SIMPSON & REIMAN.

The opening on the 12th of June of Jenner's Park was a decided success, but the glorious Fourth of July celebration will be one of the grandest and most enjoyable days the Park has ever seen. The Park is not only beautiful and unique in many respects, whether regarding its situation or its many novel features, and being located in one of the most orderly and peaceful as well as attractive and up-to-date towns in the state, it is eminently a family resort, free from thuggery and rowdism, where the women and children can go, without the slightest fear of molestation.

The observation of Children's Day was the occasion of two interesting services at the Presbyterian church last Sunday. In the morning the pastor delivered an illustrated sermon to the children, fraught with good lessons and presented in a way to be remembered. The evening service was in charge of the Sunday school and was specially interesting. A program of song, recitation and exercise was rendered, which gave evidence of unusual ability on the part of those participating, as well as careful training by those in charge. Each number was thoroughly enjoyed, from the little tots of four years old, who recited a line or sang a little song, up to the members of the choir, who were at their best. The work of the latter consisted of a duet by Mrs. C. H. and Miss Lizzie Leininger and an anthem by the full choir.
