While Frank Zwink was on his way home from town, last Saturday, the double-tree on his wagon got broken, and while engaged in mending the same the knife slipped and cut a gash the full length of his nose, making a peculiar and painful wound. Dr. Long dressed the injury and Frank is doing well.
There was a full house at the Presbyterian church last Sunday evening, and a service quite in advance of its predecessors. The anthem by the choir and the quartet number both showed the results of the diligent and faithful work done by that choir. The rendition of "Judge me, O God" by Dudley Buck, gave Mr. McKinnle an opportunity to produce those tones which always captivate his audiences. The address by the pastor on "The Carpenter of Nazareth" was timely and thoughtful and made everyone glad he had a part in the work of the world.
About as jolly a band of "Indians" as you will find came in on the Union Pacific last Thursday and drove up to the McKinnle Bros. "Valley View" ranch. The band was headed by "Captain Clip," sometimes known as Geo. W. Fairchild, with "Smokehouse Pete," otherwise Peter J. McCaffrey, second in command. These gentlemen are known as expert fishermen and with the assistance of Geo. W. Turner have demonstrated that the Middle Loup abounds in gamey and edible fish. Their first catch consisted of sixteen fine specimens of bass, pike, channel cat and black buffalo, all caught with rod and reel. It was not known that pike could be caught this far up the river. Accompanying the fisherman are three other "Indians," "Old Horse," "Farley" and "Ben," known also as J. Turner, L. A. Jenkins and Ben Moore, all experts with the gun, so the larder will be well filled while the "Indians" stay.

Last Saturday was the opening of the game season, and our hunters came home that night loaded down with the juicy product. Sunday was but a repetition of Saturday, and huntersmen were out in every direction with good results.
T. H. Elsner, Henry Elsner, Jr., and Fritz Bickel left on Sunday on a hunting trip out in the Shoshone country, with headquarters at Thermopolis, where they will hunt and fish to their hearts' content and enjoy the hot baths of that great resort.
The Loup City schools opened last Monday morning with a large number of pupils enrolled. The teachers are: Raymond E. Dale, principal, of York; Nellie House, assistant principal, of Pender; Ena Broch of Hastings; Henry Young of Loup City; Helen Church of York; Margaret Namann of Columbus, and Nettie Conger of Loup City.
Miss Nellie House, the valued assistant principal of our schools, arrived from her home at Pender last Thursday evening, ready for the duties of the school year. Miss House is one of the best teachers ever employed in our schools, a favorite with her pupils, a splendid scholar and instructor, and will undoubtedly this year add very much to her laurels in the school room gained last year.
Last Thursday, while Miss Carrie Douglas was engaged in making apple butter at her home, the cover of the pan blew off, the contents flying in her face and burning the flesh in a most painful manner. Dr. Main was called and dressed the wounds and the lady is doing as well as the nature of the injuries will allow. Fortunately Douglas closed her eyes in time to save what might have been a serious injury to her eyesight.
The motor car weed burner which was recently working up this branch in charge of Conductor Dick O'Bryan, exploded Monday evening near Elba, killing one man and injuring two others. O'Bryan was not in charge when the explosion occurred. Thos. Johnson was killed and George Updegraff and L. A. Westover, both of Grand Island, are fatally injured. The body of Johnson was completely incinerated. That of Conductor Westover was blown a distance of fifty feet. The car contained 650 gallons of gasoline which exploded from some unknown cause.

At the Presbyterian church next Sunday morning the topic to be discussed is "Some Ditches for Presbyterians to Dig." The evening subject is "A Victory for the Servant Girl." Mr. McKinnle will sing at the morning service, and Miss Beatrice Nightingale in the evening. All are cordially invited to attend.
Nita, the little daughter of H. S. Conger, narrowly escaped a serious accident last Monday. While standing near the cream separator her hair was caught in some way, and drawing her head down close to the separator, which luckily was running slowly but her hair had to be cut off before she could be released.
Some Wives Wouldn't Worry.
An Atchison woman has found something new to worry about. Her husband, who is dead, was stone deaf when alive, and she is worrying for fear he may not hear Gabriel's horn.—Atchison Globe.
Wireless Telegraph on Liners.
Atlantic liners to the number of fifty have wireless telegraph apparatus to communicate with forty-eight land stations. Sixty British and twenty-four Italian war vessels are so equipped.
Town Built Over Coal Mine.
Many buildings in Motherwell, Scotland, look like the leaning tower of Pisa. The little town is built over the side of a coal mine. Some houses have collapsed, business is at a standstill, and the town will probably soon be deserted.
Examination Fever.
Dr. Putnam, a Russian medical man, has been making observations of schoolboys undergoing examination. He says that the average effect of an examination is to make the pulse beat twenty to the minute quicker.
Formic Acid a Stimulant.
The Journal des Debates recites experiments with formic acid, a secretion of ants. Eight to ten drops of the acid taken three or four times a day had a marked effect in stimulating muscular activity, which might be continued a long time without resultant fatigue. "That tired feeling" also disappears under the influence of the acid.
Proud of His Lineage.
Representative Wiley of New Jersey, said to be the only civil engineer in congress, is proud of a lineage extending back to the first postmaster general of the United States—Samuel Osgood, who was a citizen of Massachusetts.
Goldfish Come From China.
Goldfish are of Chinese origin. They were originally found in a large lake near Mt. Tsen-Tsing, and were first taken to Europe in the seventeenth century. The first in France were a present to Madame de Pompadour.
It is Now Distilled.
As nearly as possible 8,000 gallons of fresh water are used in a large battery daily. About two-thirds of this is taken up by the boilers, and the remainder is used for drinking, washing, cooking, etc. When the store which she has taken out with her from port has been used, a vessel has to depend upon her evaporators for further supplies. Every modern warship is fitted with evaporating machinery to distill the sea water.
A Cure for Diphtheria.
A very simple and yet most effective remedy for diphtheria is nothing but the juice of the pineapple, which the patient should be forced to swallow. The fluid is of so pungent and corrosive a nature that it cuts the diphtheria mucus and causes it to disappear. The corrosive nature of the juice is shown by the fact that if a person in good health happens to take the juice of a pineapple before the latter is ripe, the mucous membranes of the throat are apt to become sore.
