The first game of football for the season here will be this week Saturday afternoon at the ball park, between the high school boys of Ravenna and Loup City. The game will be called at 2:30, and a small admittance fee will be charged to pay the expenses of same. You should encourage the boys by your attendance.

Dr. W. L. Marcy left week last for contract to Messrs. Radcliffe and Syas for his new residence, north of the W. F. Mason home. It will be two-story, 24x36, with 16-foot posts, bell-shaped roof, and according to the plans and specifications will be one of the handsomest residences in Loup City. Work is now rapidly progressing on the same.

A letter from Miss Pearl Keeler at Columbia Station, Wash., states that her father and mother are now visiting in Oregon and that her mother does not seem to improve in health and the doctors are not able to do much for him. The many friends of Mr. Keeler here will regret the unfavorable report as to his condition. Miss Keeler sends her best regards to all inquiring friends here.

J. A. Converse came over from Gibson on business last Friday and remained several days. He informed us that Mrs. Converse was much more seriously hurt in the accident at Gibson, of which we made mention last week, than was gleaned from the Gibson Reporter, and suffers severely with her right arm, internally. It is to be hoped she will soon recover her usual health.

Alice, the four-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Goodwin, who died here last Friday, after a lingering illness, was taken to Grand Island the following day for burial. The heartbroken family have the sympathy of all in their saddest hours. The family wish us to express their heartfelt thanks to the kind friends who did so much by their aid and sympathy in the fatal illness and subsequent death of their dear one.

Judge and Mrs. J. A. Angier, accompanied by Mr. Ed Angier, left yesterday morning for Genoa, Ark., Ed going along to assist in looking after the welfare of the judge on the journey. We trust a winter's sojourn in that southern climate will prove beneficial to Mr. Angier's failing health. A farewell party was given the judge and wife last Friday evening by a few intimate friends and relatives.

Did you ever notice that tobacco is always clean? If a man drops a piece of meat, no matter how clean the floor may be, he will either give it a kick or pick it up and lay it to one side. He will never eat it. But let him drop his plug of tobacco on the ground and no difference how dirty the spot where it fell, he will pick it up and give it a careless swipe on his coat sleeve or on the bosom of his pants and then take a chew with greater relish than ever before.

Newt Vance took in the Ak-Sar-Ben festival at Omaha Tuesday evening. He heard our next president, Wm. H. Taft, at the Auditorium, 10,000 people being crowded into the building and thousands being unable to gain entrance, and he was fortunate not only in being able to get into the auditorium but also in getting a seat within a few feet of President Taft while he was delivering his speech. He was most favorably impressed with the big man.

The Society Editor sat in a large theatre a few nights ago and saw a famous actress. But he saw more than that, or her—he saw the theatre filled with women. The proportion of women to men was as great as ten to one. The disproportion was as striking as at the usual religious services. And the question is, why? where are the men? More and more the men and women are refusing to mix in a social way. The women are filling the churches and the theatres and the lecture halls and indulging in receptions, pink teas and Kensingtons. The men—just where are they? "Father, dear father, come home with me now, the clock in the steeple strikes 10." They are at the ball game, the golf links, the club room or on the job.

Is it because the women are crowding into the avenues of trade and into the professions? Can the women tell? This being Leap Year maybe they will give answer.—Fremont Tribune.
