SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

ITS. AUGUSTE VESPERMANN, De For-

Another Operation Avoided. New Orieans, La.—"For years I suf-tered from severe female troubles. Finally I was confined to my bed and the doctor said an operation was neces. sary. I gave Lydia E. Pinkham's Veg-etable Compound a trial first, and was saved from an operation." - Mrs. LILY Prymotx, 1111 Kerlerec St, New Orleans, La.

Thirty years of unparalleled success tonfirms the power of Lydia E. Pink. walk calmiy about, defying the detec-tive, each tacitly understanding the female diseases. The great volume of other in his relative position; one unsolicited testimony constantly pour-ing in proves conclusively that Lydia ratiently and tirelessly picking up. E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a remarkable remody for those distressing feminine ills from which so The methods pursued by detectives many women suffer.

st Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

VICTORIA CLEANSER CO.

Nebraska Directory

Marseilles Corn Shellers

JOHN DEERE PLOW CO., Omaha, Neb.

PILES FINTULA, Pay sten Curel.

er general anerelbetics used. Examinution free.

I TAFT'S DENTAL ROOMS

Oysters, Celery, Poultry.

Cream Wanted.

TVID COLL COMPANY, Ortaba, Neb.

RUBBER GOODS

by mail at est prices. Set 6 for free estalagte MYERS-DILLON DRUG CO., Onuba, heb.

omaha .

Articles Bay Renned & Ferning Bailer

res., 1963 & Fortune Six, Oundry Nets

mmercial

College

HE MOSHER-LAMPMAN BUSINESS

out a surgical operation and to last a lifetime. No chloroform

1517 Douglas St., OMAHA, NEB.

Reliable Dontistry at Moderate Prices.

Dept. C.

Omaha, Neb.

HOIST BY HIS OWN PETARD ties of the last con- were any letters of warning upon the' more." tury, counterfeiting walls, all were too drunk to read them, blossomed into one of or they lacked a sober Daniel to inthe fine arts, and to terpret them.

such perfection was it Under the circumstances it seemed ine.

As insidious enemies of the people tire party. in every walk of life, counterfeiters may well be classed among the most my New York office in Bleeker street have another opera. Ever wide awake and on the alert for tion. I took Lydia E. treachery in their own ranks, these Finkham's Vegeta. crafty rogues can only be captured. The artless appearing fellow said that While bes ber haited traps, or by what is generally known as the stool-pigeon system.

> Counterfeiters are divided into six distinct classes: First, the capitalist or procurer; second, the engraver; third, the printer; fourth, the wholesale dealer; fifth, the retailer, and the chief offender in this line may crumb by crumb, convicting evidence. to entrap counterfeiters are rarely If you want special advice about better illustrated than in the following er, one of the foremost wholesale dealers in "queer" of his day. He was born of respectable parentage, reared in the quietude incident to country life, educated and supplied with a sufficient amount of money wherewith to live like a gentleman and, strangely enough, he chose a path that led to his ultimate ruin.

In the excitement of those tumultuous days the city of New York was well stocked with men possessed of a genius for conceiving and concealing crime. Perhaps no other city in the civilized world has ever afforded a better opportunity for fleecing the public. Gurney had been handling counterfeit money for several years but had managed to escape punishment. He was one of the chief distributors for Joshua D. Miner, who was the head and front of a powerful octopus whose tentacles were stretched out in almost every section of the country.

Gurney was by no means unattractive in appearance, and there were few men walking Brondway in his day whose physique could compare favorably with his. He stood six feet two inches in height and was correpondingly well propertioned, while his expansive chest and well-developed limbs gave him the appearance of a man possessing the muscular strength of a giant. His black eyes were sharp and severe, or mild and pleasant, to suit occasions. In conversation he was easy and interesting and, among strangers, would readily have passed for a gentleman of marked ability. To be a leader among the counterleiting fraternity seemed to have been the crowning glory of his highest amhition. In the spring of 1869 I was appointed chief of the government secret service and, though I had had experience with General Butler in New Orleans, and later in the internal PATENTS Watnes F. Coleman, Wath revenue service, I was unknown among MAN WITH A QUICK MOVEMENT. the counterfeiters. SNA.PPED HANDCUFFS ON GURNEYS

A True Story of the Secret Service COL. H. C. WHITLEY Former Chief U. S. Secret Service

RING the sixties and a tame affair in comparison with the plied Bower cautiously, "but I do and the early seven indulgence of these men. If there not like to take the chances any

"Oh, h-1," replied Gurney. "We've got everything our own way now. The government detectives are all green men and there's no danger of getting brought that, in many advisable to allow these merry plot- caught unless a fellow goes and gives instances, it was ex- ters to pursue their way unmolested himself up." Taking from his walceedingly difficult to until sufficiently off their guard to per- let a $20 counterfeit note on the Nadetect the bogus stuff from the genu- mit the successful carrying out of a tional Shoe and Leather bank of New plan to entrap and apprehend the en- York city, he added: "Here's some fellow carries the bogus money and thing good enough to deceive the dis-

Much of my time was now spent at ciples." After some parleying Bower acsubtle and dangerous persons with where, in due time, Gurney called cepted $300 of the "queer" for the dia- the counterfeit note in payment, and hand. His clothes and the soot upon whom officers of the law have to cope. upon me for the purpose "of paying mond, and I now instructed Bower to receives change in good money. If Ever wide awake and on the alert for bis respects and tendering some in- stay away from Gurney for a couple and convicted by means of carefully when quite young he had been foolish Gurney, that worthy had been coming would indicate guilt and lead almost enough to engage in counterfeiting, to my office every few days to work inevitably to conviction. but had long since abandoned it and me. He imagined that I fully believed was now ready to render the govern- what he said, and that he was regard- pass any counterfeit money but used ment such assistance as he could. I ed as a valuable ally. I always re- instead a good bill in the place of the affected to receive him with open ceived him kindly, and assured him one he received from the carrier. arms, and apparently gulped down as that I had no desire to make arrests That was kept for evidence, and in who took part in the fray. But if he discussed my qualifications over their keeps silent it is conclusive evidence wine at the banquet on Houston WOULD BE OF MORE VALUE in their minds that he cannot stand street. Bower had completely won investigation, and this establishes his Gurney's confidence. Telling him character beyond doubt. It is ac- that he was about to take a trip to cepted by them as sufficient voucher Texas, he inquired if he could buy that he is a member in good standing $3,000 in counterfeit money at a wholein the brotherhood of crooks, and he sale figure.

is then admitted into full fellowship. Shortly after the melce one of the crowd suggested to Butts that he call in the police. He promptly replied: was thereupon received without hesitation or mental reservation. During the next seven or eight months Butts worked with this gang of counterfeiters as a shover of queer.

"Counterfeit shovers," as they are called, usually travel in pairs. One remains outside, while the other takes one bill, enters a place of business, purchases some trifle, tenders this precaution were not observed, the possession of other counterfeit While Bower had been working money, in case of detection and arrest,

Detective Butts, however, did not

"Of course; any amount of it," answered Gurney.

A deal was arranged for its deliv-"No police for me," and the detective Ferry. Bower was to be at a designated spot at a certain time, and Gurney was to pass along, hand over the payment

At the appointed time there was a large crowd standing around the ferry landing waiting for the boat. Bower was there, and a few paces from him stood a seemingly honest tinsmith with a joint of stove-pipe under his O'Leary. arm and a pair of snippers in his his hands and face bore unmistakable witness to his calling. Near by, looking in another direction, stood a stoutly-built business man of ample girth. In one hand he carried a hat box, in the other a valise. In the immediate vicinity was a tall, reverential appearing gentleman, with neat side whiskers, whose white tie and the ministerial cut of his coat were in keeping with the sanctimonious expression of his face.

When the ferry boat struck the dock Gurney stepped off, peered cautiously and carefully around, scanning the faces of those who were standing near. Being satisfied that there were no suspicious persons about, he drew a package from under his coat and stepped toward Bower to deliver it.

At this instant the ministerial-looking man raised his hand. The fat man dropped his luggage and the tinsmith his tools. Both seized Gurney by the arms and held him while the tall brother, with a quick movement, snapped handcuffs on his wrists. Everything was done so quickly that Gurney did not have time to catch his breath before he was securely ironed.

The prisoner was taken to the secret service office. I removed my side whiskers and made some change in my clothing, then entered the office and shook hands with the crestfallen criminal.

During that day and evening the government officers were engaged in arresting the shovers of the gang, against whom Butts had secured evidence. Two of the ex-detectives, guests at Gurney's banquet, had already been arrested for passing counterfeit money-one at Pittsburg and the other at Cincinnati. By 11 o'clock that night the officers had arrested 20 of the gang. They were arranged in a circle at the office, and the right hand of one was handcuffed to the left hand of the next. Gurney, appropriately, happened to be the center-piece.

I could not help a feeling of pity for the unfortunates, but they had voluntarily preyed upon society and transgressed the laws of their land, and the common weal required that they be punished. They were all tried and invicted. most of them entering a

Father O'Leary's Facetious Rejoinder to John Philpot Curran an Example of Real Wit.

One day the famous John Philpot Curran, who was also very partial to the said corned mutton, did me the honor to meet him. To enjoy the soery on the New York side of Fulton ciety of such men was an intellectual treat. They were great friends and seemed to have a mutual respect for each other's talent, and, as it may spurious and receive good money in easly be imagined, O'Leary versus Curran was no bad match.

One day after dinner Curran said to him: "Reverend father, I wish you were St Peter."

"And why, counselor, would you wish that I were St. Peter?" asked

"Because, reverend father, in that case," said Curran, "you would have the keys of heaven, and you could let me in."

"By my honor and conscience, counselor," replied the divine, "it would be better for you that I had the lays of the other place, then I could hit you out."

Curran enjoyed the joke, which he admitted had a good deal of justice in it .- From Kelly's Reminiscences.

WELL AT LAST.

Terrible Kidney Trouble Cured After Doctors Gave Up Hope.

Mrs. F. M. Hill 188 W. 10th St. Waterloo, Iowa, says: "It makes me shudder to think of my awful suffering. I was languid and weak and never free from dull pain in my back. My hands puffed and my feet became so swollen I could not wear my shoes. The kidney secretions were painful and frequent in passage.

I gradually grew weaker until the doctors gave up hope. It was then I began with Doan's Kidney Pills and soon improved. Continued use cured me."

Remember the name-Doan's. For sale by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y

LOOKING FOR TROUBLE.

truth everything he had to offer. Gur- unless forced to do so, and that I did this way he deceived the queersmen

Shortly after my appointment I re ceived information, at my headquarters in Washington, regarding a rather que affair that had taken place at one of the drinking resorts on Houston street, in New York city. Wiliiam Gurney, with his characteristic push and daring, had invited a party of "queersmen" to partake of a hanquet at this place. There were 24 ulous persons present at this function, three

On the following day I was furnished ter a man of such gigantic proportions with the particulars of this remark- and apparently desperate character. able assembly, and the ex-detective who reported it also provided a list to send Mike Bower, a newly-fledged of the banqueters. Among other a good joke upon the government. into Gurney's "boozing-den" on East Gurney addressed his guests, boastfully declaring that "the new chief might do for a preacher or an internal queersmen."

time he advised his friends that he ance of having been nipped from the was going to take the new chief into pocket of some unfortunate citizen. his confidence and keep him well stuffed with fictitious information. and intimated, with a sly wink, that "in the meantime," he continued, "I the watch had been stolen. When posed movements" the school that gets results. Send for logue, which contains full information about the college, and some of the most beautiful penmatelup ever published it is free. Address

AGENTS AVACUUM CLEANEL Retails for $10.00 Marries Better th 22.56 Men and women acti a taken all or opic would them, why not give all or sour time. It's a menory maker. Write Territory will be taken quickly. Ask iptics sold stocial offer tacs. OSITIVELY CURES ALCONOL'O

ure

EBRIETY

EUSPHIZE

UTIUE

HER DRUG ADDICTIONS

sa. Printed m

EELEY INSTITUTE

THIRTY YEARS

This plan pleased the fancy of the scoundreis, and they agreed that Gur- boy. When you want anything, come of the place, a fight arose. The deney was a great man. They were to me." stated at the tables imbibing wine, After a few days Bower again ap- stretched out several of the fellows, declared that everything about the and they drank to Gurney's health proached Gurney, this time with a thorgh he was badly beaten up in the government detective headquarters while the exdetectives and counter- diamond stud that had been slipped end, and in addition was robbed of was known to him before it transfeiters jostled elbows and bandled from its fastenings. "I need some his pocketbook and watch. jokes good-naturedly as they contem- more money," said Bower. plated the casy times in store for | Gurney inspected the gem with an sion are peculiar. When a crowd of up over his imaginary success that he wine and enthusiasm, they capped the "You are a good one. Did you ever another, and if the victim calls in the ing on in my office. climax by hurrahing for his satanic handle any of the 'queer?" majesty. The feast of Belshazzar was | "I took a little hand in it once," re- loses the confidence of the rogues arrest of the entire party who had

THE DETECTIVE STRETCHED OUT SEVERAL OF THE FELLOWSney was well fitted to deceive with a | not believe in using harsh measures | for months, and secured evidence to plausible story, for he seemed candid unnecessarily. Gurney fairly chuckled convict about twenty of the Gurney in manner and well equipped in every at this simplicity and was thrown party.

THE MINISTERIAL-LOOKING

WRISTS

way to impose upon the most incred- completely off his guard. The officers of the secret service and spoke of the possible existence of voting his time to Gurney and the ex-detectives being among the num- all considered him a dangerous per- counterfeit plates that might be other leaders. On one occasion Bower son and none was anxious to encoun-My first move against Gurney was government detective, to form his ac- permitted to blarney along and play cheerful and innocent as a Raphael things I learned that my appointment quaintance. Bower was selected be- the game to his own liking, secure in cherub. The rascal appeared with a as chief of the secret service was dis- cause his appearance was anything the belief that he was completely de- bland smile and informed me that he cussed at the affair, and pronounced but that of a detective. Bower drifted ceiving the government officials. Bleeker street where, after loitering tentiary, had been secured. Many of him, and invited him to dine. around drinking and smoking for a week or two, he one day called Gur- his old confederates were now opera- We selected a table where Gurney revenue clerk, but that he could ney aside and told him he was broke ting with the Gurney gang and, never cope with shrewd men like the and must have a little money. He through him, Bill Butts, a fresh-look- His information, as usual, was indrew from his inside pocket a gold ing detective from one of the western definite, hearsay, with no particular "Now is our opportunity," he said, watch with a short piece of chain states, was introduced to several of point to it. He told me that my pol-"to reap a rich harvest." At the same hanging from it, giving it the appear. the men who made their headquarters icy of being easy with the counter-Gurney snapped at the bait at once "shoving the queer."

0

27

At first the counterfeiters and will draw out from him his plans and Bower finally admitted as much Gur- thieves hanging around the place ap- hand was resting on the package of keep myself posted as to his pro- ney seemed pleased and bought the peared to be suspicious of Butts. One counterfeit money that had just been watch at about one-third its value, day, however, when these villians purchased from him by Bower. remarking: "You're all right, my were drinking beer in the back room tective went in with the rest and terview and, in a burst of enthusiasm,

The ethics of the criminal profesthem. When sufficiently filled with appreciative eye, and finally said: crooks fight they frequently rob one really believed he knew what was gopolice to recover his property he The time now seemed ripe for the

He assumed an air of great mystery gang of shovers, Bower had been dereached for a reward. He would not, purchased $500 of counterfeit money he declared, accept a dollar for his from Gurney, and this he handed to personal services but, because of his me as I was on my way to dinner at great fancy for me, was ready to as- the St. Clair house. As I entered the sist in every way possible. He was restaurant I met Gurney looking as had come there especially to see me In the meantime the services of an about counterfeiting transatcions out old counterfeiter, fresh from the peni- west. I took him by the hand, thanked could talk without being overheard. at a saloon on the Bowery. Butts in- feiters was working like a charmformed the barkeeper of the saloon that there was no counterfeit money that he had just served a term for in circulation in the east-in fact, he had not seen a bad dollar in six months. At that very moment my

> A few days later Gurney told Bower, in a boasting way, of this inpired. He asserted that he was one of my assistants, and was so puffed

While Butts had been busy with the plea of guilty. The boastful Gurney now fully realized the trap into which he had learn to run his auto." fallen. He had been hoisted by his "Why not?" own potard, a circumstance that seemed to humiliate him almost beyond measure. With little or no pressame time." sure he weakened and confessed that he had received his counterfeit money SICK. SOUR. UPSET STOMACH from Joshua D. Miner, who was the capitalist that owned the plates upor which the National Shoe and Leathtwenties were printed.

Among the secret service officers Miner was known to be a counterfeiter, but on account of his great wealth and political standing, he was considered a difficult man to grapple with. He was a large city contractor at this time, and employed about one hundred men opening up a new road at the end of Ninth avenue.

Gurney was altogether too timid to make a deal with Miner in order to give the officers an opportunity to capture him red-handed, but he finally agreed to go with me to see Miner who, he believed, would surrender that $20 counterfeit plates for the purpose of shortening his sentence.

Leaving a carriage on the boulevard, I walked with Gurney a short distance on Sixty-ninth street towa.d Miner's house. We met Miner on the sidewalk and I was introduced by Gurney, who then explained the trouble he had gotten himself into. Miner said he could do nothing for him and, as a last resort, I requested Miner to step aside with me, where 1 told him that I was convinced that he was the owner of the counterfeit plates of the National Shoe and Leather bank. This he firmly denied, but I insisted and threatened to arrest him. He finally said that he would make an effort to secure the plates. I knew what this meant and, upon his promise to meet me the tollowing day, I left him.

Miner appeared on time, but was still doubtful in regard to his ability to make the surrender demanded. He was a hard nut to crack but, before we parted, I succeeded in convincing him, by the use of language not less threatening than it was forcible, that it was for his interest to surrender the plates. This he now promised to do and, shortly after another interview at his home, I received a check for a piece of baggage at the Grand Central depot. A detective went to the baggage room at this depot and obtained an old hair trunk in which were found the plates. According to promise, Gurney, through my intercession and explanation, was given a sentence of seven years instead of the maximum sentence of fifteen.

(Copyright, 1910, by W. G. Chapman.)

"I am going into the country." Piton's

Genera -"No, I don't think Reggy will ever

"He's always trying to roll a cigarette and guide the machine at the Indigestion, Gas, Heartburn or Dyspepsia Relieved Five Minutes After Taking a Little Diapepsin.

Here is a harmless preparation which surely will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour, gassy or outof-order stomach within five minutes. If your meals don't fit comfortably, or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of Indigestion. Get from your Pharmacist a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and take a dose just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, Nausea, Debilitating Headaches, Dizziness or Intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour fool left over in the stomach to polson your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is waiting for you at any drug store here in town.

These large 50-cent cases of Pane's Diapepsin contain more than sufficient to thoroughly cure almost any case of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Gastritis or any other stomach disorder.

Too Free.

Seymour-What caused the Allcome Life Insurance company to fail? Ashley-It was altogether too free in accepting risks. I don't believe it would have even refused to insure the life of a turkey-the day before Thanksgiving."

What Murine Eye Remedy Does to the Eyes is to Refresh, Cleanse, Strengthen and Stimulate Healthful Circulation, Promoting Normal Conditions. Try Murine in your Eyes.

Capacity. Knicker-How many will your motor car hold? Bocker-Five and a cop.

Sore throat leads to Tonsilitis, Quinsy and Diphtheria. Hamlins Wisard Oil used as a gargle upon the first symptome of a sore throat will invariably prevent all three of these dread diseases.

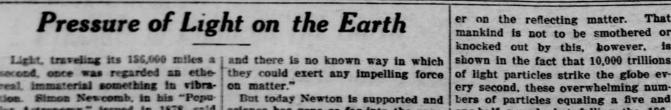

There is said to be a professor of languages in an eastern college who on a holiday, he wrote to Piton, "Eo has mastered all the modern tongues rus," which is the complete Latin for -except his wife's.

> Mrs. Winstow's Sootning Syrup For children teething, softens the gums, reduces commation aliays pain cures wind colle. Ze a box

A conventional man is one whose action you can predict ahead of time

Lewis' Single Binder straight 5c cigat s made to satisfy the smoker.

Silence may give consent or it may give offense.

Light, traveling its 156,000 miles a j and there is no known way in which shown in the fact that 10,000 trillions

ar Astronomy," issued in 1878, said science has gone so far into the pres- | one-half pound shot falling the 186.of this: "If light were an emission sure of light as to figure that this 000 miles in a second. Unless some of material particles, as Newton sup- light pressure on the globe reaches unknown influence suddenly should cosed it to be, this supposed pressure 74.000 tons. Further, along the lines of light is now conceived to consist of vibrations in an othereal medium of light, the pressure being great-of vibrations in an othereal medium of light, the pressure being great-of death from the shots or of a knocked out by this, however, is us.

ery second, these overwhelming num But today Newton is supported and bers of particles equaling a five and congeal the immeasurable corpuscles er on the reflecting matter. That darkness, relieved only by the siz- letter. So, when Voltaire was starting mankind is not to be smothered or zling whitehot missiles bombarding The Briefest Letters.

answer was just "I"-complete Latin for "Go!" The tick on the new post Even the new French ready printed postcards, upon which you have only card can hardly be shorter than that to tick off the sentences that fit your single letter. In business correspondcase, do not beat the record of brevity ence the record is divided between Victor Hugo, who, anxious to know in a holiday correspondence estabhow his "Les Miserables" was going, lished by a Frenchman in the eigh-