The railroads of the state have agreed on a 3-cent round trip fare to the State Fair, Lincoln, Sept. 6-10.

A letter received by one of our people from a sister at Central City says the scourge of spinal meningitis is causing a great many deaths in and about that city.

Our eyesight may have been defective, but in reading over the list of chairmanships of the lower house of congress we cannot find a Nebraska member so honored. Uncle Joe Cannon has evidently put the whole membership under the ban of his displeasure and put all under the head of insurgents. But then, Uncle Joe cannot last always.

The Northwestern is in receipt of letters from various candidates for the supreme judgeship asking its support for them with the well known stock phrase, "Your support will be appreciated," but when it comes to compensation they grease the wheels of the big papers and let us little fellows slide along on "Thanks." "Thanks" will not pay our newspaper bills, thanks.

The big papers of the state are just at present filled with paid write-ups of the men who aspire to the supreme judgeship. This is a product of the primary law. But where do the little fellows of the newspaper persuasion who helped foist this fake primary law come in for their share of the dough? They hold the sack and the bigger papers get the boodle. 'Rah for the primary system.

Oh yes, this primary ballot is a good thing for the newspapers—the big ones, we mean. For instance, Judge Hamer is having two to three columns of paid stuff in his laudation in the Lincoln Journal, News and Star, Omaha Bee, Kearney Hub, Fremont Tribune, Kearney Hub and other of the bigger papers, but the little fellows, who have been howling about the primary giving the newspapers the wonderful power heretofore exercised by the conventions, where are they? They have been simply the tools of the big fellows who reap the benefits. Fugh!

Once more the east gets the better of it. In the list of committees appointed for the sixty-first congress, announced by Speaker Cannon in the closing hours of the extra session, it is observed that the states west of the Mississippi river get only thirteen chairmanships out of a total of sixty-two.

To become the chairman of a committee of the house is the principal yearning of every member. The chairmanship of even a small committee adds something to a member's prestige. The leadership of a big committee invests him with great power. In many cases he can make or break a bill, and the men who must look to committees for favorable reports need the good will of the chairman.

In the new list of committees Pennsylvania hold eleven chairmanships, New York and Illinois seven each, Massachusetts six, New Jersey and Kansas four each, Michigan and Connecticut three each, Minnesota, New Hampshire, Iowa and West Virginia two each; Wyoming, South Dakota, Wisconsin, Missouri, Kentucky, Maryland, Oklahoma, Vermont and Indiana one each.

New England having only twenty-eight members of the house, has twelve chairmanships, while the Pacific coast with twelve members, has none. The south has three chairmen and, as stated, the great region west of the Mississippi river only thirteen.

Both the members from New Hampshire and the single member from Wyoming are chairmen. Three of the four from Connecticut and four of the ten from New Jersey are at the head of committees.

Spinal Meningitis at Arcadia

Arcadia is the latest location in which the epidemic has broken out which has been generally diagnosed as spinal meningitis. State Health Inspector Wilson returned from Arcadia Saturday. He says that the victims there present the same symptoms as those presented near Stromsburg and York, which were undoubtedly cases of spinal meningitis.

This was the diagnosis of the health inspector to start with. It has been confirmed from two independent sources, Dr. Anderson of Stromsburg sending some of the spinal fluid of one victim to Omaha, where a bacteriologist found the diplococcus intracellularis, the specific bacillus of spinal meningitis, while Dr. Heidler of York examined another culture with similar positive results.

In the communities where the disease is oldest many cases are reported on the way to recovery. The death rate has been unusually low. Spinal meningitis is usually of a malignant type. The mildness of a great majority of the attacks is one of the many strange features of the epidemic.—Lincoln Star, Aug. 10th.

Has anybody found out who forged Bill's name? Don't let his name be forgotten.

Judge Sutton of Omaha, Tuesday, declared the 8 o'clock closing law constitutional.

The Northwestern editor is just now enjoying the doubtful honor ascribed to it by Bill's owner of writing the Times' editorials. Wonder how he found it out? And is he judging as he would be judged.

On Tuesday of this week in New York City, in the hospitals and founding asylums of that city, forty babies succumbed to the torrid heat, the greatest mortality of infants ever chronicled for one day in that great mart.

The Iowa Pythians are split in twain, according to telegraphic reports, the grand lodge of Knights of Pythias in session at Sioux City being seriously divided over the selection of a grand chancellor. Too bad; no two men are worth such serious concern.

Will Thaw have to return to the Matteawan asylum for the criminal insane for having snuffed out the worthless life of White, the girl debaucher, or will he go scot free? The case is now ended and the magistrate's decision is awaited. What a pity White did not do unto Thaw as Thaw did it unto him, and do it—at the same time.

Just now Mayor Jim Danlman has another fire-eating madness over him and dares Gov. Shallenberger to oust him and the Omaha fire and police board, as the governor is currently reported as ready to do. What would become of Omaha's hairless mayor should he be dropped out of the limelight of publicity? Tom Dennison made a great find in Hairless Jim.

The weather man on Tuesday of this week promised that the torrid weather of the past number of days in the eastern, middle and western states would be superseded by a cold wave during the next 24 hours. The stated time is up and the weather man is proven a prevaricator. (This is written Wednesday afternoon when as you know it was hotter than—it had been before.)

Last week, while Gov. Shallenberger was gravitating around doing chautauqua oratorical stunts, a pick-pocket relieved him of the paltry sum of $130, and now some sympathizing friend sends him the right hind foot of a graveyard rabbit as a charm and sure-enough fetish, that will paralyze any second attempt of that kind of gentry which relieved the governor of his insignificant pocket change.

Give Your Dog More Water.
 Fully one-half of canine misery comes from lack of drinking water. The agony of thirst frays dog temper to the vicious point, and impatient animals are much like cross humanity, ready to resent an act or look.

Thoughtful families leave basins of fresh water where stray animals can find it, but they are not many, and they will never do as much good as running water in places where it can be reached at will. Dog lovers are many, but they do not always give due attention to the animals which more than repay their kindness and affection. Let us make a New Year's resolution to use our influence to establish a few sensible preventives of mad dog scares, chief of which is plenty of fresh water for all animals.

Where They Came From.
 It is surprising from whence came the most common articles of food. The onion, the leek, garlic and pea were favorites in Egypt; rye and barley in Siberia; the citron and currants in Greece, and radishes hail from China and Japan.

The horsechestnut is a native of Thibet. "The Forbidden Land;" and the mulberry tree, walnut and peach traveled westward from Persia. Very few consider that oats originated in North Africa at a time when Egypt was the granary of the world.

The chestnut came from Italy, celery from Germany, spinach from Arabia, the sunflower from Peru and cucumbers from India. Tobacco is a native of Virginia.

Papers Must Be Paid For

The first real effort to put in force the department ruling relating to sending papers to delinquents was made within the past week at Council Bluffs. There was an order issued to show up the lists and accounts to the local post office authorities.

More than a year ago a ruling of the department was made fixing the length of time that a paper can be in arrears for subscription and still be mailed at pound rates. The time for weekly papers is one year. Reasonable time was given when the order was made so that the newspapers might have time to get things on a basis. That has been practically a year and a half ago and that is looked upon by the government as time sufficient.—Woodbine (Iowa) Twiner.

Between Two Thorns.
 Rosenbaum had a store between Smith's and Brown's, and all three sold clothing except Rosenbaum, who only tried to. Smith and Brown were often hilarious together over their neighbor's lack of business ability. After the three stores had been visited by a very cautious fire, Smith and Brown covered the fronts of their stores with flaming signs announcing the fire sale; but to their horror everybody went to Rosenbaum's. Not until their unbusinesslike neighbor had sold everything but the gas meter did they discover his large sign, "Main Entrance."—Success Magazine.

 "Why so sorrowful, girl?"
 "We have parted forever. He writes me to send back the ring."
 "Tell him to call for it," advised the experienced friend.—Louisville Courier-Journal.
