Uncle John Chipps of Oak Creek, the only republican in that township who was elected last fall, and now sports road overseer after his name, was in Loup City last Friday. While on the way to town one of his horses was taken sick, necessitating his staying in town that night. Uncle John was to leave Tuesday morning for a two months' visit in southeast Pennsylvania, returning by way of New York state, where he will visit for a while, and also visiting a few days in Iowa. We trust he will have the best time of his life.

To the members and friends of the Baptist church: Greeting, I desire through the columns of our worthy newspapers, to express, first of all, my deep gratitude to the many friends and neighbors, who have helped us in our work in this town. When I leave you all it will be with fond memories of your readiness to aid me in my endeavors. A short time after I came into your midst, people from the outside began to urge us to build the handsome building west of the church and without your help it would never have been erected. There is, however, a small indebtedness left on the parsonage, and we are very desirous to have it wiped out. Therefore, I venture to ask you to give us another lift next Sunday evening, for we shall then endeavor to raise the remainder of the debt. I believe in God, and I believe in you, I also believe that my closing service in your midst will be

Your brother and friend, H. S. Wold.

Last Friday afternoon the pupils of Misses Conger, Young and Naumann's rooms had very interesting exercises. Miss Conger's infant pupils had a very pretty Christmas cantata, and gave a very presentable dialogue, the little ones having been drilled to perfection in their parts and gave them "like to the manor born." At the close, a Christmas tree loaded with good things was dispensed to the little ones to their hearty appreciation. The room was tastefully decorated and was filled to overflowing with patrons of the school who gave every evidence of a just appreciation. Miss Young's room, which was also decorated in ex cellent tone for the occasion, gave some very excellent recitations and a pretty Christmas dialogue, the children entering heartily into the spirit of all the exercises, and which were as well done as could have been done by much older and more mature persons, after which a well loaded Christmas tree was dispensed to the happy pupils. Miss Naumann's room gave a very presentable play, the east end of the room being set apart for a mimic stage, on which the characters gave their parts in a highly appreciative manner to a large number of patrons of the school present. All in all, the exercises given by the pupils of these rooms gave great credit not only to themselves, but to the careful and painstaking work of their in-
