Parties wanting Grand Island field-fencing will please leave their orders a week or ten days before they want to use it, as the demand is so great it is almost impossible to keep a supply on hand at all times. Yours resp., P. O. REED.

The following new or old subscribers have remembered the Northwestern the past few days: D. M. Gue, Adam Zion, T. H. Elsner, John Solms, W. Moon, J. B. Milligan, T. S. Nightingale, W. W. Morsman, J. V. Ellett, Hugh McFadden and W. O. Brown.

Mr. Huse N. Morgan, who appears as the "Wizard" in the successful Musical Wizard of Wall Street Co., is an actor of the highest rank and has appeared in all the larger cities during his 26 years stage experience. His young wife, Bessie Morgan, is equally clever in the emotional lead part in the play.

District Court convened Tuesday morning with Judge Hostetler presiding. There was very little court business before his honor, and court will probably adjourn this afternoon. Judge Hostetler says this is the very best county in his district in the matter of little litigation or any other kind of court work. A very good word for Sherman county. And, as one lawyer puts it, shows well for the legal fraternity of this county, who each and all try to get all matters settled out of court they possibly can.

Will Simpson, Charley Wharton and Vincent Cowling returned from Denver yesterday.

The interior of Odendahl Bros' drug store is being repainted and decorated this week.

Miss Ida Draper has charge of the gallery during Photographer Draper's absence at Ansley.

C. Biemond, Clint Outhouse, W. O. Brown and Geo McFadden went with stock to South Omaha on Monday.

Rube Axelson, who has been clerking at Conhiser's, has gone to Arcadia to be a bartender in Milburn's saloon.

A fine lot of satchels and trunks received at Christensen & Ferdinandt's Furniture store. Call and see them.

Judge Hostetler yesterday appointed Dr. Kearns and Judge Wall members of the county board of insanity.

J. W. Conger and family returned from their visit to St. Louis Tuesday evening, reporting a most pleasant time.

Bob Szwanek, Stanislaus Galczynski Banker Polski and Andrew Garstka were among those from Ashton court-ning on Tuesday.

We received a pleasant call Monday from J. B. Milligan of Logan township, who kindly remembered the editor's failings.

Mrs. J. B. O'Bryan and her daughter, Mrs. J. A. Thompson, went to Omaha last Friday, returning home Monday evening.

Miss Meroe Outhouse last Saturday evening entertained the Misses Jessie, Cora and Addie Leininger and Margaret Naumann.

Mrs. Emil Cords the first of this week enjoyed a visit from her mother and sister, Mrs. Scherzberg and Mrs. Wilhelme of Central City.

Miss Beatrice Nightingale returned to her studies at University Place Monday morning of this week, after a week's pleasant visit at home.

The Entre Nous Club was delightfully entertained on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Dr. Main by Mrs. Main and Miss Edie Moon.

On Monday, the 8th instant, John Jewell and Miss Esther Johnson, both of this county, were united in matrimony by Judge Angier at his office in the court house.

Prof. Mead had a serious attack of indigestion last Thursday night that for a time threatened to prove serious, but prompt remedies proved effective and he soon recovered.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Mellor came up from Lincoln last Saturday evening. Mr. Mellor came up to see after some improvements on his farm. Wonder what comment the maggot will make.

Dr. Kearns left last Saturday for Bellevue, to be in attendance on his son, Ray, who is suffering from an attack of measles. He returned Monday reporting Ray much improved.

On April 1st, Judge Angier granted a marriage license to Wm. Edward Heapy and Miss Ada Mary Bent of Hazard township, the couple being married at the home of the bride on the 3rd instant, the father, Rev. Geo. Bent, officiating.

Messrs. and Mesdames R. P. Starr and C. F. Beushausen and Miss Rose Mulick attended the Catholic concert at Ashton Monday evening of this week, where Mrs. Starr took part in the musical program. A most delightful entertainment is reported.

Uncle Joe Pedler had a face on him a few days since that took all his inventive genius to explain the cause away satisfactorily. He tells the story that in attempting to reduce a refractory piece of wood to kindling it gave him a swipe on the right cheek that was a corker and afterward in looking for some healing lotion he daubed a small quantity of carbolic acid on the wound which made appearances go to prove he had been at a first-class Irish wake. You may take Uncle Joe's version of the affair or accept our suspicions given above. But then appearances are deceitful, and perhaps it were better to give J. S. the benefit of any doubt.

Lewis and Norah Kline arrived from Sioux Falls, S. D., last Thursday. They are the only old members of Boyd Burrows Co. who will be with the show this season. Thos. McCue of Denver, and D. C. Reese of Chicago, arrived Monday and Tuesday evenings respectively, and are the first members of the musical forces to arrive. Arthur S. Vance, the well known trombone soloist, arrived Wednesday evening and the balance of the company will arrive between now and the 24th. Boyd's company this season will number about twenty-five people and include a uniformed band and concert orchestra. The outfit will be all new and larger than last season.

At a regular meeting of the school board March 30th, the hiring of the teachers for the ensuing term coming up for consideration and the board being informed that Miss House and Miss Brach were not applicants for their present positions, were unanimous in tendering to them their positions and adjourned to April 6th, awaiting their decision, at which time Miss House and Miss Brach respectfully declined the offer for the reason that should they conclude to teach next year they had offers of schools at their home town. At the adjourned meeting the following teachers were hired: Primary department, Nettie Conger; second primary, Henry Young; Intermediate, Margaret Naumann; 6th and 7th grades, Blanche Bennett; Grammar, Bess Crews; second Assistant Principal, Inez Fries; Assistant Principal, Retta Clark, Principal, Prof. B. E. Dale.

Rev. Henry French of Anselmo, occupied the M. E. pulpit here last Sunday evening, preaching a very interesting and instructive sermon.

W. W. Morsman, the new billiard hall proprietor, has rented one of the new Cooper cottages. Of course, he is a new reader of the Northwestern.

C. C. Carlson went down to Dannebrog over last Sunday to visit his parents and congratulate a younger brother who had just attained his majority.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Lindall went to Kearney, Monday, to look after property they bought there. We understand they will move to that city soon.

Miss Ella Taylor entertained her lady friends at a sumptuous 11 o'clock "Spread" Saturday evening. The earlier part of the evening was enjoyably spent in games and music.

The regular services at the Baptist church next Sunday. Morning subject, "The Grounds for Christian Hope," evening subject, "The Important Question." A cordial invitation is extended to all to be present.

Mrs. Wisner of York, housekeeper for W. W. Morsman, accompanied by her daughter, arrived here Monday evening. Unfortunately, almost upon her arrival she stepped with the ball of one foot on a nail, making an ugly wound in that member, but prompt medical assistance being called, no serious results are feared.

In his remittance to the Northwestern up to Jan. 1, 1908, on Monday of this week, T. S. Nightingale, at Riverside, Calif., wishes to be remembered to all his old friends in Sherman county. Although Bro. Nightingale does not allude to his health, yet the tone of his letter shows he is in tip top condition and enjoying life in sunny Southern California.

Property owners on the streets between the school house and down town wish the Northwestern to emphasize their request that school children refrain from walking on their lawns in going to and from school, as they are killing off the grass along the sidewalks, and wish parents and teachers to join in an endeavor to stop this destruction. Please assist in this, parents, teachers and pupils.

The services at the Presbyterian church last Sunday evening were fairly well attended, in spite of the inclement weather, and the exercises were of a very interesting character. The sermon on missionary work by the pastor was very instructive and entertaining, while the anthem by the ever good choir and the solo by Prof. W. B. Owens, who was here visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Zimmerman, was a rare musical treat.

Clear Creek Chat.

William, son of J. W. Heapy, was married to Miss Sadie Bent at the bride's home at Hazard last Wednesday.

Will Howard is in Iowa and when he comes home it is the supposition that a fair bride will accompany him. He will reside on Henry Beck's farm. Litchfield went wet by three votes. It shows that the temperance people are alive in Litchfield.

A Mr. Cimenson is here from the sandhills. He recently married a daughter of J. Wilson's.

Chet Thompson is here visiting Henry Beck.

Wes Heapy has three cars of cattle ready for market.

Loup City School Notes.

Herman and Laura Stark and Walter Henschlag have entered Miss Conger's room, making an enrollment of seventy-one pupils this month.

Miss Esther Musser and Miss Stenser enjoyed (?) the geometry lesson last Thursday.

Mr. W. S. Waite heard the ancient history recitation last Friday.

Miss Grace Tracy was absent on account of a gripe last week.

Mesdames Corning and Outhouse were visitors in Miss Brach's room last Thursday.

Mr. Waite visited in Miss Crow's room last Friday afternoon.

Musical Wizard of Wall Street.

No better three-act comedy has ever been written than the above play, and Mr. Huse N. Morgan, the original Wizard, is too well known as a character comedian to require much comment. He is ably supported by Miss Bessie Morgan, Charles and Bessie Brownie, Geo. A. Powers, Mme. Powers, the Rhinehart Sisters and a strong and capable chorus of voices selected especially for this organization. Every member of this company of twelve first class artists introduces a specialty, making in all a program of fifteen musical numbers, incidental to the action of the play itself, which alone would furnish an evening's entertainment equal to what you are in the habit of seeing. This is not a 16 to 1 proposition, but it is 15 strong and musical numbers at each and every performance given by this excellent organization. At Pilgers opera house for one night only, Wednesday, April 17th. Price, children 25c, adults 35c and 50c.
