BOTH "BISHOP" SCHRADER AND "BROTHER" OF DOWIE HAVE HARD LUCK.

HEALERS LAND IN PRISON

Clad in Imposing Robes They Seek Financial Help to Unearth Vast Fortune Which the Late "Elijah" Was Alleged to Have Buried.

St. Joseph, Mo.-A story of $20,000, 000 buried on an island in the sea led to the arrest here of the "Rev. Bishop" Schrader, who sometimes calls himself Schlatter, asserting he is the original "divine healer," and "Dr. James Alexander Dowie, who asserts that he is a brother of the late John Alexander Dowie of Zion City. The original Schlatter, as a "divine healer." attracted wide attention at Denver a decade ago.

Dowie and Schrader came to St. Joseph about two weeks ago. Clad in imposing robes, they held meetings nightly in the streets and invited the crowds to call upon them at their rooms, where they undertook to heal the sick by the laying on of hands, free of charge.

One of the persons who accepted the invitation to call upon Dowie and Schrader was a local real estate agent, and the healers, it is declared, told him that if he had sufficient confidence in them to entrust them with $1,200 in cash, they would make him a millionaire several times over. The real estate man had that confidence.

been unfolded, upon a pledge that it would not be revealed to another living soul, "Elijah" Dowie had $20,000,-000 in gold buried in an island in the Gulf of Mexico, off the coast of Hon-The treasure originally amounted to $40,000,000, it was said.

but "Elijah" had, prior to his death, drawn upon it for one-half for use in building Zion City, near Chicago.

A short time before "Elijah" died, went the narrative, he entrusted his brother with the secret of the hiding place, known to no other person, and it was for the purpose of financing an expedition to go after the buried treasure that "Doctor" Dowie and "Bishop" Schrader wished to find

At the time of reposing the confidence in the St. Joseph real estate agent, however, he was not in position to put up the money, and he began to look for someone who would advance the cash to him for a few weeks, for it was said that the trip to the island would not take long, although it was stipulated by Dowie and Schrader that it be made overland to the coast of Honduras. It happened that the assistant prosecuting attorney of Buchanan county heard of the proposition. He caused a warrant to issue for the arrest of the healers, and they were locked in the county jail. The day following the arrest of Dowie and Schrader, and before their preliminary hearing, a bondsman signed their bonds for $1,000 each. after they had paid him $200 in cash. An hour or two after they were released from the jail the surety was advised that the healers had gone across the Missouri river bridge. He grabbed a shotgun, jumped into an automobile and hurried after them. They were overhauled at Wathena, six miles west of St. Joseph, forced to enter the automobile and return and were then delivered to the jailer.

disappeared in the woods. The car was running at high speed when the animal rose on its haunches in the middle of the road. There was not room to pass and the car struck the bear squarely, carrying it along, growling, on the hood of the car until a bad place in the road threw it off. In falling the bear went under the wheels. As soon as the automobile party discovered that the bear was as frightened as they were, and was making tracks for the wods, they righted the car and proceeded to this city on their way to New York.

BUSTLE WAS USED AS A BANK

When Article of Apparel Went Out of Date Woman Then Invested Money.

St. Louis.-When bustles went out of style Mrs. Ollie Mackler, who had carried for twenty-five years more than $15,000 in bills of $1,000 denomination in that article of apparel, having no other way to dispose of the money, invested it in real estate and coal mines. In consequence of this effective concealment of her fortune she is having a tragic difficult in convincing the world that $75,000 worth of property is her own and was not given to her by her husband, John Mackler, to defraud his creditors. She is fighting in three courts to retain the property. Until Jesse W. Sikes, trustee in bankruptcy of the estate of John Mackler, filed suit to recover this property and caused her story to be dragged into the courts, she was known only as an ordinary housewife, doing her own work and receiving small spending money from her husband.

Year after year she lived as if she were having the same hard struggle with life as her neighbors, and was heard frequently to complain, when trouble overtook her, that she did not know what she would do. In her younger years she worked as a general servant and seamstress. All that time she carried money and jewelry that would have outglittered the modest fortunes of her employers.

UNCLE SAM WILL FORM SUCH AN INSTITUTION.

BANK EXAMINERS ORGANIZE

Divide the Country Into Eleven Districts with Chairman in Charge to Direct Operations.

Washington-A tentative system of collecting credit information for the benefit of the national bank examin ers with the compilation and check ing up of the commitments of large local and extended borrowers has been formulated by a committee of the examiners who have been meet ing at the treasury department. Every examiner hereafter will keep for his own use a complete file of all large and extended borrowers in his district from which lists will be sent to the treasury department for summar

The machinery available by the comptroller of the currency will be put to work to gather such credit in formation as can be obtained from national banks and from state banks and trust companies located in states where there is already co-operating between the federal and state bank ing officials. The examiners will not divulge the name of the bank where a line of credit is found of an extend ed borrower, their special reports giving the total only of the loans listed

It is not contemplated that a com prehensive plan, which will guarantee the assembling of complete credit information covering commitments in all the banks in the United States is practical at this time. Nor is the personal relationship between the banks and customers to be interfered with It is expected that the knowledge that a hundred or more men are keeping a constant check on the borrowings will make it extremely hazardous for the dishonest individual, firm or cor poration to get money from the na tional banks.

The committee recommended that in addition to the usual annual meeting of the examiners held in each of the eleven districts, regular and al meetings of the several district chairmen be held at some central point early in the year. These meetings would consider conditions and make public in formation as to the credit rating and responsibility of those borrowers whose names might be found on paper in more than one of the general districts and regarding whom it might be deemed advisable to compare

PHILADELPHIA IS WINNER.

Base Ball Championship Belongs to Quaker City.

Chicago.-The baseball championship of the world belongs to the Philadelphia club of the American league. They clinched the big pennant fast Sunday, seven runs to two, the Chicago nationals and there was none in the big overflow crowd to say that they had not won it fairly and squarly. Five games were played, and the eastern youngsters took four of them by outbatting, outfielding and outrushing the veteran Chicagoans. They "got the jump" at the start, and although Chicago punctuated their progress with a defeat Sunday, it ly did not change the situation a bit.
