Loup City Mercantile Co.

If you want a dray in a hurry and get quick work, see Stewart Conger.

A. M. Lewis of Aurora was here Tuesday looking after his farming interests south of town.

G. H. Lindall of Kearney was in the city Tuesday on business and visiting his many friends.

W. R. Mellor was up from Lincoln over Tuesday to attend the big pure-bred Poland China hog sale.

Mrs. Ida Lambert left Monday morning for St. Joe, Mo., after a fine order of up-to-date millinery. Watch for her announcement at an early date.

Ben Pageler concluded he could not keep house and be supremely happy without the Northwestern, hence it becomes a regular intellectual diet in his home.

The David Cole Creamery Co. of Omaha has its local headquarters with Woznick & Son, paying 25c cash for butter fat and testing same while you wait.

Miss Ella Taylor has resigned her position at Conhiser's. This leaves Mr. and Mrs. Pageler in entire charge of the clerical force and they will be a good team, too.

O. E. Adams, cashier of the First National bank, starts home life in Loup City right by adding the Northwestern as one of the indispensable necessities of the household.

Mrs. E. A. Brown and Miss Flora Brown went to Lincoln last Friday to remain over Sunday and see that E. A. and Arthur were handling legislative matters correctly.

O. Benschoter also adds his name to the Northwestern list this week to become among those made happy. It seems good to see Lan with us as a permanent fixture once more.

Wm. Larsen of the Mercantile returned from his goods buying trip to St. Louis, Friday night, where he purchased a much larger and more up-to-date stock than ever before.

Henry Dolling and son, Amil, came up from Grand Island Monday evening last, returning this morning. He has sold his property in that city and will either buy a farm in Buffalo or this county. We hope Henry may conclude to return here.

W. F. Mason and family and W. D. Zimmermau will leave in a few days for Oklahoma, where Messrs. Mason and Zimmermau will engage in the real estate and loan business. The boys have promised to give the Northwestern particulars regarding their new home and new venture, but up to this date have not done so, hence we are only able to give the bare announcement. They expect to leave for the southland about the 10th or 12th, as we understand.

Jenner's Park is in possession of a fine specimen of a falcon, which was shot and slightly wounded Saturday by Alfred Minshull and presented to Harry Jenner for his park aviary.

We are glad to note the continued improvement in the condition of Pastor James of the Baptist church, and to assure our people that all symptoms point to his early recovery.

A. C. Ogle, another one of those prince of good fellows, adds his name to our list of readers. The Northwestern is proud of its growing list, comprising the best in Sherman county.

The two-weeks-old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Rubert Kowalewski, living just east of Loup City, died Sunday last and the funeral took place from St. Francis church in this city Monday morning.

W. C. Foster and family of Washington township moved to Mason City last Monday to make their future home. Their many friends in Loup City and Sherman county will regret losing them from our midst.

Latest reports from the bedside of Judge Angier at Salome Springs, Ark., is to the effect that he is gaining in health with good prospects for restoration to health, which will be hailed with pleasure by all our people.

The Northwestern is glad to note that its junior editor is thriving and doing well and is pleased over the receipt of numerous telegrams, letters and messages of congratulation from friends here and from a distance over his arrival at the editorial home.

H. A. Woody last Saturday sold at public auction the contents of his Little Boston store and is getting ready to again become an active granger man and take charge of his farm near Rockville. Of course, Art will hereafter read the Northwestern, so as to be in touch with all the news.

Will A. Odendahl came home last Saturday from his new home at Cortez, Colo., where he has purchased an interest in a local paper there, and returned Tuesday morning of this week. Mr. Odendahl accompanying him. May they have happiness and prosperity in their new location.

The County Convention of the W. C. T. U. will be held at the Baptist church, Loup City, Neb., March 12, 13 and 14, to begin Friday evening and closing Sunday afternoon. The program Saturday afternoon and evening will be of special interest. Entertainment will be provided for delegates.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Johnson went to Loup City the latter part of last week. They will reside on the farm owned by Mr. Johnson's mother and will be eleven miles from Dwight Jacoby. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson have lived in Hamilton county nearly all their lives and their departure will be regretted by hosts of friends.—Aurora Republican.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Farmers' Elevator Co. of Loup City, Neb., last Saturday, all the officers were re-elected except the treasurer, Clarence Bart being elected to that position. The manager's report showed that he had purchased practically 69,000 bushels of grain and that after paying all expenses, including the building of a corn-crib, the association would have $100 to its credit.

Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Wilson arrived in Loup City last Monday from their extended eastern visit. They were accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. J. E. Paige of Morrill, who joined them at Rockville, where all visited a short time with their daughter and sister, Mrs. L. H. Currier and the new baby. They will rest a few days at their home near Ashton and then go to Ord to visit a daughter and family and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson have not fully decided as yet whether they will remain at home for a time or go to the Pacific Coast for a further trip.

Judge Moon returned from the west part of the state yesterday, where he has been looking after his homestead for the past few weeks.

Burt McKinnie and Roy Leach went to the sandhills near Burwell yesterday to hunt ducks and stich for a few days. Burt swears—no, not swears, but avers, that he has a hundred rounds of ammunition with which he expects to get a bird at each shot and will give the Northwestern a goodly supply on his return home. As Burt is a descendant of George Washington and his hatchet in principles of veracity, we are getting ready for the feast.

The jolly, good-natured and handsome countenance of Geo. E. Benschoter drifted into Loup City Monday of this week, from his big cattle ranch near Schill, Neb., and will visit around and attend to business matters for a couple of weeks. George has grown fat and plutocratic since he sold the Northwestern to us five years since and developed into a cattle baron and acknowledged cow-punching has the newspaper business beaten hands down. We are glad to know this particular ex-newspaper man has made good and is prosperous and happy.

The postponed Poland China brood sow sale of Johansen, Mellor & Johnson was held at the Johansen farm Tuesday of this week, was fair but did not bring the prices that were wished for, the average being $22.50 on their pure-bred hogs. The fact of the infernal weather on the regular sale day, the postponement to so early a date as to make thorough advertising impossible and the absence of buyers from a distance who would have been here as good purchasers had the sale not been put off, are mainly responsible for the unsatisfactory result. However, the boys are nery and not in the least discouraged, not being made up of that kind of weak material, and will keep right on raising the best Poland China stuff in this section and make good in the future for the bad of the sale. We will publish a list of the sale purchases and purchasers next week.

Millinery Opening

I will have on display copies of the new Gage and Regina bonnets. Never before have I had such a complete line of up-to-date hats as will be shown at my opening, Friday and Saturday, March 12 and 13. The hats will charm you, I am sure, and would like very much to have you present.

HATTIE FROELICH.
