The business at the mill seems to be much larger than a year ago, as they run day and night, and keep two teams hauling flour and feed to cars which are being shipped out to surrounding towns. Loup City flour should be used by all who wish to build up their home town.
Mrs. D. L. Adamson has moved her millinery store into the A. L. Zimmerman office, where she will be pleased to see all her old customers, as well as new ones. She has a complete line of hats of every style from the eastern markets. They are up-to-date for style and beauty. Call and see for yourself. Opening days, Sept. 9th and 10th.

The Presbyterian Sunday school had a picnic down near the river last week Tuesday and a splendid time was enjoyed by the little folks.
The editor and wife attended the State Fair a few days this week and the rest of the office force being on the sick list, many items are omitted this week.
The ladies of the Industrial Society will meet at the home of Mrs. Ward VerValin next Wednesday, Sept. 14. All the ladies of the society are requested to be present.
Mrs. Dan DeWitt has rented the Taylor building two doors east of the Swanson & Lofholm drug store and will put in a new stock of millinery. Watch next week for the date of her opening.
While the Misses Etta and Lillie Lofholm were absent on their visit in Colorado a delightful surprise was prepared for them in the placing of an elegant Kimball piano in their home, secured through H. P. Ferdinandt, the furniture man, and the return of the girls was thus made the more happy.
Mrs. Dr. Marcy and children returned last week Wednesday from their extended visit to various points in Illinois and Michigan, where they spent most of the time at the watering places along Lake Michigan and had the most pleasant outing of their lives. Mrs. Marcy remembered her many lady friends with handsome souvenirs of her trip.
I. N. Syas was called to Ord the 26th of August by the illness of his good mother, who breathed her last the following day and was buried last week Monday at Burwell. The good mother had been in ill health for a long time, and was aged 79 years, 4 months and 15 days. The many friends of Mr. Syas here will sympathize with him over the loss of man's best earthly friend—a loving mother.
Last Saturday, a new team being driven by Lan Benschoter became frightened by the sudden puffing of the B. & M. engine at the coal chute and made a short run, with Lan and the drag weight hanging on behind the rig, and after running about a block one horse was thrown down and with the other horse astride of his neck the race was ended without damage save a broken tug and the lacerated feelings of Lan.
Misses Etta and Lillie Lofholm returned last Friday evening from their three weeks' visit in Colorado. Returning from the home of their sister at Grand Junction they took the scenic route to Colorado Springs, where they viewed Pike's Peak, the Garden of the Gods, Manitou, and various grand scenes about the city. The young ladies were fascinated with the glories of Colorado and came home delighted with their vacation.
On last Saturday evening one of the best wrestling matches seen in our city for many a day was held in Society Hall between Cannon of Greeley and Robert Bly of our city. The two combatants stepped on the mat shortly after 9 o'clock and were introduced by C. W. Conhiser, who officiated as referee, and the combat began. After a fierce struggle of 27 minutes Bly succeeded in putting Cannon's shoulders to the mat, and after the necessary rest they again stepped on to the mat, this bout lasting but 5 minutes, in which Cannon threw Bly. The third and last bout was won by Cannon after a struggle of 35 minutes. The large attendance seemed well pleased with the evening's entertainment and went home declaring it one of the best wrestling matches ever pulled off in Loup City.
The Fats and Leans gave a fine exhibition baseball game at Jenner's Park last Friday afternoon, but which the writer was unable to attend. The stunts of the cadaverous fellows, and the sprinting and famous work of the aldermanic contingent were said by witnesses to be simply awful and heart-rending and brought tears to the eyes of beholders. Because the fat rascals won the game over the lean-tos, the latter are said to have waxed wrath and challenged their over-eating adversaries to another game in the near future, while in the meantime the bean poles will pillow themselves up and demand the fats to corset themselves down to proportions where they will not cover the whole diamond with their front stories, thus interfering with the space usually allotted to runners between the bases, and also to give some chance for the ball to get past them and out into the field. The editor will be present at the next game, and being rather lean himself will see that his kind gets fair show in the game.

Along R. R. No. 2.
Will the patrons living in the vicinity of the cemetery east of Chas. Snyder's donate one day's work on this hill for the benefit of Route 2. Carrier will give the price of one day's work if you will.

E. B. Corning was on the road toward Litchfield last week and forgot to dig any holes in the road, as is his custom.
The water power at the mill is just grand this year. Another mill could almost be run with the surplus water. The mill is a great help to Loup City, as it gives employment to a good many men during the year.
Pete Ogle was "threshing everybody along Route 2 the past week, and hasn't got licked yet."
Oscar Bechtold painted the Hawk school house the past week.
Miss Lena Zwick, accompanied by Miss Elma Corning, went to Grand Island last Thursday to see her mother at the hospital.
Roy Conger and Elmer Falk were hauling hay to town last Thursday.
W. T. Gibson and wife were seen on their way to Litchfield Friday. They returned Saturday evening.
C. J. Norstedt commenced to work on Route 2 last Friday at B. W. Parkhurst's.
B. J. Swanson and B. W. Parkhurst were working on the road last week.
Corn looks better on an average than last year and if the frost does not come until the last of September will make a bumper crop. Hay is short; the last crop of alfalfa will be a bumper. Lots of winter wheat is being sown and haying is in full swing now. Spring sown alfalfa was a failure on account of dry weather.
Joe Blaschke, with the assistance of Jim Bone and John Foy did one of the prettiest pieces of road work at N. P. Nielson's of any of his work while road boss. The work was all done with Webster township's grader and is almost a perfect piece of work. It only took a short time to make a good road out of a very bad one.

Carl Squires has rented the place farmed by Chas. Barnes two years ago.
Roy Conger has rented the place he farmed this year for next year.
H. A. Wilkinson shipped a car of cattle to South Omaha Wednesday.
