County Option Killed
The senate on Tuesday killed the County Option bill by a vote of 17 to 16.
Bartling of Otoe turned the trick it was predicted he would.

The house passed the capital removal bill Tuesday. It is now up to the senate.

A bill is before the legislature calling for a board of pardons. It should be passed by all means, taking the power of granting pardons, commutations of convicts and paroles out of the hands of the governor.

The Missouri capitol building at Jefferson City was burned to the ground last Sunday evening, with a consequent loss of over a million dollars. Already St. Louis is figuring on securing the removal of the capitol to that city. The fire originated by lightning striking the dome of the building.

A bill has been introduced in the legislature for an appropriation to build a steel and concrete grand stand on the State Fair grounds. The fair belongs to the people and such an addition would be valuable, commodious and safeguard to the people in event of fire or panic. The old grandstand of wood is a tinder box and you can imagine the result in case of fire from any cause when crowded with humanity.

There is a bill before the legislature providing that only the equity a person holds in real estate shall be assessed to him. As the law stands now, he is assessed for the full value of his holdings, no matter how little he has paid, while the holder of the indebtedness against the land is also assessed on the mortgage indebtedness, thus making a double taxation, which is manifestly unjust. The bill should become law by all means.

Petitions are in circulation asking the county board to submit at a special election a proposition to build a new court house for Sherman county.
The old building is not only an eyesore to the people, but is considered entirely unsafe for the records of the county in case of fire. The Northwestern is heartily in favor of the proposition and will from time to time give facts and figures showing in no uncertain light the necessity of a new commodious and safe building for the county and safeguard to the records.

Two years ago, Senator Tanner, a democratic senator and newspaper man of South Omaha introduced and passed a bill taking the publication of amendments out of the hands of republican newspapers, by taking the selection out of the hands of a republican secretary of state and placing it in the hands of the democratic governor. Now this year, when the republicans have both the governor and secretary, this same democratic Tanner introduces a bill to have such constitutional amendments published in two papers in each county, representing opposite parties. Because Tanner's democratic newspaper boys are now in the soup, so to speak, he wants to get them back to the pie counter, by doubling the cost of printing amendments. Why did not Tanner introduce such a bill two years ago, instead of handing republican papers the lemon he did?

tistry" at the Bowen High School.

Webster township has some of the best roads in the county. Why not buy an engine to go with that new road grader? You all know the work that was accomplished in one day from F. A. Pinckney's west to Chris Zwink's. Now, if an engine was attached to that heavy grader it would be possible to work all the main roads as well as all other side roads. Three men could do the work with an engine in less than a month, and it could then be kept in shape with little expense.

After a Long Sick Spell

After a long drawn-out siege of illness the blood stream is impoverished—the nerves are strung and the muscles are weak, flabby and in dire need of nourishment.
New blood must be furnished—the blood cells must perform their proper function—nourishment must be supplied to the body tissues and the nerves toned up to their proper tension—now energy must be supplied throughout.

Nyal's Emulsion of God Liver Oil is especially indicated in convalescence and in any weakened condition of the system

As a reconstructive tonic it creates a new blood supply—supplies nourishment to the tissues and lays the foundation for a speedy recovery. It increases the appetite and assists the digestive juices—corrects faulty assimilation of food—soothes, quiets and tones up the nerves.

Nyal's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is a flesh producer and as such we recommend it in preference to any other—the benefits are positive.

You may not like your merchant, but without the home mer-
