The world loves the cheerful liar. The other day we heard a man say that he had seen the time, when in robust health, and in the prime and vigor of manhood, he could lie down in a bed of snow and sleep as sweetly as a babe on its mother's breast, and experience no discomfort. Next!

Usually churches have a long, hard struggle to get a start, but thanks principally to Mr. Ed. Taylor, the Loup City church starts off from the beginning a full grown, self-supporting church. Mr. Taylor is the son and brother of our own Taylors. We wish all the churches in the state had a representative from that family.—St. Paul Press.

I have arrived in Loup City at last and am getting ready as fast as possible for my opening, which will be on April 11, 12, 13 and 14, at which time I invite the ladies of Loup City and vicinity to call and inspect the finest line of dress hats ever brought to Loup City. I have employed a city trimmer who comes well recommended, and has had several years' experience with leading milliner houses and firms. Opposite St. Elmo.

ALICE A. HUNT

We received a pleasant call Tuesday from our good German friend, Herman Fiebig. Mr. Fiebig has just received a letter from his sons, Gust and Berthold Fiebig, who left here for Pendleton, Oregon, about the 20th inst., stating that they arrived safe and sound, though trains were much belated by snows in the mountains. They like the country very much and speak enthusiastically of it. Gust has lived there for some six years, so he was quite well acquainted with the country. Mr. Fiebig has almost entirely recovered from his late rheumatic troubles and save a twinge of the muscles occasionally is feeling in fine shape.

We received a very pleasant call last Saturday from Mr. J. C. Clark, who lives on the George Westcott farm south of town. Mr. Clark came here from Omaha last spring, and was formerly from Talmage, this state. Mr. Clark, when a boy, lived with his parents in Illinois adjoining the home of Abraham Lincoln, and the two families were quite intimate. Mr. Clark tells many pleasant incidents of President Lincoln as he knew him in boyhood days, when Mr. Lincoln treated him on his knees and told the stories at which he was so apt. If you want a fight on your hands, just say a word against "Old Abe" in Mr. Clark's hearing. Of course he has become a read of THE NORTHWESTERN, the only true blue Republican paper in Sherman county.

There promises to be an interesting fight at the coming village election, Tuesday, April 3rd, between the "wets" and "drys." The ballots have been printed and show that Ott, Peterson, P. O. Reed and Herman Jung have been selected by the license element as their candidates, while the anti-license side have chosen A. S. Main, Chas. Leininger and J. I. Depew to carry the "dry" banner. The ticket carries with it the questions "For Saloon License" and "Against Saloon License," so the onus of the decision will rest on the individual voter, and not upon the shoulders of the men elected, for of course any man elected will be in honor bound to take the decision of the voters on the question at issue, rather than his personal sentiment, whether it be for or against license.

School Notice.

A class of beginners will be started during the week beginning April 9th. All parents who wish to send their children for the first time will send them at this time, as there will be but one week during which they may enter. It is recommended that no child be sent who has not passed its sixth birthday.
