The doctor sends greetings to all his friends here and still looks upon Loup City as home to him. Were it not for our bushes, we would quote the flattering words the doctor gives to the Northwest comparing it in point of news and makeup among the best weeklies of the state. Many thanks, doctor. Please name the brand of your favorite cigar.

A new post office regulation law which is now in effect makes it no longer necessary to buy a special delivery stamp to secure immediate delivery of a letter. Ten cents in stamps of any denomination, in addition to the ordinary postage, is all that is required for transmission of letters and parcels for special delivery. When the usual special delivery stamp is not used the words "for special delivery" should be written prominently on the letter or package. If not so designated the letter or package may be sent by the clerk as registered mail which is not specially delivered.
