

Carnegie Hero Medal.

Although awards of money have been made from the Carnegie hero fund, there had been no distribution of medals until recently, when the commission announced the names of recipients. The medals are all made from the same design, which has been almost two years in making. There are three classes of the medals—gold, silver, and bronze—and all are made from the solid metal. Each medal is three inches in diameter and three-sixteenths of an inch in thickness. On one side is a likeness of Andrew Carnegie and the date of the organization of the fund. On the reverse side is the motto, "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends," which was selected by Mr. Carnegie.

RED MEN ON THE MOVE.

BOUND FOR MEXICO WHERE THEY WILL HAVE MORE FREEDOM.

Anticipation of Stated for Indian Territory and Oklahoma Causes Uneasiness—Band Headed by Carlisle Graduate.

Fort Worth, Tex.—Blanket Indians are on the move. During the past week a party of them passed through this city, headed by "Carlisle Bill," who seemed to be the spokesman for the Indians. He derived his nickname because of the fact that he is a graduate of the Carlisle school. He is a full-blood Cherokee and wears the native costume.

In anticipation of both Indian Territory and Oklahoma becoming states these Indians are uneasy and are seeking another country. They are going to Mexico where they say they can continue to live their own lives in their own way without being bothered by the white man under the latter's civilizing influence. The Indians are colonizing in Chihuahua.

The Indians were togged out in regular redman fashion. They wore plaited, long hair down their backs, while their headgear consisted of tattered hats stuck full of feathers and gaily decorated with beads. Moccasins were worn and their bodies were covered with deep red blankets of their own make. "Carlisle Bill" spoke good English. He had with him three squaws and one papoose. "Practically, all the Indians who have not been Americanized are going to Mexico to live," said Carlisle Bill. "We do not care to adopt American customs and Mexico is the only country we can live in freedom. I represent about 500 families of my tribe and expect to buy from the Mexican government from 100,000 to 200,000 acres of land in the mountains of Chihuahua, where we will live in the future.

"Hunting and fishing are good there and we will have the freedom we desire. The Indians are the richest people per capita in the United States, and we are amply able to buy our own lands. The Mexican government has guaranteed to permit us to live as we please on the land we purchase. As soon as we have secured the land I will return to the territory and will bring all my people back with me."

The real "blanket" Indians are greatly dissatisfied with the fact that all of the Indian Territory has been opened to white settlement. They know it means that they must accept the ways of the white people or be exterminated. Mexico is offering inducements for them to go there. Under the new law the Indians have no tribal government and can sell their land and can go where they please, provided they behave themselves.

Skidoo Club of 23 Girls.
Pittsburg, Pa.—A "Skidoo 23" club has been organized in McKeesport, Pa., by the Misses Gordon, Sterling and Klingensmith. The club is composed of 23 women, each 23 years old. The meeting night is the 23rd of each month. The membership of the club will be increased every time the list of applicants reaches 23. One purpose of the club is to say "23" to all marriage proposals during the school term, as all members are teachers.

PET CAT BRINGS RICHES.

Indiana Woman Goes to Missouri to Claim Legacy.

Knox, Ind.—Mrs. Matilda Swanson has gone to Kansas City with a pet cat that she will use as an exhibit to establish her right to a legacy left by John Lowney, who went from her to the Missouri town several years ago. The cat belonged to Mrs. Lowney, and after her death her husband gave it to Mrs. Swanson for safekeeping while he went to Kansas City. He never returned and Mrs. Swanson has received a letter from a lawyer, saying Lowney had left her $500 for caring for the cat, but she would have to establish her identity and show that she had cared for the feline.

"The old man cried when he parted, from Tommy," said Mrs. Swanson, in relating the story on the eve of her departure, "and for old time's sake I kept the critter ever since, though the good Lord knows I've been pestered to death with his catching chickens and such as that. That was seven years ago, and Tommy was four years old."

"The lawyer said I would have to prove that I was the real Mattie Swanson and that I'd given the cat good treatment. I guess when they see me in the court they will know who I am, and when they see the cat they'll know he ain't complainin'."

SILVEIRA LIVES AS KING.

Havana Broker Who Fled on Ship Now Big Man in Caracas.

Caracas.—Manuel Silveira, the Havana banker who fled on a cattle ship, and who is well known here, accompanied by his family, and bringing a large quantity of baggage, has arrived here from Puerto Cabello. There is with him also an employe named Pino.

Silveira rented a house in a fashionable street and was received splendidly by the powerful cattle kings. His friends are unconscious of his alleged defalcations. The ship Carmelina was chartered only to bring Silveira here and has returned to Havana without a cargo.

He says he comes to Venezuela temporarily to restore his health, which is broken since his automobile accident, and declares he left his firm, solvent, with $1,500,000 assets to cover $700,000 owed to Ceballos & Co. He feigns surprise at the news of the failure and the charges against himself.

Our Tobacco for Italy.
Rome.—The Italian government, which holds the tobacco monopoly, having decided upon the experiment of putting upon the market an enormous quantity of cigarettes at ten for two cents, has ordered a large consignment of American tobacco to mix with the national weed. The government also contracted this week with the United States manufacturers to supply a thousand railway carriages and goods vans, out of 15,000 that Italy is now buying.

stated that it had taken at least one man a lifetime to carve the curious characters, and that the book was at least 6,000 years old. He offered Mr. Oxley $200 for it, but he had already told him too much about it and the offer was promptly declined. He then offered $40, and this offer was also declined.

The lecturer, before leaving town, told some friends that the book would sell for several thousand dollars if it were offered to the right person. Local ministers and others have had some of the leaves photographed and are sending them to the Smithsonian Institution at Washington.

ton and to eastern scholars with a view of having them translated. The lecturer, who wished to purchase the book, stated that it was the only one of its kind in America and probably the only copy of that particular section of what may be termed the Burmese Scriptures, its existence.

Wireless from Honduras.

Washington.—A remarkable achievement in wireless telegraphy is reported to the navy department from the Pensacola station. That plant has been able to keep in constant communication with the United Fruit company's steamer Preston from the time that vessel left New York until it arrived at Honduras. A curious fact is that the Pensacola station has not been able to repeat this performance with any other steamer than the Preston, notwithstanding the fact that the plants are alike on all the United liners.

That Settled It.

Mr. Sproggins—And if I decline to let you have my daughter, what do you propose to do?
Mr. Wibblesen—I warn you that in that case we are prepared to act. Even now, beloved Aurelia awaits me near a railway station. If you decide against us, we will flee together and never come back.
Mr. Sproggins—(without a moment's hesitation)—Then I refuse.—Stray Stories.

WOMEN'S WOES

Thousands of women suffer daily backache, headache, dizzy spells, languor, nervousness and a dozen other symptoms of kidney trouble, but lay it to other causes. Make no mistake. Keep the kidneys well, and these aches and troubles will disappear.

Mrs. Anthony Cadrette, 77 Mechanic street, Leominster, Mass., says: "My sight failed, I had sharp pain in my back and bearing-down pains through the hips. I was nervous, fretful and miserable. The urine was greatly disordered and I began to have the swellings of dropsy. I was running down fast, when I started using Doan's Kidney Pills. A wonderful change came and after using them faithfully for a short time I was well."

The Zulu War Cry.

The Zulu war cry, used whenever they take the field by the South African footballers now in London, has puzzled our newspapers, not one of which seems able to spell it correctly, says Notes and Queries. The Daily Express gives it as "Igamilzho," and the Daily Mail as "Gammillo." The cry really consists of two words, and should be written "Igamma layo." "Igamma" is Zulu for "name," and "layo" is a possessive pronoun, meaning either "his" or "their." Thus the Daily Mail, although quite wrong in its orthography of the cry, is right in saying that it merely means "That is his name." The explanation is that Zulu etiquette does not allow warriors, when they rush into battle, to mention the names of their enemies, but the leaders shout out, "That is his name," pointing to the victims with their spears.

SKIN ERUPTIONS 35 YEARS.

Suffered Severely with Eczema All Over Body—A Thousand Thanks to Cuticura Remedies.

"For over thirty-five years I was a severe sufferer from eczema. The eruption was not confined to any one place. It was all over my body, limbs, and even on my head. I am sixty years old and an old soldier, and have been examined by the Government Board over fifteen times, and they said there was no cure for me. I have taken all kinds of medicine and have spent large sums of money for doctors, without avail. A short time ago I decided to try the Cuticura Remedies, and after using two cakes of Cuticura Soap, two boxes of Cuticura Ointment, and two bottles of Cuticura Resolvent, two treatments in all, I am now well and completely cured. A thousand thanks to Cuticura. I cannot speak too highly of the Cuticura Remedies. Joan T. Roach, Richmondale, Ross Co., Ohio, July 17, 1905."

Plenty More!

Russell Sage was much opposed to drinking. He would often rail with homely and humorous wisdom against drink.

"Men drink," he said one day to a broker, "because they are happy, because they are sad, because they are too warm, because they are too cold. Is there any logic in that?"

"When I see men drinking I think of a little boy at the seashore.

"This little boy, at play with his bucket and shovel in the sand, suddenly ran to the edge of an advancing wave, and, scooping up a handful of salt water and foam, drank it greedily."

"Oh, don't drink that," said his nurse. "It will make you thirsty."

"What if it does?" said he. "There's plenty more!"

Sculptor Alleges Injustice.

Information comes from France, where George Grey Barnard is working on the marble groups which are to be the chief adornment of the new state capitol at Harrisburg, that the sculptor has told intimate friends that he will wreck his creations before he will let them be taken across the ocean without a fair compensation for his several years of labor. He was to have $100,000 for the work, but the payments have been delayed. An order to prepare replicas of his statues for exhibition at the opening had been nearly completed when it was countermanded, although Barnard had expended $4,000 up to it.

HARD TO SEE.

Even When the Facts About Coffee Are Plain.

It is curious how people will refuse to believe what one can clearly see. Tell the average man or woman that the slow but cumulative poisonous effect of caffeine—the alkaloid in tea and coffee—tends to weaken the heart, upset the nervous system and cause indigestion, and they may laugh at you if they don't know the facts.

Prove it by science or by practical demonstration in the recovery of coffee drinkers from the above conditions, and a large per cent. of the human family will shrug their shoulders, take the drugs and—keep on drinking coffee or tea.

"Coffee never agreed with me nor with several members of our household," writes a lady. It enervates, depresses and creates a feeling of languor and heaviness. It was only by leaving off coffee and using Postum that we discovered the cause and cure of these ills.

"The only reason, I am sure, why Postum is not used altogether to the exclusion of ordinary coffee is, many persons do not know and do not seem willing to learn the facts and how to prepare this nutritious beverage. There's only one way—according to directions—boil it fully 15 minutes. Then it is delicious." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville, in pigs." There's a reason."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional treatment. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed it has a tendency to close, and hearing is lost. Unless the inflammation can be removed and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are cured by Catarrh Remedy, which is not an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness caused by catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Mrs. Sage's Gift to Church.
Mrs. Russell Sage made her first gift for benevolent purposes of any size when a few days ago she contributed $1,000 from the $70,000,000 bequeathed to her by her husband to the Lawrence Methodist church. This congregation had been struggling to raise $12,000 to build a new edifice on the plot adjoining the present church property. Mrs. Sage's donation brings the fund up to more than $7,000.

Waiter's Modest Request.
Melba admires the independence of her fellow Australians, but on one occasion she had rather a pronounced experience with what she calls their "delightful impudence." She had waited a long time for dinner at her hotel in a large mining town and finally made a sharp complaint to the waiter. "Well, ma'am," said he, coolly, "you might sing us a song to pass the time." This to a vocalist who one evening received $5,000 from William Waldorf Astor for singing four songs in his London mansion.

The Ideal Family Laxative. is one that can be used by the entire family, young and old, weak and strong, without any danger of harmful effects. It should have properties which insure the same dose always having the same effect, otherwise the quantity will have to be increased and finally lose its effect altogether. These properties can be found in that old family remedy, Brandreth's Pills, because its ingredients are of the purest herbal extracts, and every pill is kept for three years before being sold, which allows them to mellow. We do not believe there is a laxative on the market that is so carefully made. Brandreth's Pills are the same fine laxative tonic pills your grandparents used. They have been in use for over a century and are for sale everywhere, either plain or sugar-coated.

Uncanny Chinese Legend.
There are the two celebrated towers of the imperial city, the Bell tower and the Drum tower. As to the casting of the bell in the former there is this legend: There had been two unsuccessful attempts and the life of the founder was threatened in case of a third failure. His daughter discovered by occult means that nothing but the blood of a virgin mingled with the molten metal would insure success. So at the next casting she sacrificed her life by throwing herself into the molten metal, leaving only one shoe behind. The casting was perfect. But when the bell was first struck "all were horror-stricken as, after the heavy boom of the bell, came a low wail, as of a girl in agony, distinctly saying the word 'heish,' shoe. And to this day people when they hear it, say, 'There's poor Ko-ai's voice calling out for her shoe.'"—Shanghai Times.

OLDBOOK IS VALUABLE

SACRED BURMESE WORK TAKEN FROM EASTERN TEMPLE.

Given to Minnesota Man by English Army Officer—Said to Be Over 6,000 Years Old and Worth Small Fortune.

Fergus Falls, Minn.—In the possession of E. J. Oxley, of this city, is a Burmese book of exceeding value. It is about 18 inches in length, and the leaves are 2 1/2 inches in width and much thicker than ordinary paper. Fastened together they make a volume about five inches thick. The leaves are sections of palm leaf, paper being unknown until centuries after this particular book was made, and the characters are delicately cut into the leaves, so that there is no such thing as fading.

The book was given Mr. Oxley by Sergt. Fred Stokes, of the English army, who took it from a Burmese temple in the English-Burman war of 25 years ago. Mr. Oxley, who is himself an Englishman, had occasion to visit his native land, and Sergt. Stokes made him a present of the book as he was returning to America.

The sergeant had taken a small Burmese god from the same temple, and the temple and village were then burned by the soldiers. Neither he nor Mr. Oxley regarded the book as anything more than ordinary curiosity at the time the present was made.

The first intimation that Mr. Oxley had as to its real value was given him by a Burmese lecturer to whom he showed it a few months ago. The man, on seeing it, bluntly told the owner that he never came by any such book as that honestly; that it could not be held as private property in Burma, and that it was kept sacred and never handled except by the higher orders of the priesthood. Lives in an Ancient House.

Bedroom Where Rufus the Red Lay Sick Occupied.

London.—Where is the oldest inhabited room in the world? This question is asked by the noted writer, Raymond Blathway, who thinks that there may be chambers still used, and more ancient, than in the Deanery of Gloucester, where he has been staying.

This house is approaching its millenary, having been built by William the Conqueror, and its walls are saturated with historical traditions.

"In my bedroom," says Mr. Blathway, "William Rufus lay in sickness, and it was in that room that he pressed the crozier of Canterbury into the unwilling hands of Archbishop Anselm; Archbishop Laud paraded the lovely drawing-room; in the splendid study, with its dim, gray Norman arches, have been held some of the great parliaments of England, and when the moonbeams stretch themselves across the ancient stairways and passages, there can be seen flitting restlessly to and fro the wraith of Anne Boleyn, who, with Bluff Harry, spent some of the early days of her too brief honeymoon here."

Bells Stop Church Services.
Braddock, Pa.—With $5,000 worth of consecrated bells pealing and jangling right across the street, Rev. John Kershaw, pastor of the Congregationalist church, often is unable to make his flock hear his sermon and is forced to suspend services. The bells belong to the Sacred Heart Polish Catholic church, the pride of the Poles in the Monongahela valley, for they are the most costly and loudest. In accordance with the Polish customs, the bells are rung before and after each mass. The Congregationalists appealed to Burgess J. E. Little for relief, and, if he is unable to help, the Polish church will be taken into court as a nuisance.
