Newark, N. J. is the first town in America to try telephone news service. There are some people on party lines in this vicinity who have been getting this news that way for a long time.

One Lincoln man called another a liar and now the other, meaning the one who was called, brings suit for $10,000 damages. We are willing to admit that we are a liar for half the money.

It cost a Tecumseh young man $25 to attempt to hug his best girl while escorting her home the other evening. Even $25 per is pretty heavy let alone that amount for an unsuccessful attempt.

An Omaha debating society has decided that a horse is more desirable than a woman. Notwithstanding this we presume people will still go on mortgaging their homes for the latter.

An Ohio man boasts that he can rock the cradle with one hand and button his wife's dress with the other. We presume also that the gentleman has learned to speak distinctly with his mouth full of pins.

The Burlington estimates the corn crop for this year at between 5,000,000 and 10,000,000 bushels better than last year. Others who have equal opportunities for getting information place it at less than last year.

Thomas Parker, a three-year-old child of Jersey City, N. J., threw stones and hit one Joseph R. Blumenthal and the latter had the little fellow arrested on charge of assault and battery. Joseph should have the sympathy of the entire community.

The Bankers of the state met in Omaha Monday and Tuesday of this week. Several noted speakers were present and the meeting ended with a banquet at the Omaha Field Club. Loup City was ably represented at the meeting by Mr. Austin of the Loup City State Bank.

Lafollette is unfortunate in his Nebraska booster. The fame of Frank Harrison is such that his red-handed attempt at butchery of all who favor the immortal Frank does not favor, will put quite a damper on Lafolletteism throughout Nebraska.

Dr. Wiley, the pure food expert, will not give his scalp over to his enemies. President Taft upholding the chief chemist. Now what will Taft's defamers, who felt sure the president would be a puppet in the hands of his advisers, say to this?

"There is a difference between a vacuum cleaner and a patent milking machine, although they work on the same principle," says the Custer County Beacon. You can see the latter in operation if you visit the farm of Ed Gibson near Comstock. With the machine one man can milk eighty cows in about the same length of time it would take him to milk one by the old hand method.

Tuesday and Wednesday at North Loup the annual "Pop Corn Days" were celebrated. The citizens of that thriving little city provide a novel entertainment for their visitors in as much as there is no admission charged to any of the attractions, no entrance fee to any of the contests and quantities of pop corn, coffee, with cream, sandwiches etc are free to all.

The Ravenna News of last week is responsible for the following: "The story comes from Lincoln that a baby was recently born, and it was desired to ascertain its weight, but unfortunately there was nothing in the house in the way of a pair of scales, so next morning when the baby was wrapped in a napkin and taken out and weighed in the iceman's scales. It weighed 36 pounds."

Since Harmon has received the nomination for railway commissioner Mike Harrington had subsided till a few days ago, when he opened his sluice gates of wrath on the successful Nebraska Harmon. He claims the combined railroad and liquor interest and that at the primaries even then he received less than half the votes of the three other candidates and only received a small plurality vote. It is evident Mike will use all his influence to encompass the defeat of the alleged railroad candidate, but that will hardly be necessary as his defeat has been assured since the day of his successful nomination by a small plurality of the democratic vote.

Girls Hunt Up Grandmothers

Edith M. Weidenfeld, writing in the fashion department of the October Woman's Home Companion says: "Fortunate is the woman who inherited from her grandmother or her great-grandmother, a handsome lace shawl either black or white, for lace shawls arranged in new ways are again in vogue. One of the new ways of using an old-fashioned lace shawl is in the sleeveless jackets seen a great deal in Paris and New York just now and though many of them are made of silk or satin, those of lace are decidedly modish. It is caught in at the right waistline with a black and white silk cord and it fastens in front with tiny black buttons. A lace shawl used like this would be all the trimming necessary for a plain satin or chiffon gown."

HEALTH AS AN INVESTMENT

Fraternal Orders, Labor Unions and Insurance Cos. Erect Tuberculosis Sanatoria

As an investment in the health of their members, four large fraternal orders, two international labor unions and one of the largest insurance companies in the United States have established sanatoria for the treatment of tuberculosis according to a statement issued today by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis. The Royal League the first fraternal order to establish a sanatorium conducts a hospital for its tuberculosis members at Black Mountain. The Modern Woodman of America conducts one at Colorado Springs, the Woodman Circle at Liberty New York, and the Independent Order of Foresters have one at Rainbow Lake, N. Y., and will soon open a second one at San Fernando, Cal. The International Typographical Union has since 1898 conducted a sanatorium at Colorado Springs, and the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants Union of America has recently opened a new institution at Rogersville, Tenn. The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company is now erecting a sanatorium at Mt. McGregor N. Y., which will be the first of its kind to be established by an "old line" insurance company. In addition to these institutions already established, the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, the Foresters of America, the Knights of Columbus, the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, and several other orders conducting fraternal activities are erecting sanatoria for their tuberculosis members. Some of the large fraternal orders and labor unions like Ladies of the Maccabees of the World the International Photo-Engravers Union and others conduct educational campaigns against tuberculosis though they do not have sanatoria of their own. The Equitable Life Assurance Society also has recently established a "Conservation Department" in which the prevention of tuberculosis will be given especial attention. Other insurance companies are considering similar action. Since the membership of the leading fraternal orders alone is nearly 15,000,000 the National Association estimates that about 30,000 members of these lodges die of tuberculosis alone every year. Since more than half of these lives could be saved at a comparatively small outlay, the Association figures that the fraternal orders are losing millions every year in death claims which might be saved.

Where He Got It

"Yes, Sir," says the man with the determined air, "I heard my boy using slang last week, and I soon put a stop to it." Children are apt to pick up slang expressions very readily," soothingly says the man with the benignant look. "Well, I didn't bother about investigating as to where he got on to such a line of talk. I just trotted the youngster into the bed room, took up my slipper and told him this slangy way of handing out conversation didn't go in my neck of the woods, and he had to cut it out forthwith or else he would get what was coming to him. And you can bet your life he laid down his hand right away."—Exchange

FILLING TEETH WITH CEMENT

Plastic Mass Cannot Be Classed As Permanent, but It Has Many Advantages.

Nearly every one, at some time in his life, has had a cement filling placed in a tooth, and yet to most people the subject of cement fillings is a hazy one. Many confuse this filling with amalgam, porcelain and gutta-percha, and while it may have characteristics akin to these three, yet it is of an entirely different order.

Those who wish their teeth attended to intelligently can do no better than to investigate the merits of the different kinds of filling, for although it is the usual thing to leave this matter to the dentist, there is a great deal of truth in the proverb about two heads being better than one.

Cements usually consist of a powder and a liquid, which, when well mixed together with a spatula, will produce a plastic mass that in time will become hard. Those who have ever watched workmen laying a concrete curbing will see this process on a large scale.

If cements were only durable they would make the ideal filling, for they present many desirable characteristics. Among these may be mentioned the ease of matching the color of the tooth, the sticky quality, which adds strength to the tooth, the low cost, the ease and quickness of insertion, and the fact that the tooth filled with cement needs less cutting than when other materials are used.

Even if cement cannot be classed as permanent, it still ranks as a very valuable filling material. In children's teeth, in frail teeth, in discolored teeth and in teeth where temporary work is required, it has a useful field. As a medium for attaching crowns, bridges, posts, inlays and bands it is unexcelled. It is largely used for sealing medicines in the treatment of teeth, and some cements have certain antiseptics incorporated in them to serve as treatments.

The poor have often blessed the cement filling for preserving their teeth until they were able to bear the expense of more permanent work.

Cement, like any other temporary filling, is good in its place, but too much must not be expected of it, and it will bear close watching. (Copyright, Western Newspaper Union.)
