

LOUP CITY NORTHWESTERN

VOLUME XXVIII

LOUP CITY, NEBRASKA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1910.

NUMBER 50.

BRIEF NEWS NOTES FOR THE BUSY MAN

MOST IMPORTANT EVENTS OF THE PAST WEEK TOLD IN CONDENSED FORM.

ROUND ABOUT THE WORLD

Complete Review of Happenings of Greatest Interest from All Parts of the Globe—Latest Home and Foreign Items.

PERSONAL

Governor Elwhart, back from the scene of the devastating forest fires in northern Minnesota, declares that the loss of life has been greatly exaggerated and places the number of dead at 22. He says the property loss will probably reach $2,000,000.

Crown Prince George of Serbia is ill with typhoid fever at Belgrade.

Emperer William at a banquet in Berlin in honor of the centenary of the University of Berlin addressed the students and advised them to drink less and engage in outdoor sports, as students are dying in America.

Mrs. Mary Harris, former president of the George W. C. T. U., has received two "black hand" letters threatening her with death if she keeps up her prohibition-speaking tours.

President Taft will sail for the Isthmus of Panama November 19, from Charleston, S. C.

Mrs. Guy Lippincott, nineteen years old, died at Rock Island, Ill., from blood poisoning, resulting from the bite of a rat a year ago.

Lee Wilson, a wealthy farmer living south of Des Moines, Ia., shot and killed himself, after firing five shots into the body of Claude Masters, a dairyman. Masters is dying in the hospital as a result of his injuries. Jealousy is said to have been the cause.

David H. Hill lies in Wolfert's Room, Elmira, N. Y., on what his friends fear is his death bed. The former governor and former United States senator was taken down with a recurrence of his old kidney trouble. The report is that pneumonia has set in, making a complication that is likely to prove fatal.

Michael P. Honey, the millionaire railroad contractor of Seattle, is dead at San Francisco. He neglected himself to care for shipwrecked women and children when the Ohio sank off the coast of Alaska in August, 1909.

Brig. Gen. Arthur Murray, chief of coast artillery, urges in his annual report that the government increase its detail of artillery troops for coast duty.

GENERAL NEWS

From the West Indies to the Florida coast, throughout the region of the Tortugas and from the Florida coast to Mexico in the gulf the seas are in the grasp of a hurricane which is striking terror to the hearts of the people of the whole immense area.

Charles Albright, manager, and three employes of the Bohring Brothers' Pottery company, were killed when a freight car on the Stark Electric railroad hit the automobile in which they were riding near Sebring, O.

The steamship Cranford has been lost in a gale in the North sea and it is feared all sixty-three persons on board perished. Twenty-five bodies were washed ashore.

The French steamer Ville de Rochefort was wrecked off Normontiers Islands. The British steamer Peverell picked up the first and second mates and the chief steward of the French craft, but the 22 others of her crew were lost.

A hurricane swept the eastern coast of the Baltic sea causing many wrecks and the loss of hundreds of lives among the sailors.

Five laborers were instantly killed and more than a score were injured several seriously, when a north-bound extra freight train on the Grand Rapids & Indiana railroad crashed head-on into a work train, seven and a half miles south of Portland, Ind.

Thode Grahnke-White, the English aviator, called his Farman biplane over the city of Washington from Tennings and paid a social call to the army and navy officials landing near the White House.

A table compiled by New York customs officials shows that the anti-smuggling crusade of the last two years has caused the amount of duties collected to be nearly trebled.

While hastening westward in an automobile, following a campaign tour through Fresno county, California, Hiram W. Johnson, Republican candidate for governor of California, and a party were halted by motorcycle policemen and Mr. Johnson's son was placed under arrest on a charge of speeding.

A social organization of Jewish bank clerks in New York has issued a general appeal to employes of all banking institutions in that city to organize themselves and join the American Federation of Labor as the first step to a movement for a shorter workday and higher wages.

On a charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, H. Brooks, manager and director of the Redemable Investment company, a concern having capital stock amounting to $10,000,000, was arrested at Boston. According to the federal official, nearly $1,000,000 is involved.

The United States, the greatest cotton-producing country of the world, imported in the fiscal year 1910 $6,627,591 pounds of raw cotton, valued at $15,816,158, the second largest year's importation of cotton in the history of the country.

The United States embassy in Paris was endangered when a powerful dynamite bomb was placed near the building, but was discovered and removed in time to prevent an explosion. The police attribute the attempted outrage to anarchists, who sought to put new life into the apparently dying railroad strike.

The French government is meeting the situation resulting from the general strike of railroad employes with a firmness that challenges the admiration even of those who sympathize with the men in their demands for a minimum wage of $1 a day. Five of the most influential strike leaders have been placed under arrest.

President Taft assisted Boston in the observation of the first formal recognition of Columbus day, by reviewing with Governor Draper the big military and civic procession in that city. For an hour and a half the president stood on his lame foot and watched the 52,000 enthusiastic parade march past. Then he was compelled to give up.

Another great slide has developed in the east bank of the Culabra cut of the Panama canal at Bas Obispo, where a quantity of rock estimated at 25,000 cubic yards is slowly moving toward the canal prism. This slide is 95 feet above the sea level and the break follows the lines of a fault in the rock.

Willard Se Grue, aged fifteen, and Joseph Pendegast, aged sixteen, both said to be of Chicago families, were taken from a freight car in the Fort Wayne railroad yards in Pittsburgh. It had been sealed at Elkhart, Ind., five days ago.

Benjamin J. Duven, one of the resident managers of Duveen Brothers of New York city, the greatest art dealers and importers in America, was arrested on a bench warrant charging him and the other members of the firm with systematically swindling the United States government out of customs that run high up into the millions.

Richard A. Ballinger, secretary of the interior, was one of the 11 passengers who were more or less seriously injured in the wreck of two passenger trains which met in a head-on collision in the outskirts of Cincinnati. Secretary Ballinger's injuries consisted of only a severe shaking up and a slightly bruised left arm.

Theodore Roosevelt plunged into the Indiana campaign with a trip across the state, in which he made a vigorous plea for votes to send United States Senator Albert J. Beveridge back to the senate.

The first case of Asiatic cholera has appeared in England. A man who lived in one of the Rowton houses, in London, a series of "poor man's hotels," died in a public hospital.

Wilson R. Evans, receiving teller of the Farmers and Merchants' bank, Los Angeles, Cal., has not returned from his vacation and officers of the bank estimate he is short $50,000.

Contending his party loyalty had been questioned through the failure of Ezra P. Prentice, the new chairman of the Republican state committee, to reappoint him a member of the executive committee of the state committee, William Barnes, Jr., of Albany, N. Y., has tendered his resignation as state committeeman.

The strike of the railroad men, which threatens to spread throughout the length and breadth of France, was denounced by Premier Briand as "an insurrection purely built upon criminal foundations." The premier declared the strike was called while negotiations were going on through himself and the minister of public works for an adjustment of grievances.

St. Paul and Minneapolis business men have decided to ask Governor Elwhart to appeal for a $100,000 relief fund for the forest fire sufferers. It will be several days before the actual loss of life in the fires is known. The known dead number 36. The higher figures given out at various points in the fire zone undoubtedly resulted from many duplications of reports of bodies found.

Application was made by the Grand Trunk Pacific railway to the British Columbia government for permission to employ Chinese on the railroad. The request was not granted.

Fire rangers through the Minnesota fire-wreck zone report that they have recovered 129 bodies of those who lost their lives in the forest flames. Sixty of the bodies have been identified. Most of them were homesteaders near Spooner and Haudetta. The estimated toll of death is now placed between 150 and 200.

Baron Hengelmueller von Henger tar, Austro-Hungarian ambassador to the United States, will be one of the five new members about to be nominated for the house of magnates at Budapest.

An order has been issued at Palmer, Mass., that there shall be no more tub bathing until the town increases its water supply by means of artesian wells.

A suspicious appearing Portuguese, who came direct from Lisbon, is under arrest at Gibraltar. Since the man has been in custody special precautions have been taken to guard King Manuel, as it is feared an attempt to assassinate the exiled monarch may be made. The suspect was armed with a revolver.

Lewis Johnson, an amateur aviator, made several successful flights at Terre Haute, Ind., in a monoplane built by himself and brothers. The machine is said to be the first American-built monoplane to navigate the air successfully.

MAY PROVE FATAL

TWO ARE SHOT BY ACCIDENTAL DISCHARGE OF REVOLVER.

HAPPENINGS OVER THE STATE

What is Going on Here and There That is of Interest to the Readers Throughout Nebraska and Vicinity.

Wymore, Neb.—J. E. Edwards was shot in the abdomen and Frank Jackson was shot in the left forefinger by the accidental discharge of a 38-caliber revolver here Wednesday. Jackson had the gun, and thinking it not loaded, snapped the trigger. There were three shells in the gun and one was discharged. Edwards was taken to a hospital in Beatrice to be operated on. It is said that there is little hope for his recovery. Not much is known of either of the men.

Breakfast Bacon Special.

Lincoln, Neb.—The Rock Island will run a train of seven cars, known as the Breakfast Bacon Special, starting from Omaha, October 24, in which lectures and exhibits will be given in regard to the most profitable method of raising hogs and of the uses of pork products and by-products. Several experts from the Nebraska school of agriculture and the agricultural commissioner of the Rock Island lines will give lectures on this train. Two of the lecturers will be domestic science teachers.

Broom Factory at Kearney.

Kearney, Neb.—Albert Calhoun and B. M. Lynch, the former a ranchman and the latter a carpenter living in this city, have installed thoroughly modern machinery for a broom factory. Mr. Calhoun raised seven acres of broom corn this year and will make a thousand dozen brooms. They will plant a large acreage to broom corn next year and will manufacture it into brooms.

Big Crowd at Corn Show.

North Bend, Neb.—The fine weather helped to bring a big crowd for the corn show here and the streets were jammed. North Bend is gaily decorated for the occasion. The corn exhibits, which are shown in a tent, are of much better quality than the exhibits last year. Corn all over the country has done better.

Big Yield from One Tree.

Humboldt, Neb.—At the farm of Joseph Ogle, east of Humboldt, the pickers secured fifty-five bushels of Iowa Blush apples from one tree, leaving quite a number of cider apples still on the branches.

Franklin has voted bonds for electric lights.

Tecumseh will extend her system of waterworks.

The Presbyterian synod is in session at Beatrice.

Albert Dodge is the new city marshal at Fairbury.

Peru will hold a farmers' institute November 7 and 8.

Fairbury school janitors will act as special trunk officers.

Creighton expects to put in a water system in the near future.

York wants to change her city government to the commission system.

Lincoln Knights of Pythias dedicated their handsome new temple last week.

The Pawnee City high school has an enrollment of 175 and the senior class numbers thirty-six.

Cyril Sloat and George Norvell, two 13-year-old Kearney boys, have built an air ship in which they have taken a flight.

Dr. Rev. Anson Graves of the Kearney diocese of the Episcopal church, has been, by his own request, retired from active service.

Governor Shallenberger has issued a requisition for the return of Joseph French from Tacoma, Wash., on a charge of deserting his seven-year-old child, Merl French. The complaint is signed by Mrs. Mary E. French, the wife of the accused. Sam M. Melick of Lincoln was appointed agent of the state at the request of the county attorney to bring French back.

Commandant Yaws of the university cadet battalion is busy preparing a military text book for the use of the cadets when the weather becomes too cold for outdoor drill. In past years indoor classes of instruction have been held, but the work was embarrassed by a lack of a text exactly suited to the needs of the department. Now the department will prepare its own text which will be printed in regular form for class use.

For the murder of his sister-in-law Bert M. Taylor of Minden is to be hanged at the penitentiary on the afternoon of October 28. The supreme court overruled Taylor's motion for a rehearing. This finally disposes of the case in court and nothing except the intervention of the governor or a hearing to determine insanity, granted by a judge of the district in which the conviction took place, can save Taylor from the gallows. It is said by attorneys that neither relief will be granted if asked for.

PANIC IN A HOTEL CAUSED BY SNAKE

BIG BOA CONSTRICTOR GETS LOOSE AND STARTS A REIGN OF TERROR.

MAKES BRAVE MEN TREMBLE

Breaks Dishes and Has a High Old Time Before Snake Chamer Finally Conquers King of Jungle in Iowa Hostelery.

Cedar Rapids, Iowa.—About 200 panic-stricken people lined Fourth street between First and Second avenues for one hour in the afternoon while a monster boa constrictor had a merry time in breaking dishes and causing general damage in the Russell house. As an aftermath John Murphy was some time in recovering from the scare which was caused when he cut his hand on a broken plate and thought that the big snake had bitten him. Mrs. Jess Kimmel also suffered much from the shock.

The evening before the ruction a showman who was on his way to make some of the small town fairs stopped in the Russell house. He had with him two large wooden boxes. During the night a dog belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Jess Kimmel, kept barking at one of the boxes, but nobody paid attention to the enraged canine. The showman did not tell what was in the box.

In the afternoon about three o'clock, while the hotel was very quiet, Mrs. Kimmel went into the dining-room to get some dishes. She was suddenly attracted by a noise on the floor, and looking down discovered to her horror a large snake crawling on the floor.

The state of Mrs. Kimmel's fright cannot be described. She screamed for help, but the help that came fled precipitately, while a crowd gathered. For some minutes the crowd did not know what was up. When the word was passed that a snake was loose all the women in the crowd made a grand getaway.

John Murphy, a construction worker, who boards at the hotel, finally decided to become a hero. His entry into the screen door which was now the center of great interest was a great moment, and John Murphy was declared the bravest man in the United States.

But alas! After Mr. Murphy's entry into the hotel there was a great sound of falling dishes, and then Mr. Murphy rushed out of the hotel, holding one bleeding hand and yelling with all his might that the boa constrictor had bitten him. Down Fourth street, through the alley, and down Third street went Mr. Murphy, all the time he was yelling for a doctor. There was more excitement, and several persons ran after Mr. Murphy.

For an hour the crowd stood awe-struck. Railroad men famous for their bravery stood without making a move, and then a real hero made his way to the Russell house door. It was Lewis Russell of Marion, who boarded at the house. Mr. Russell carefully entered the dining-room. As he was not coming out the crowd got nerve enough to get near the windows to see the performance.

Upon Mr. Russell's entry the big snake, attracted by the noise, stuck out his head from under a pile of dishes and Mr. Russell made one grab. He got the snake by the head. Just what might have happened to Mr. Russell is hard to tell, but by this time the snake owner had been found, and he came rushing into the dining-room. With the help of a blanket, which was laid on the floor, and a rabbit's tail, the snake was subdued. The reptile was placed on the blanket and the owner waved a rabbit's tail until the big boa constrictor coiled up and was placed in the box. The box was nailed and tied with ropes, and the unfortunate owner of the reptile was ordered to find a new hotel.

The damage done by the reptile amounted to about $15, which the showman paid. There were many broken dishes, including a coffee pot which the snake turned over. The coffee was not hot enough to scald his snakeship.

PREACHER AND HIS WIFE JOIN A THEATER TROUPE

WOMAN DECLARES THEY COULD NOT MAKE A LIVING IN THE PULPIT.

MAKES BRAVE MEN TREMBLE

Chicago.—Cinderella's fairy god-mother has a wand which in these modern days works even more wonderful things than changing a poor little ragged girl into a wonderful princess, for it has changed a Woodlawn pastor's wife into a petite chorus girl, with feet which just won't stop dancing.

Mrs. Dudley C. Fosher, wife of Rev. Mr. Fosher, until a few days ago pastor of Ryder Memorial Universalist church in Woodlawn, will be a member of the "front row" in the chorus of "The Stubborn Cinderella," a comic opera. Why doesn't her husband object? Why, he has been touched by the same magic wand. He is on the stage with his wife playing the part of a "college man" in the opera and the full, rich voice that used to lead the singing in Ryder Memorial church will be carolling gay love songs to fair maids hidden in leafy bowers.

Mrs. Fosher, when discussing her stage plans, remarked: "What do I care what people think? I intend to go in the chorus to be near my husband, whom I love with my whole heart. He could not make a living in the pulpit and he can on the stage. He owes it to me and to himself to make a living."

Rev. Mr. Fosher is declared by his friends to have resigned the pastorate of the Ryder Memorial church because his salary of $1,200 was not large enough to support him and Mrs. Fosher.

Some of the church trustees are said to have remonstrated with the Foshers because they were unconventional in their ways. Mrs. Fosher is accused of having worn a fur coat on a summer day to the horror of her feminine parishioners, while the charge is made that Rev. Mr. Fosher, wearing an old coat, peddled vacuum cleaners.

"Instead of looking after the welfare of the people in their parish," said Dr. J. D. Payne, one of the trustees, "they were too deeply interested in their own affairs, and besides, they did not pay close enough attention to the ordinary conventions in matters of dress and deportment."

"All buncombe," declared Mr. Fosher, now of the comic opera stage and confident that he will become a star. "I had to sell vacuum cleaners to get cats for me and mamma, and she had to wear fur coats sometimes when she ought to have had on white lawn. I think some of my friends are inconsistent. A man is conventional when he wears clothes at all, no matter if they are old-fashioned and shabby."

Mrs. Fosher laughed merrily when asked if she would wear the same clothes, or the same things, rather, as the girls in the second act.

"I don't think it is at all important, that part of it," she said. "I want to stay with Dudley and I'll wear what the part calls for. You know we are rather liberal in some matters. When Dudley came out of college it was long argued between us whether he should espouse the church or the stage."

"We have tried the church and it will not give us a living, though we both love the work. Now we shall stay on the stage so long as it will yield us support."

Prayer a mortgage lifter. Experts locate oil wells on the farm of a devout Louisiana petitioner.

Gueland, La.—Was F. Nye's prayer answered? This is the question being asked by more than 200 men of this parish.

Mr. Nye is a farmer living near Lake Arthur who has been much agitated over the mortgage on his farm. Being a devout Christian, he prayed that the Lord would show him a way to lift the mortgage. He had a dream one night and in his dream saw a stranger who told him oil was at a certain grassy knoll on his farm.

A few days later Prof. William H. Drumet, an oil expert, arrived and Mr. Nye recognized him as the man of his dream. He examined the place and spotted the identical grassy knoll.

Later, J. O. Smith, another oil expert, located the same knoll and Alphonse Guerry, a third oil expert, did the same. If paying oil is found in all probability others will resort to prayer for means to lift mortgages.

DEATH OF DOLLIVER

IOWAS DISTINGUISHED SENATOR SUDDENLY PASSES AWAY.

HEART TROUBLE THE NALADY

People of Iowa Greatly Shocked by the Unexpected Turn of the Senator's Illness.

Fort Dodge, Ia.—Senator Jonathan P. Dolliver died at his residence here at 7:30 o'clock Saturday night, while one of his attending physicians, Dr. F. M. Van Patten, was examining the distinguished statesman's heart with a stethoscope. His death followed an acute attack of stomach trouble which affected his heart. His physicians announced that his death was directly due to dilation of the heart.

Senator Dolliver had so far recovered his strength as to be able to walk about his lawn. He had been up all day at evening entered his sitting room for the daily consultation with his physician.

The senator informed Dr. Van Patten that he was feeling much improved and that he believed he had about recovered his normal strength.

Jonathan P. Dolliver, a man of distinguished appearance, was born in Vermont, Oct. 20, 1825. He was educated at the University of Vermont and served in the army during the Mexican war. He was a member of the Iowa legislature and served as governor of the state from 1864 to 1868. He was elected to the United States senate in 1870 and served until his death. He was a member of the Republican party and was known for his conservative views. He was a skilled orator and a devoted public servant. His death was a great loss to the state of Iowa.

Jonathan P. Dolliver, a man of distinguished appearance, was born in Vermont, Oct. 20, 1825. He was educated at the University of Vermont and served in the army during the Mexican war. He was a member of the Iowa legislature and served as governor of the state from 1864 to 1868. He was elected to the United States senate in 1870 and served until his death. He was a member of the Republican party and was known for his conservative views. He was a skilled orator and a devoted public servant. His death was a great loss to the state of Iowa.

Jonathan P. Dolliver, a man of distinguished appearance, was born in Vermont, Oct. 20, 1825. He was educated at the University of Vermont and served in the army during the Mexican war. He was a member of the Iowa legislature and served as governor of the state from 1864 to 1868. He was elected to the United States senate in 1870 and served until his death. He was a member of the Republican party and was known for his conservative views. He was a skilled orator and a devoted public servant. His death was a great loss to the state of Iowa.

Jonathan P. Dolliver, a man of distinguished appearance, was born in Vermont, Oct. 20, 1825. He was educated at the University of Vermont and served in the army during the Mexican war. He was a member of the Iowa legislature and served as governor of the state from 1864 to 1868. He was elected to the United States senate in 1870 and served until his death. He was a member of the Republican party and was known for his conservative views. He was a skilled orator and a devoted public servant. His death was a great loss to the state of Iowa.

Jonathan P. Dolliver, a man of distinguished appearance, was born in Vermont, Oct. 20, 1825. He was educated at the University of Vermont and served in the army during the Mexican war. He was a member of the Iowa legislature and served as governor of the state from 1864 to 1868. He was elected to the United States senate in 1870 and served until his death. He was a member of the Republican party and was known for his conservative views. He was a skilled orator and a devoted public servant. His death was a great loss to the state of Iowa.

Jonathan P. Dolliver, a man of distinguished appearance, was born in Vermont, Oct. 20, 1825. He was educated at the University of Vermont and served in the army during the Mexican war. He was a member of the Iowa legislature and served as governor of the state from 1864 to 1868. He was elected to the United States senate in 1870 and served until his death. He was a member of the Republican party and was known for his conservative views. He was a skilled orator and a devoted public servant. His death was a great loss to the state of Iowa.

Jonathan P. Dolliver, a man of distinguished appearance, was born in Vermont, Oct. 20, 1825. He was educated at the University of Vermont and served in the army during the Mexican war. He was a member of the Iowa legislature and served as governor of the state from 1864 to 1868. He was elected to the United States senate in 1870 and served until his death. He was a member of the Republican party and was known for his conservative views. He was a skilled orator and a devoted public servant. His death was a great loss to the state of Iowa.

Jonathan P. Dolliver, a man of distinguished appearance, was born in Vermont, Oct. 20, 1825. He was educated at the University of Vermont and served in the army during the Mexican war. He was a member of the Iowa legislature and served as governor of the state from 1864 to 1868. He was elected to the United States senate in 1870 and served until his death. He was a member of the Republican party and was known for his conservative views. He was a skilled orator and a devoted public servant. His death was a great loss to the state of Iowa.

Jonathan P. Dolliver, a man of distinguished appearance, was born in Vermont, Oct. 20, 1825. He was educated at the University of Vermont and served in the army during the Mexican war. He was a member of the Iowa legislature and served as governor of the state from 1864 to 1868. He was elected to the United States senate in 1870 and served until his death. He was a member of the Republican party and was known for his conservative views. He was a skilled orator and a devoted public servant. His death was a great loss to the state of Iowa.

Jonathan P. Dolliver, a man of distinguished appearance, was born in Vermont, Oct. 20, 1825. He was educated at the University of Vermont and served in the army during the Mexican war. He was a member of the Iowa legislature and served as governor of the state from 1864 to 1868. He was elected to the United States senate in 1870 and served until his death. He was a member of the Republican party and was known for his conservative views. He was a skilled orator and a devoted public servant. His death was a great loss to the state of Iowa.

Jonathan P. Dolliver, a man of distinguished appearance, was born in Vermont, Oct. 20, 1825. He was educated at the University of Vermont and served in the army during the Mexican war. He was a member of the Iowa legislature and served as governor of the state from 1864 to 1868. He was elected to the United States senate in 1870 and served until his death. He was a member of the Republican party and was known for his conservative views. He was a skilled orator and a devoted public servant. His death was a great loss to the state of Iowa.

Jonathan P. Dolliver, a man of distinguished appearance, was born in Vermont, Oct. 20, 1825. He was educated at the University of Vermont and served in the army during the Mexican war. He was a member of the Iowa legislature and served as governor of the state from 1864 to 1868. He was elected to the United States senate in 1870 and served until his death. He was a member of the Republican party and was known for his conservative views. He was a skilled orator and a devoted public servant. His death was a great loss to the state of Iowa.

Jonathan P. Dolliver, a man of distinguished appearance, was born in Vermont, Oct. 20, 1825. He was educated at the University of Vermont and served in the army during the Mexican war. He was a member of the Iowa legislature and served as governor of the state from 1864 to 1868. He was elected to the United States senate in 1870 and served until his death. He was a member of the Republican party and was known for his conservative views. He was a skilled orator and a devoted public servant. His death was a great loss to the state of Iowa.

Jonathan P. Dolliver, a man of distinguished appearance, was born in Vermont, Oct. 20, 1825. He was educated at the University of Vermont and served in the army during the Mexican war. He was a member of the Iowa legislature and served as governor of the state from 1864 to 1868. He was elected to the United States senate in 1870 and served until his death. He was a member of the Republican party and was known for his conservative views. He was a skilled orator and a devoted public servant. His death was a great loss to the state of Iowa.

Jonathan P. Dolliver, a man of distinguished appearance, was born in Vermont, Oct. 20, 1825. He was educated at the University of Vermont and served in the army during the Mexican war. He was a member of the Iowa legislature and served as governor of the state from 1864 to 1868. He was elected to the United States senate in 1870 and served until his death. He was a member of the Republican party and was known for his conservative views. He was a skilled orator and a devoted public servant. His death was a great loss to the state of Iowa.

Jonathan P. Dolliver, a man of distinguished appearance, was born in Vermont, Oct. 20, 1825. He was educated at the University of Vermont and served in the army during the Mexican war. He was a member of the Iowa legislature and served as governor of the state from 1864 to 1868. He was elected to the United States senate in 1870 and served until his death. He was a member of the Republican party and was known for his conservative views. He was a skilled orator and a devoted public servant. His death was a great loss to the state of Iowa.

Jonathan P. Dolliver, a man of distinguished appearance, was born in Vermont, Oct. 20, 1825. He was educated at the University of Vermont and served in the army during the Mexican war. He was a member of the Iowa legislature and served as governor of the state from 1864 to 1868. He was elected to the United States senate in 1870 and served until his death. He was a member of the Republican party and was known for his conservative views. He was a skilled orator and a devoted public servant. His death was a great loss to the state of Iowa.

Jonathan P. Dolliver, a man of distinguished appearance, was born in Vermont, Oct. 20, 1825. He was educated at the University of Vermont and served in the army during the Mexican war. He was a member of the Iowa legislature and served as governor of the state from 1864 to 1868. He was elected to the United States senate in 1870 and served until his death. He was a member of the Republican party and was known for his conservative views. He was a skilled orator and a devoted public servant. His death was a great loss to the state of Iowa.

Jonathan P. Dolliver, a man of distinguished appearance, was born in Vermont, Oct. 20, 1825. He was educated at the University of Vermont and served in the army during the Mexican war. He was a member of the Iowa legislature and served as governor of the state from 1864 to 1868. He was elected to the United States senate in 1870 and served until his death. He was a member of the Republican party and was known for his conservative views. He was a skilled orator and a devoted public servant. His death was a great loss to the state of Iowa.

Jonathan P. Dolliver, a man of distinguished appearance, was born in Vermont, Oct. 20, 1825. He was educated at the University of Vermont and served in the army during the Mexican war. He was a member of the Iowa legislature and served as governor of the state from 1864 to 1868. He was elected to the United States senate in 1870 and served until his death. He was a member of the Republican party and was known for his conservative views. He was a skilled orator and a devoted public servant. His death was a great loss to the state of Iowa.

Jonathan P. Dolliver, a man of distinguished appearance, was born in Vermont, Oct. 20, 1825. He was educated at the University of Vermont and served in the army during the Mexican war. He was a member of the Iowa legislature and served as governor of the state from 1864 to 1868. He was elected to the United States senate in 1870 and served until his death. He was