is "The Coder Alexandrinus," said to be worth $1.500,000.

GRAND TO LIVE.

And the Last Laugh is Always the Best.

"Six months ago I would have laughed at the idea that there could be anything better for a table beverage than coffee," writes an Ohio woman-"now I laugh to know there is." "Since childhood I drank coffee as freely as any other member of the family. The result was a puny, sickly girl, and as I grew into womanhood I did not gain in health, but was afflicted with heart trouble, a weak and disordered stomach, wrecked nerves and a general breaking down, till last winter, at the age of 38 I seemed to be on the verge of consumption. My friends greeted me with 'How bad you look! What a terrible color!' and this was not very comforting.

"The doctors and patent medicines did me absolutely no good. I was thoroughly discouraged.

"Then I gave up coffee and commenced Postum Food Coffee. At first I didn't like it, but after a few trials and following the directions exactly, it was grand. It was refreshing and satisfying. In a couple of weeks I noticed a great change. I became stronger, my brain grew clearer, I was not troubled with forgetfulness as in coffee times, my power of endurance was more than doubled. The heart trouble and indigestion disappeared and my nerves became steady and strong "I began to take an interest in things about me. Housework and home-making became a pleasure. My friends have marveled at the change and when they inquire what brought it about, I answer 'Postum Food Coffee, and nothing else in the world." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. There's a reason. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in