Engineer Joe O'Bryan was home over Sunday. Joe says the Ord papers are a little previous in moving his family from Loup City to that town, as he has not concluded to do so, especially as there are important changes soon to take place on that branch that may preclude his moving to Ord, yet if he stays on that line will undoubtedly make his home there.

Chas. Duffy, the horseman, by mistake last Thursday morning swallowed a dose of horse medicine, that made him quite sick for a time. He had been suffering from a severe cold and when he went to bed put a bottle of cough medicine on the table on which was a bottle of medicine for horses. By mistake he got hold of the wrong bottle. Fortunately no serious consequences ensued.

Rev. A. J. Stevens of Kearney was in Loup City yesterday. Through him, we learn that Charles Crosten, living three miles east of Hazard, was kicked full in the face, Sunday last, by one of his horses he was leading to water, badly disfiguring his countenance and rendering him unconscious. From the nature of his injury, it was thought his recovery improbable, though we have heard nothing later.

O. Benschoter will soon leave Loup City. Mrs. Benschoter and her oldest daughter, Miss Laura, will visit for a time at Strawberry Point, in Iowa, among her relatives, and afterward the family will, it is the intention, settle down to housekeeping at Wood River, this state, in the section of the country over which Lan will run a medicine wagon. They have rented their town property here for one year.

Rev. L. C. McEwen left yesterday morning for Omaha, where he expects to undergo a painful surgical operation. We trust he will return to us much improved in health. He will, if possible, secure a brother minister from a distance to supply his pulpit next Sunday morning and evening. Later—A telegram from Rev. McEwen at Omaha to the Northwestern this morning says: "Rev. W. J. Shelleroff of the Omaha Seminary will occupy the Presbyterian pulpit in Loup City next Sunday, morning and evening, in the absence of the pastor."

Come and see the elephant dance at Pilger's opera house at Loup City, Wednesday, May 8th. Music by the famous Ashton orchestra of seven pieces.

The pastor of the M. E. church will speak from the following themes next Sunday: Morning, "The Soul's Wrestling;" evening, "The Matchless Speaker." A cordial invitation is extended to all. You will be made welcome.

Sheriff Williams returned last Saturday evening from Norfolk, where he had taken Miss Carrie Smalljohn, an insane patient from Bristol township. The young woman is about 27 years of age and was brought to this city last week Tuesday, adjudged of unsound mind by the board of insanity and taken to the asylum last Thursday morning.

The board has concluded to retain Prof. Dale as superintendent of the city schools for the coming year at an advanced salary, the professor not being willing to accept the position at the old pay, taking into consideration the increased duties by the adding of another grade. We congratulate the board, the professor, the patrons and the pupils of the schools over the satisfactory solution of the problem.

O. J. Vandyke of Shelton, Neb., Grand Master Workman of the Ancient Order of United Workmen of Nebraska, died last week Tuesday in Omaha of acute gastritis. Mr. Vandyke was a brother of Mrs. T. A. Taylor of this city. The funeral occurred at the home in Shelton, Neb., and Mrs. Taylor attending the funeral. The many friends of Mrs. Taylor will deeply sympathize with her in the loss of a loved brother.

A number of citizens of Loup City have asked the Northwestern to agitate the question of an "Anti-spitting" ordinance. The filthy habit of expectorating on the sidewalks should need no agitation, should need no law to put a stop to it. The sidewalks, especially Monday morning, present such a nasty aspect from this nauseating cause that whoever engages in it should of themselves stop it, from decent and sanitary motives alone.

At the regular meeting of school board last Saturday the board decided to increase the salary of R. E. Dale to $90, increase Miss Crews' to $55 and hire Miss Abi Beynon of Peru as principal. The teachers for the ensuing term will be R. E. Dale, superintendent; Miss Beynon, principal; Miss Eries, assistant principal; Miss Crews, grammar room; Miss Blanche Bennett, 6th and 7th grades; Miss Naumann, intermediate; Miss Young, second primary, and Miss Conger primary.

G. H. Lindall and his good wife will leave for their new home at Kearney in a few days to make that their home. Mr. Lindall informs us that he will dispose of all his land holdings as soon as possible and will then return to Sweden to live the rest of his days. Mr. Lindall came to this country some thirty years ago, a young man, and has accumulated a comfortable fortune that will enable him to live in ease and affluence in the mother country during his remaining years.

The Annual Freshmen Sophomore Oratorical Contest this year promises to be of more interest than ever before and both classes are alike very enthusiastic. Each class has four representatives. The Freshmen contestants are Florence Currie of Friend, Margaret Quigley of Valentine, Raymond Kearns of Loup City and Fred Jones of Plattsmouth. The Sophomores are Albert O'Kane of Ithaca, Rex Cary of Bancroft, Leigh Ohman of Pilger, Kip Hamblin of Tekamah. Both sides are hard at work and class spirit will no doubt run very high as the contest draws near. Purple and gold.—College Paper, Bellevue (Neb.)

Something should be done at the coming session of the village trustees to put a stop to allowing waste paper on our streets. Not only is it a nuisance but a menace to the lives of owners of horses and to the animals themselves, and if a stop is not put to the habit of throwing waste paper on the streets, the village may find itself defendant in a damage suit later. There have been several run-aways of teams lately from this cause, and although fortunately without serious damage, yet no one can tell how soon some one is seriously hurt, or perhaps killed by frightened teams on our streets.

The largest land deal ever made in Nance county was closed last Saturday. The George Dinsdale ranch in Cottonwood and Loup Ferry township consisting of 1120 acres was purchased by John Held of Benton, Nebraska, for $45,000. Mr. Held sold his farm in Platte county for $102 an acre—some 80 acre tract selling for $120 an acre. Mr. Held will take possession of the Dinsdale ranch next March and will continue it along the same lines that Mr. Dinsdale has pursued. We only hope that Mr. Dinsdale and his excellent family will not move from Nance county. They still have 5,000 acres of land in Sherman and Howard counties and some 500 acres in Merrick county. The sale was consummated through the Prowert & Blofield and George Bowman real estate offices.—Fullerton, (Neb.) News-Journal.

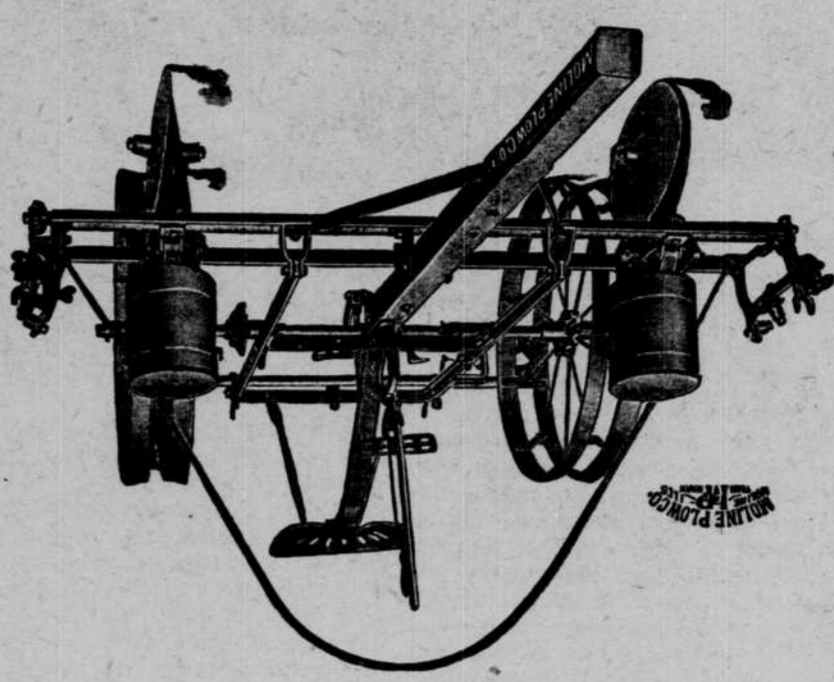

Are You One of the Sons of Daniel Boone?

The Sons of Daniel Boone," is the name of a big, outdoor boys' society, founded and conducted by Dan Beard, who is an authority on good times for healthy boys. There are already local clubs of this order, or "Forts," as they are called, all over the country. Any boy can organize a Fort. The officers of each Fort are: Daniel Boone (President), Davy Crockett (Secretary), Kit Carson (Treasurer), Audubon (Librarian), Simon Kenton (Keeper of the Tally Gun) and Johnny Applesseed (Forester). Each individual member is called a Scout. Get together all the boys whom you know are fond of open-air sports and would like to learn the secrets of woodcraft and the vigorous games of the old pioneers and Indian fighters. Elect your officers send the name and address of each officer and Scout to the WOMAN'S EXHIBIT, COLUMBIAN EXPOSITION, to be enrolled in the Great Boone Book, and you will receive a constitution and official charter with the seal of the Mystic Camp Fire, and every Scout will receive an S. D. B. button.

There will be all sorts of novel sports provided for the Sons of Daniel Boone, and the Founder, Dan Beard, will always be ready to give the members of the order his personal advice and counsel.
