Quiet Wedding

Sunday afternoon, March 5, 1911, at 3 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. A. L. Zimmerman in this city, occurred the marriage of Mr. Clifford Bone and Miss Nora May Henderson, Rev. D. W. Montgomery officiating, only the immediate relatives being present. Some two weeks since, this office printed invitations for a double wedding, the young couple above being one of the happy pairs. The double wedding was to have been celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bone in Webster township last evening, Wednesday, March 8, but unfortunately about a week since the would-be groom, Mr. C. Henderson, who was to wed Miss May Bone, was quarantined for small pox in this city, making it necessary to postpone their marriage for the time being, and the former young people concluded they would not wait, but be united in wedlock at once. We understand they will live on the farm of the groom's parents, who will move to Loup City. While the Northwestern, with the host of friends of the newly wedded pair will offer heartfelt congratulations, they will as well sympathize with the others who are obliged to postpone the happy event till a later date.

Holmes-Goodwin

Last evening, March 8, 1911, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Goodwin, in Clay township, occurred the marriage of their daughter, Cecelia R. to Mr. Robert L. Holmes, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. George Holmes of Bristol township, the Rev. W. C. Harper of this city officiating. The ceremony took place at 8:30 with Mr. Roland Goodwin brother of the bride, as best man, and Miss Eleanor Holmes, sister of the groom, as bridesmaid. Following the ceremony, an elegant supper was served by the charming hostess, to the large number of invited guests present to enjoy the most felicitous occasion. The young people go to housekeeping at once on the groom's farm in Harrison township. May their future be filled with happiness and prosperity.

Death of C. H. Brown

The many friends of W. O. and E. A. Brown will hear with sorrow of the death of their eldest brother, C. H. Brown, at Batavia, Ill., last Friday evening at 11 o'clock, after an illness of several months' duration. Mr. Brown had been postmaster of Batavia for many years, and one of its honored and best citizens. He was well known here, and it is only two or three years since he and his good wife visited the brothers and many friends here. The following is taken from a Batavia local paper: "At 11 o'clock last night death ended the long struggle for health made by Cornwall H. Brown, who since Wednesday has been in an unconscious condition. All Batavia mourns the loss of this man, who was one of the best citizens that the town ever had. Mr. Brown was a native of Batavia, being born May 21, 1853, on First street, the same street on which he died. When fourteen years of age he started working in the local postoffice and he has gradually worked up step by step until June 1890, President McKinley appointed him to the postmastership. For a time he was mail clerk on the mail train. He was also at one time private secretary of the VanNorthwicks. Later he was associated with the bank of Mallory and Jones. In his public career he was twice elected mayor of Batavia, was an alderman and was at one time a member of the West Batavia school board. The funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the late home. Interment will take place in the West Batavia cemetery."

Decoration Day

In a few short weeks will come Decoration Day. Appropriately on this memorable occasion, E. N. Pritchard, director of our splendid band, intends getting up a program of music and entertainment, which can but meet with the approval of our entire citizenship. In doing so, he wishes the co-operation of some twenty to thirty, or even more of our ladies and children in preparation for the day to assist in making impressive certain parts of the program. Efforts will soon be made to interest them in the occasion, and we call attention to this early that an early formation of the plans may be made, and the day be one of the greatest interest of any Decoration Day ever held in this city.

On Tuesday evening, the members of the O. E. S. of this city, to the number of some forty, were entertained at a three-course dinner at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Main, the evening being spent in playing flinch and a good social time enjoyed. The occasion also being a rehearsal of the marriage of the genial host and hostess, the brothers and sisters of the order presented them with a handsome leather rocker, in remembrance of the occasion.

County Clerk Dieterichs is certainly having a run of hard luck. About three weeks since his family was quarantined and Mr. Dieterichs was banished from home for the time being. Just as he was given to understand the embargo was nearly off, his two little daughters came down and the quarantine was called for, ward another period of time. And besides that, Mrs. Dieterichs being unable to attend to the increased duties of the household and care of the sick, Mr. Dieterichs has suffered himself to be quarantined, that he may assist the good wife in her overburdened cares.

Geo. Bowman Suicides

Postmaster Grow yesterday received from J. F. Jeffords the following account of the suicide of George Bowman: "Bridgeport, Neb., March 7.—George Bowman shot himself last night at 10:30. Billy and Jim were sitting up with him. He had a revolver and a razor in bed with him. He ordered them out of the house and told them of his intention, but had them so badly scared they did not know what to do. They went out, and he fixed the bed to suit him, and then shot himself in the back of the head, dying immediately. He will be buried here Wednesday. George Bowman came to Loup City some ten years ago, with his wife, one son, Will Bowman, and a brother, James. Since coming here the family made several moves to Colorado, Missouri and other points, invariably returning to Loup City. Last September they moved to Bridgeport, where they had a claim, George being at Denver, and afterwards joining them. For years he had been an intense sufferer from Bright's disease and rheumatic troubles, from which he had slight relief at times, and the news of his ending his sufferings in the above summary manner comes with little surprise to those who knew him here."
