HEIR FOR THE THRONE.

Son Born to King and Queen of Spain on the 10th. Madrid .-- Queen Victoria gave birth on Friday to a son, who becomes heir to the throne of Spain.

The birth of the royal baby has been awaited with great interest throughout Spain. The news from the palace that the accouchment was imminent spread like wildfire and crowds flocked to the great plaza fronting the royal palace. The happy event had taken the capital somewhat by surprise, for only yesterday afternoon the queen had taken her customary drive and the court physicians had intimated that another two weeks would pass before confinement.

Messengers were hastily dispatched to the prime minister and other chief court dignitaries, as the advent of an heir to the throne of Spain is an event of the deepest political significance. Through the early morning ministers and big functionaries arrived at the coart of the palace.

Meantime word reached the waiting throngs that the queen was pregressing well. The doctors pronounced her condition normal and satisfactory. King Alfonso remained at the queen's bedside

At 8 o'clock in the morning the king cancelled the meeting of the council of ministers, which was to have considered current state affairs. By 10 o'clock the high functionaries of the state and capital, with many ambassadors and ministers, in their court costumes, had reached the palace. At noon this assemblage of the nobility and power of Spain was grouped in the royal apartments set aside for official ceremonies awaiting with feelings of profound emotion the announcement of the birth of the heir. The birth of the babe occurred at 12:45 p.m. The announcement was immediately conveyed to the waiting officials and crowds outside the palace, who received the glad tidings with mingled feelings of enthusiasm and emotion. That the queen had been blessed with a son-a male heir to the throne-was no less welcome than the happy event itself.

Best Effects in Baking. For the successful making of bread it is necessary that the oven be care fully regulated. After the loaves go in increase the oven heat slightly for ten minutes, then reduce gradually. In the ordinary small range the loaves should be turned every ten or 15 minutes to insure even baking. If they, show signs of browning too rapidly cover with oiled paper. In 40 or 50 minutes a loaf will shrink somewhat and slip easily from the pan. When well baked an empty, hollow sound will follow a tap with the fingers and the crust feels firm. Take from the pans as soon as done and tie up against the bread board, so that the air may circulate freely about the loaf.

Never leave loaves in pans or on a pine table to sweat or absorb the odor of the wood. If you like a crisp crust do not cover the loaves when cooling. but if you prefer a soft, tender consistency wrap in several thicknesses of cloth. When perfectly dry and cold put into a well-aired tin box and cover. A rule briefly summarized, then, for a plain white bread to be baked in one day would be like this, subject to minor variations. This amount will make four loaves: One quart milk or water, or half and half; two compressed yeast cakes, one tablespoonful of sugar or not, as preferred: two tablespoonsfuls shortening, two teaspoonfuls salt and about three quarts sifted flour. Dissolve the yeast cakes in some of the lukewarm water or milk, add shortening, put in flour to make as stiff a batter as you can beat, then beat five or ten minutes, remembering that the more you beat the less rest of the flour, turn out on floured board and knead from 15 to 20 minutes. Let rise to double its bulk (two or three hours will be required for this), at a temperature from 75 to 80, make into loaves, handling as little as possible, let rise to double its bulk, then bake.

FOR THE OCCASIONAL NAP.

Why the Couch Should Be Considered Indispensable.

"A room without a couch is only half furnished," says an authority on homemaking. "Life is so full of ups and downs that often and often all that saves the sanity of the mentally jaded and physically exhausted fortune fighter is the occasional half hour rest or momentary loss of consciousness on the breakfast room lounge or the old sofa in the sitting-room." A long, comfortable couch, on which one may throw himself, boots and brains, unmindful of tidies and tapestries, is a veritable means of grace. The need of a good, healthy nap is often mistaken for suicidal tendencies. Instead
