Hendrickson issued his manifesto as candidate for superintendent of the schools, and this week Prof. H. L. Currier, principal of the Ashton schools, also presents his announcement in our columns as a candidate for the same honors from the People's Independent party. Present Superintendent of schools in this county, Prof. M. H. Mead, is also a candidate for re-nomination at the hands of the Republican party, his card appearing among the announcements. Prof. J. F. Nicoson also asks in a card for the Independent People's party endorsement at the coming primary. Later. County Clerk C. F. Beushausen will through these columns announce his candidacy for re-nomination to that office, at the hands of the Populist party, and Sheriff Williams shies his castor into the ring for a Republican re-nomination to that office, which he has so faithfully filled. F. M. Henry, who has under consideration the idea of asking the republicans in primary to nominate him for county clerk, is yet undecided, but may conclude to enter the race. Judge J. A. Angler also this week gives authority to his candidacy for County Judge in a card asking a re-nomination at the hands of the People's party. Present Treasurer Hiddleson by his card above asks his populist friends to give him a second nomination for taking care of the county's financial portfolio. The political pot is slowly coming to a bolling point, and from now on we may expect accrued interest in those matters will have simplified itself by drawing the field into strict party lines and interest.
