Our Candidates.

At the head of this column this week, the Northwestern presents for your consideration the republican state, judicial, county and supervisor ticket. You cannot better it by voting instead for the ticket of any other party, and the Northwestern asks your careful consideration of the merits of our party candidates before exercising your franchise on the 5th day of November.

In the republican candidate for supreme judge, you have one of the brightest legal minds of the state, an honest, clean man in every particular, and well worthy the support of every voter in the state, regardless of political affiliation. No word we can utter could add to the well known reputation of M. B. Reese as man or jurist, nor any word of political opponents detract from the brilliant record he has made at the bar or on the bench.

Messrs. C. B. Anderson and Geo. Coupland for regents of the State University are both men with splendid reputations and will prove an honor to the party and men who honor them with their votes.

For the office of railway commissioner, Henry T. Clarke will succeed himself in the office. Mr. Clarke has proven a good, strong man for the place and will, as he should, be retained for the coming term.

For judge of the 12th judicial district, Bruno O. Hostetler, our brainy judge, who is serving his first term, seems to have a walk away, and well he should, for he has made a reputation as one of the best judges of any district in the state, and so well he is known and liked that the opposition failed to select any opponent to him at the late primaries. It is not necessary to say one word in commendation of him—his record speaks in glowing terms in his favor and he will be returned to the bench with practically no opposition, as should be the case.

Thos. R. Lay, who heads the county ticket for clerk of the court and county matters, is a young man of bright attainments and will make a competent and thoroughly efficient officer in that department of county affairs. In business he has always been alert and active and has commanded the highest appreciation of his employers and the public with whom he has come in contact, and will carry with him into the clerk's office a well-equipped mentality, strong, vigorous constitution and a competent and well-defined knowledge of the duties before him. He is a safe man for the place.

For county treasurer, you could search the county over and not find a better man for that most important office than our candidate, D. C. Grow. With his intimate knowledge of county affairs, gained from years' experience as supervisor of this district, and from his long years of residence in Sherman county and perfect knowledge of nearly every foot of soil in the county, as well as an acquaintance with every man, woman, boy and girl and fact of interest to our people, coupled with a brain capable of taking in every detail of the treasurer's office as easily and familiarly as the average school boy can on the multiplication table, D. C. Grow is just the man to be at the head of the county's finances. Honest, intelligent, capable, wise, and with all the attributes one could ask in an official, it is only a wonder that he could not have been persuaded years since to take the place now asked for him by the republican party, and not alone by them but a very large number of voters of other faith. That D. C. Grow will be the next treasurer of Sherman county we fully believe and that he will prove one of the best ever in that office in this county every one will be willing to admit.

It is utterly useless for us to urge the election of Uncle Lou Williams to the sheriff's office, as we would be talking only to those who feel as we do and will vote for his retention in the office he has so faithfully filled. We know of nothing surer than that L. A. Williams will be returned to the sheriff's office by the largest majority ever given to any candidate, even adding to the way-up majority he received two years ago, which was considered almost out of sight. He has practically no opposition.

The voters can do no better than to elect M. H. Mead as superintendent of Sherman county schools. During the past two years he has worked indefatigably for the upbuilding of our school system and has lost no opportunity for their betterment in every particular. He knows every detail of the work even to the finest minutia, is alive to their needs, watches their advancement and has an ever watchful care over all. Mr. Mead is an especially well equipped man for school interests. He has made it a life study, is a man of splendid educational qualifications, and is the best adapted to carry on the educational work of any man in Sherman county. That we believe he will be re-elected, goes without saying, as the voters of this county want the best at the head of their school system, and there lives not a man in the county today, who is possessed of a knowledge of educational affairs, but will acknowledge to himself, even if he withholds that belief from others, that M. H. Mead is by far the best man in the county to have at the head of our schools, from an educational and business standpoint. Vote for the best interests of our schools by re-electing M. H. Mead as county superintendent of schools.

As coroner, Dr. A. S. Main has no opposition, and if he had, would be elected anyway, for the people know when they have a good thing and will undoubtedly keep the doctor in that position as long as he will consent to preside over the deliberations attendant on that office.

What we said last week in regard to the republican candidate for county assessor, our old soldier friend, Lewis Bechthold, goes this week, next week and forever. Mr. Bechthold, with his six years' experience as assessor of this township, is well equipped for the duties devolving upon the county assessor and if elected, as there seems to be little or no doubt, will prove a most efficient servant of the people in that capacity.

Three members of the board of supervisors are to be elected in this county this fall—in the second, fourth and sixth supervisor districts. H. B. Musser is the republican candidate in the second and is an extensive farmer and cattleman, and with his well known business qualifications will prove a valuable man on the board. W. T. Gilson, the well known bridge contractor, is the republican candidate in the fourth supervisor district and is well qualified by past experience in county affairs to be on the board. A strong light is on over that office, as J. I. Depew, a strong man and also a republican, has been put up by petition for supervisor in the same district, by republicans, populists and democrats, who are dissatisfied with the regular nominee. In the sixth supervisor district, Wm. Jacobs, a former member of the board, is the regular nominee and we understand will also have opposition by petition, though as to that we have only rumor.

Chancellor Andrews of the State University, one E. Benjamin, who is an apologist for such men as Rockefeller, Harriman, Hill and men of that ilk, and who would place men in the penitentiary according to his preconceived ideas in favor of trusts, combines, etc., should they by any means fail to look favorably upon corporate wealth and multi-millionaire robbers, adds to his brilliant record by predicting that Taft, should he be nominated by the republicans, would be defeated by Bryan, whom he assures a confident public will be the democratic nominee for the presidency and says the east is against Taft, who he says is only boosted by Roosevelt to forward the president's waning ideas of reform. E. Benjamin says the east, (and we suppose he means the wealthy robber portion, of which he seems to be spokesman) wants Governor Hughes of New York for president, whom he eulogizes to the sky as a patriot, naming the one great thing Hughes has done, namely, veto the 2-cent law in that state.

E. Benjamin, it must be remembered, is a democrat. He may be a wonderfully accomplished educator, but his ideas of wealth, corporate interests, trusts, combines and hero-worship of money interests make him a dangerous man to place at the head of Nebraska's greatest educational institution.

We ask our readers to carefully note the legal in this week's paper in regard to a bond levy. At the coming election the voters will be asked to vote for or against a ten-mill levy for 1908, 1909 and 1910 to pay off the bonded indebtedness on the county of $74,900, which becomes due in 1910. Read the notice carefully and be prepared to vote your sentiments made after mature deliberation.

BRAND NEW THEATRE TALK NO. 1.

EUGENE MOORE WHO WILL APPEAR in the city in the near future in the delicious comedy drama, "My Boy, Jack," is a sterling representative of the actors of the old school—a school in which the mania for starrng did not exist and WHERE A PLAYER BUILDS UP A GREAT REPERTORY OF CLASSIC PARTS, and so in the course of years became qualified to interpret any role that suited his age. THESE ACTORS KNEW VERY LITTLE ABOUT PUBLICITY of the kind in which people of the stage now bask, and know more about the art of acting than most of the flatter-budgeds now conspicuous on the bill-boards ever will know, BUT STELLAR EXPLOITATION WAS NEVER A GOAL THEY STRUGGLED FOR, they were too busy acting, occupied with the task of differentiating the hundreds of parts they played and with making each one a definite, solid, enduring study of human nature. MOST OF THEM GO ON FROM YEAR TO YEAR SERVING THEIR PUBLIC CONSCIENTIOUSLY and delighting by their finished art the judicious observers in the play-going body.

LISTEN TO THIS!

A STRANGE EVENT IN THE LIFE OF A BEAUTIFUL OPERA SINGER, Marguerite Otto, is the secret on which is hinged the outcome of the play, "My Boy, Jack," by Edwin Milton Royle, author of "The Squaw Man." THE STORY IS WONDERFULLY WELL TOLD IN THE DRAMA and there is so much irresistible, genuine, wholesome humor that critics have a tendency to speak of the play as a comedy. THE STAR PART PARTAKES OF THIS FINE MIXTURE OF SERIOUSNESS AND WIT AND HUMOR. Eugene Moore, who is the star of the company, is one of the few leading men in the country who is exactly suited and completely prepared by unlimited experience to play such an admirable and difficult role. The part of Marje, the poor young composer, is another role that rises to distinction in the author's hands. IT IS THE SORT OF PLAY MOST PEOPLE LIKE TO SEE. It is healthy and awakens sympathy for people we all admire. It is the sort of play that demands good acting, and it gets that same thing with this company. We'll be mighty glad to see you at the theatre and renew old acquaintances.

spring. He has bought a farm there. A Busy B social will be given at the home of Jas. Bone, Friday evening, Oct. 24th. Everybody come. Henry Appel thrashed Thursday. Frank Zwick's machine did the job. Mrs. G. W. Hagar and son, Ross, came home on Oct. 12th after several weeks' visit in the east part of the state.

Adam Zahn took another four-horse load of wheat to Loup City Thursday last. Joe Johnson, a brother from Illinois is visiting him this week. John Warrick put windows in his hog house. There is nothing too good for the hogs now at present prices. Clauss Olson and family drove over from St. Paul to visit John Olson and family Sunday.

G. A. Curry was out to see his brother, Marion Curry, on Clear Creek who has been very sick, but is better now. Maud Baker visited at E. F. Davenport's last week. Skip Baker's little girl is visiting at E. F. Davenport's this week.

F. E. Odendahl and wife took a drive out on the mall route Sunday. Walt Fletcher has rented a farm up on the south edge of Valley county. H. S. Conger and family and Mrs. A. T. Conger took dinner Sunday at the home of Romeo Conger. Joe Kowalewski and family and R. Johns and family attended a Polish wedding at Ashton Tuesday.

D. C. Leach took a big load of wheat to market Monday. A. Youngland and family from Polk county were here visiting S. Youngland last week. S. Youngland and family visited at L. Johnson's Friday. Another new house going up on R. F. D. No. 1, on the farm of Mr. Heapy, rented by Joe Krouse. Andy Coppersmith lost the fine colt that was hurt in the pasture Monday. Burt Johnson and wife and father and mother were taking in the sights at Loup City Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Arndt have moved on the farm with L. B. Foelt this week. W. B. Reynolds says it was a mistake that he was shingling a barn last week, and says that he did not have to work for his health. Mrs. Andy Coppersmith was on the sick list last week, but is feeling better now. The Ravens Creamery Co. are making some improvements in their creamery which will be appreciated by all. E. A. Brown and family spent Sunday at the home of W. O. Brown. A. L. Enderlee took dinner with F. A. Pinckney's Sunday.

S. Fross is building a new corn crib this week. Alfalfa never looked finer than it does now when everything else is dried up by the frosts. Mr. and Mrs. Leach of Oakdale, Neb. drove across the country to visit their son and family. They got there after dark on the 3rd day and took D. C. by surprise. When several miles from their destination they telephoned that it was too dark to find the way without an escort, so D. C. went to meet them. Be sure and attend the Busy Bee gathering at Jas. Bone's Oct. 25th. On Wednesday, Oct. 16th, a quilting party was held at the home of John Douglas by neighbors after which luncheon was served. You don't have to go down to the Panama canal to see the dirt fly, but just go west on the mall route.
