Deliver Your Own Cream

A long experience has convinced us that we receive the best cream and have the most satisfactory deal with our patrons when the patron delivers his own cream direct to the Creamery. Therefore, and as a matter of justice to the patron who will so deliver his cream, we have decided to pay two cents per pound of butter-fat extra to compensate the patron for this extra labor required, beginning May 1st, 1909.

Wedding Bells

This morning (May 6th, 1909) at the hour of 6 o'clock, occurred a quiet little wedding at the Presbyterian church, Mr. Carl T. McKinnie and Miss Winnifred L. Leach being united in the bonds of wedlock, the Rev. D. W. Montgomery, pastor of the church officiating, and only the immediate families of the contracting parties being present, followed by a wedding breakfast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Musser, after which Mr. McKinnie and his bride took the U. P. train on a bridal tour to Los Angeles, where they will visit an uncle of the groom and spend a month or longer in Sunny Southern California. Mr. McKinnie is one of the most influential and respected farmers of Sherman county, coming here some five years' since, and with his brother, B. P. McKinnie, purchasing a fine ranch which they recently sold at a greatly enhanced figure and will probably later make their home in Southern California. Mr. McKinnie was for years, previous to coming to Sherman county, a representative of the Simmons Hardware Co., of St. Louis, and later with the Stanley Works of New Britain, Conn. He has been prominent in republican party councils here and considered one of its leading representatives, and counts his friends by the number of acquaintances he has made, who with one accord will congratulate him on his acquisition to the ranks of hymens. Mrs. McKinnie is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Leach of Elm township, a former student of our high school, later a graduate of the schools at Oakdale, last year graduating from the Kearney State Normal, and has since been teaching in our county schools, proving a most efficient instructor, and has a host of friends. She will prove to her husband what she has to her fond parents, a joy and comfort and splendid home-maker. The Northwestern, with all our people, will wish for Carl and his fair bride, happiness and prosperity and a long journey through life together.

Last week Thursday, while coming to town with a load of hogs, Chris Zwink sustained severe injuries, resulting in a broken arm, and cuts about the head and face. When about two miles west of town and in going down a hill, he leaned over to put on the brake, when the seat tipped, throwing him to the ground from the double decked wagon box, the seat coming down on top of him, cutting a gash two or three inches long in the back of the head, making a bad abrasion over the right eye, and breaking his right arm between the wrist and elbow. To add to his ill luck the team ran away, but Chris injured as he was, ran after and stopped them without damage. He came on into town and Dr. Longacre set the arm, sewed up the cuts, after which he phoned to his boys, who came in and took him home. He was in town again Monday and had his wounds attended to and is bearing his injuries with unusual grit and is getting along as well as circumstances will admit.
Mr. Edward Larsen and Miss Florence Johns were united in marriage Wednesday evening, April 28, 1909, at the beautiful country home of the bride, ten miles from Aurora, in the presence of about fifty relatives and friends. Rev. Serf performed the rites after which a reception was held. The rooms were decorated with pink and white carnations and a six-course luncheon was served to the guests by young friends of the bride. The young couple received several good-sized checks, also numerous pieces of cut-glass, silver, china and fine linen, besides many pieces of furniture. The out-of-town guests were Wm. Larsen and wife from Loup City and eight of the bride's college chums from Lincoln.
At the request of a prominent horseman some three weeks ago, the Northwestern re-printed the new stallion law passed by the recent legislature. To show his appreciation of the favor, he went to one of the other papers and got his horse bills printed, and furthermore is not a reader of the Northwestern. This, by the way, was the only county paper that gave the law in its columns.
Hans M. Johnson, formerly from Denver, and who recently purchased the Holycross place in Washington township, is making fine improvements on the same, building a new barn and outbuildings, raising and adding to the house and making the old place to blossom as the rose. He is proving to be one of the most enterprising newcomers to Sherman county.
County Treasurer Todd and wife of Burwell were here last week on a few days' visit with his sisters, the Messdames Henry and Syas, and families. He was formerly editor of the Tribune in that city, and as editor or treasurer has made good in each capacity. He is the tallest treasurer in the state—4 feet 4 1/2 inches—and a jolly good fellow.
Want ads pay in this paper. Mrs. E. C. Dyer advertised thoroughbred Plymouth Rock eggs for settings the past few weeks and satisfactory results causes her to advertise for a term longer. The Want column is cheap and will pay you well.
Willma, the 13-year-old daughter of S. Foss of Webster township, has been quite ill the past two weeks. She was first taken with the mumps, which later developed into a lingering fever, from which she is recovering nicely at present.
Mrs. James Johansen has been quite ill the past few days with a threatened attack of typhoid fever, but is some better today.

The Implement Man

Remember Sunday is "Mother's Day" at the Presbyterian church.
Mrs. Ashley Conger and children returned the first of the week from their Iowa visit.
Miss Rose Mulick returned home Saturday evening from her extended visit at Grand Island.
Miss Henry Young took her mother to Grand Island Tuesday morning to enter a hospital there for treatment.
The city council Tuesday granted saloon licenses to M. C. Mulick, Wm. Graefe and Ernie Milburn who bought out T. H. Elsner.
John R. Butcher and Miss Cleo B. Huffman of Milburn, were married yesterday at the Hotel Wharton, Rev. J. O. Hawk officiating.
Reuben Norseen returned home to Aurora Monday, after a few days' visit here with his sister, Mrs. Elmer Youngquest, and family.
Those interested are reminded not to forget the Brotherhood banquet tomorrow (Friday) night, in the Presbyterian church parlors.
The Mahara Minstrels, who will be at Pilger's opera house, Wednesday May 12th, are the best bunch of coons that ever visited Nebraska. Don't fail to see them.
J. S. Pedler, Mrs. Pedler Mrs. R. L. Arthur and Mrs. A. S. Main went to Lincoln Tuesday morning to attend the sessions of the Grand Chapter Order Eastern Stars.
Frank Osantowski is a new reader added to the Northwestern's list last Friday. He is one of the reliable number of good workmen at Ohlsen Bros. brick making plant.
Ward Ver Valin suffered with a case of blood poisoning between the thumb and fore finger on his left hand the first of the week, but it is on the mend now. Ward is a veritable modern job of late.
The young sons of O. F. Petersen are now mourning the loss of a fine new tent. While the youngest boy was playing in the same Wednesday forenoon he found some matches and the tent was entirely consumed.
On May 6th, at the home of her father in Davenport, Iowa, occurred the marriage of Miss Blanche Lalk, Miss Lalk was born in Loup City and is the daughter of Wm. Lalk and will be remembered with pleasure by the older settlers.
District No. 14, Moon school, Miss Lula Lee teacher, invites you to attend a box social at their school Wednesday evening, May 12, proceeds for benefit of school. A program will be rendered by the pupils and young people of the district, commencing at 8:30 p. m.
Another change in the pool hall north of the Northwestern office. C. O. Wagoner, who has been running the same for some months, turns it over to the proprietor, W. W. Morsman, who comes up from Grand Island next Monday and resumes control of its destinies.
While Gus Younglund and Clyde Arnett were hauling hay a few days since, the load overturned, throwing the boys with much force to the ground, bruising them badly and dislocating a shoulder blade for Mr. Arnett. However, both are getting along nicely. You cannot down a pair of all right boys.
Will Engle moved to town Monday into the Snyder property in the east part of town. Will celebrated the event by a wiry sprint after his milk dispensary, which seemed to object to her new surroundings and acted homesick for the old associations. Will came out ahead and she will have to take her medicine till it tastes good.
Boyd Burrows, Loup City's own theatrical orator, came in from Omaha Friday evening, with his good wife for a few weeks' rest, while Boyd gets his summer show tent in shape and a new company secured for the summer season. Boyd looks well, feels fine as a fiddle and has met with good success the past season, all of which will be pleasing to our people as a unit, who think Boyd is about the proper caper and always hail his good fortune as in part their own.

Presbyterian Bulletin
Next Sunday is "Mother's Day." We are planning appropriate services for the morning and afternoon. At 10:30 the pastor will preach on "Some Ancient and Modern Mothers." At 3:30 p. m. the Brotherhood meeting will have a short program followed by a business meeting. The following has been planned in connection with this service: Violin solo, Delmar Draper; "The Mother's Influence as Compared With the Father's" Ira E. Williams; "The Mother's Relation to the Schools," Prof. James O'Connell; "Reminiscences of Mother," members of the Brotherhood.
At 8 p. m. the pastor will try to answer the question, "What is meant by, He descended into hell, as found in the Apostles' Creed?"
The high school here gave a banquet last Friday evening in Society hall to the young people from Ravenna—35 in number—who came over to attend the Loup City-Ravenna debate.
A letter from Carsten Truelsen at Deeth, Nevada, under date of May 1st, containing a renewal of his subscription to the Northwestern, says, "We are in the best of health and have been ever since we came here. We like the country fine." Carsten is head over heels in work, but promises he will shortly write the Northwestern that promised letter descriptive of that country, etc.
Mahara's Minstrels, a colored troupe of 25 people traveling with their special railroad car, will be in on the Burlington railroad Wednesday, May 12, and show at Pilger's Opera House. The troupe carries an excellent band and orchestra, and the vocal and instrumental music is fine. The performance is excellent and mirth-provoking throughout. The minstrel's have an excellent reputation, which they ably sustain.
The Corn Elevator which has been under the management of Carl Carlson, since the death of Axel Carlson, several months ago, has been sold to E. G. Taylor of Loup City, who already owns a string of elevators in this part of the state. Charlie Petersen, a former resident of Dannebrog, but who has been at Loup City for some time will be the local manager.
—Dannebrog News.

The first trip of the Lincoln baseball team away from home covers twelve days. The Greenbackers appear for three engagements each in the towns of Topeka, Wichita, Pueblo and Denver. They will then get back home in time to open with Pueblo on May 12th. Some bigdoings are scheduled to come off in the capital city. The new grass infield will be in fine condition by that time and Governor Shallenberger will pitch the first ball.
Carrier Foster of No. 1, has several thanks coming to patrons of the route. Several of the boxes have been moved to more convenient locations, grades fixed and made easier, hot coffee on the route, Haddix working the roads, etc. He reports the farmers working in the fields like Trojans, and everybody busy as bees. He has fixed up a Bogardus kicker and given himself the first castigation for getting the Blaschke mail mixed the other day, giving Joe's to John, and John's to Joe, which same made him fast for a season outside of Lent. By the way, Fred is pestered by friends to know what about the bunch of trees he was carrying overhead the other day, when the weather did not show need of shade? But if Fred will not tell; we won't.
