Sunday, better known as "Billy" Sunday, a former baseball player, who is now an evangelist, was horsewhipped Friday night by a religious fanatic at the Sunday tabernacle where, in the presence of 8,000 persons, he was conducting the opening meeting of a religious revival meeting.

The evangelist had just made his opening remarks and was leaning against the pulpit on an elevated platform while a hymn was sung by Fischer and Butler, his choir leaders, and Miss Edith Anderson, a soprano of Springfield, when a powerful man, who said his name was Sherman Potts, sprang forward with a buggy whip and struck Mr. Sunday several terrific

Sunday leaped from the platform and dashed at his assailant, whom he knocked down in the center aisle. The audience was on the verge of a panic, with women weeping and children screaming, while Potts and Sunday rolled and tumbled in the aisle.

Mr. Sunday said he suffered several painful bruises from the buggy whip. The prisoner said that his home was one mile east of Lovington, Ill. According to his statements at the jail, he was once declared insane and committed to the Jacksonville asylum, whence, after a brief confinement, he was released as cured. He said he came to Springfield from Decatur to horsewhip Sunday, that he had purchased a whip in Springfield and went to the tabernacle early.

He made the attack, he said, in defense of the virtue of women whom he evangelist. The police say Potts is a religious fanatic.
