ingly bound to discredit his own dministration by ill-favored executive acts. A short time since he vetoed the 2-cent passenger rate law in his state and now caps his presilential prospects by vetoing a law granting state pensions to civil war veterans. He begins to assume the proportions of a Grover Cleveland in the eyes of the people.

Late telegraphic reports have i that the eastern roads will accept the 2-cent rate and put it into effect on interstate travel as well as local tate rates. The fact is patent that the 2-cent passenger rate has come to till such is the case from seaboard to seaboard, and from Canada to the gulf, and the sooner the railroad accept the inevitable the better will be for them as well as for > Montezuma contains over three columns of items concerning our travelers and of the investments they made while there. The biggest deal was the purchase by E. G. Taylor, A. P. Culley, C. Bradley and W. D. Zimmerman, in company with local investors, of the Gollaway ranch of 187 acres, 55 acres of which is in a solid bearing orchard, the price paid being $15,000. August Jaeschke bought a quarter section, Richard Baker purchased a half section for $6,000, E. G. Taylor became the owner of a quarter section at $4,500, Messrs. Culley and Bradley jointly secured a fine tract of land, and B. J. Swanson purchased an 80-acre well cultivated uor traffic was handed down by the Indiana state supreme court, that bady declaring that the sale of intoxicants is lawful and therefore constitutional unless declared unlawful by the state itself. The court also affirmed the right of a city to limit the liquor traffic to prescribed districts such as the business portion of the town.
