Bryan asks the republicans to help elect the democratic state ticket this fall. Bryan is never modest in his requests; but what will he promise in return?

Gov. Aldrich threatens to oust the county attorney of Douglass county for being direct in prosecuting the fraudulent voting in that county at the last election.

The last two sessions of democrat legislature increased appropriations nearly three millions of dollars. Mr. Bryan did not say anything about that in his speech here.

Brer. Beushausen thinks he saw at least fifteen hundred people out to hear Bryan while here. Even a prohibition editor sometimes lays him self under suspicion by seeing double.

One of our exchanges came to hand last week with an article headed "Brain Cells Developed." By taking a glance at its columns, one would never think it happened on that paper.

A cartoon lately published, shows Aunt Democracy standing over a cradle in which rests a baby labelled "Progressive," and she says: "Oh, you dear little thing; of course I'll adopt you." See the point?

Governor Aldrich in his speech at Superior on October 12th, asserted that every piece of organized and constructive legislation placed upon the statute books of Nebraska has been placed there by the republican party.

Bryan urges the republicans to nominate LaFollette president. Bryan is always anxious for democratic supremacy, hence his anxiety for republicans to encompass their own defeat. It is always wise not to follow the advice of your political opponents.

The Fremont Tribune of late date tells of a resident who was out watching the new comet when he avers the tail suddenly broadened and a moment later the head burst, emitting a multitude of stars. The Tribune does not state the brand of chain lightning, nor just what he struck his head on in falling.

We received a pleariant call last Thursday morning from Mr. Frank P. Hart, who is about to start a second paper at Sargent, and who is concluding his arrangements therefor. It seems there is quite an ill-feeling in that town against the editor of the Leader among the business men, which culminates in the second paper being started. The first number will be issued shortly.

C. S. Eckert of Lincoln is the new editor of the St. Paul Republican, making his bow to the readers last week. He promises well and we wish for him success in his new field of labor. Now we wonder how long the dove of peace will hover over the editorial sanctums of the Republican and Phonograph-Press, and if the dove stays just how long it will take for the readers to get accustomed to the new order of things.

It must be a novel and not altogether pleasant sensation to the railroads to be obliged to ask the railway commissioner whether they can add or take off trains on their roads. The other day the Burlington officials went before the commission to find if they were willing for them to take off two local trains on their line in this state during the winter months. A few years ago the idea advanced to them that such would ever be the law would have caused apoplectic strokes.

The republican party, always the party of progress, has given to Nebraska the two-cent passenger rate law; the law prohibiting railroad passes; the law insuring inspection and uniform tests of dairy products; the direct primary law; the pure food law; the law compelling fifteen per cent reduction of freight rates on live stock, grain, lumber, coal, etc; the law compelling twenty-five per cent reduction of express rates; the law providing for municipal taxation of railway terminals; the employers liability law; the law empowering the state railway commission to prohibit rebates, discriminations and special rates to corporations. Vote for the party that does things.

A Campaign Canard

In this latter day few people pay much attention to stories started by the opposition to any man's candidacy and the usual thing is to ignore such reports, which, while having little force, seem as prolific as in the palmy days of rhorbacks. Aneut such faulty stories, our attention is called to a peculiarly exasperating canard afloat regarding the candidacy of F. M. Henry, republican nominee for the office of county treasurer, that he is walking round on crutches, for which he has no use, the same being done to create sympathy in his favor. That this is manifestly unfair, even cruelly so, we will relate again the cause of Mr. Henry's painful accident, following with a letter from the eminent surgeon, Dr. Allison of Omaha, as to the serious results arising therefrom. Some weeks since, Mr. Henry was called to Iowa to adjust some business matters. Returning home, and as he was changing cars at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, in alighting from his car on a dimly lighted platform, he fell across the tongue of a baggage truck, sustaining an injury to his right knee from which he was laid up for weeks after reaching home and from which he is at present a severe sufferer, and necessitates the constant use of the crutches so painful to the sensitiveness of Mr. Henry's political opponents. A few days ago, the injured member seeming to gain little headway and the sufferings from the injury causing sleepless agonizing hours of pain, he went to Omaha and consulted Dr. C. C. Allison, everywhere recognized as one of the nation's experts in surgery, who submitted the following report of his diagnose of the case: Omaha, Nebr., Oct. 17, 1911.—Following my examination of one F. M. Henry, who alleges injuries to the right knee on the 2d day of June, 1911, I beg to report that the right knee measures fifteen inches, and the left knee fourteen and one-half inches. The palpable temperature of the right knee is greater than the left; the chief tenderness is over the upper extremity of the tibia, and the conditions present, as I understand them, are usually named traumatic osteo-arthritis, involving also the periosteum. On account of the location, namely, the end of a long bone, this ailment is usually very slow in reaching convalescence, and it is my opinion that it will be many months before a complete cure is established, and it may be necessary surgically to establish multiple puncture of the bone for the purpose of drainage, before a cure is attained. Respectfully C. C. ALLISON, M. D.

We trust that Mr. Henry's opponents will not further traffic over his condition nor seek to make political capital out of his unfortunate physical injury.

Bryan predicts success for the democratic state ticket. Bryan always was a poor prophet.

Uncle Lou Williams could get no end of letters of endorsement of his candidacy for sheriff, but he does not need them. His record as sheriff is sufficient. He does not need to run—just sit down and keep possession another two years.

Clark Perkins, secretary of the state railway commission, has resigned the secretaryship and purchased the Aurora Republican. Mr. Perkins was for many years owner of the St. Paul Republican and later editor of the Aurora paper, to which latter love he returns. Mr. Perkins is one of the most enterprising of Nebraska's young newspaper men, and we are glad to have him back in the editorial harness again. Jas. Schoonover, the former Republican man is deputy oil inspector and will put his entire time in that work.

THE STATE TICKET
Less than two weeks now intervene till the fall election. One week from next Tuesday, to make it more pointed the voters of Nebraska will say who they want for their public servants for the coming two years, so far as certain offices are concerned. In the state at large, three judges of the supreme court, two state regents and one man to fill a vacancy in the railway commissionership, caused by death, constitute the sum total of the state ticket. There is no reason that will stand the light of investigation why Judges Rose and Letton should not be returned to the positions they have so ably filled. They have made splendid business and ideal jurists, and we believe the voters will so register the 7th day of November. For regents of the State University, Messrs. Haller and Lyford, the republican candidates, are men above reproach, of large experience in educational matters, and will make ideal regents and proper hands into which to entrust the interests of our great University. For railway commissioner, Thomas L. Hall of Lincoln stands in the very highest esteem of all and not a breath of suspicion of corporate control can be claimed as blown upon him, while even high in democratic councils are to be found those who claim the democratic candidate is the railroad candidate and if elected will besimply a tool of those corporations. Whether that be true or not, where there is so much smoke there lies a very strong suspicion of fire beneath, and in electing Mr. Hall the voters will eliminate the smoke with possible fire to cause it.

What is your Family Worth?
If your family is worth the best you can afford in house and food and clothes is it not worth the best reading—best for boys and girls, best for men and women—is to be found in The Youth's Companion.

Gard from Prof. Currier

Rockville, Neb., Oct. 21, 1911.
To the Voters of Sherman County:

As I cannot leave my school duties at Rockville to see each of you personally, I wish to make you just a short talk through the columns of this paper.

Although I made an extensive canvass before the primary, there is a large number of voters that I have not had the pleasure of meeting. I would like very much to meet all of the voters of the county, but my school duties require all of my time and attention, and as I will be in school work here until the first of the year, I will have no time for driving. I desire to thank those who, without regard to political affiliation, spoke kindly of me before the primary and urged my nomination.

I wish to repeat a few of the statements that I made before the primary in regard to my qualifications for the office of county superintendent. I completed the high school course at Sioux Falls, S. Dak. I received my normal school education at Madison State Normal, Madison, So. Dak. and at the Nebraska State Normal at Wayne, of which school I am a graduate.

I have had several years' experience as teacher in the country schools. I taught as principle of the Litchfield Schools one year, as principle at Ash-ton two years, and principle of the Rockville schools three years and I also taught as principle of schools in Iowa and South Dakota before coming to Nebraska.

Having taught in both country and graded schools, and I am in a position to judge of and also to be in sympathy with both graded and rural teacher.

I am married and have four children and am thus better enabled to study childhood, and to work for its development into useful citizenship. It also enables me to see the situation from a parent's standpoint. The office of county superintendent is one of the most important among county offices, and one to which one is qualified only by actual experience.

One significant circumstance is the fact that I received the strongest support from the people among whom I have been working, as shown by the votes in the primary election. Thanking you in advance for any assistance you may render, and assuring you if elected I shall do my best for the children of the county and for the upbuilding of our entire educational system, I am Very respectfully L. H. CURRIER.

WE deal in A. B. Kirschbaum & Co. Clothes for these reasons:
Because Kirschbaum Clothes are the clothes sold by progressive merchants everywhere. And, more particularly, because the Kirschbaum standard of quality, tailoring, finish and style squares with our ideas of what we want to offer our most particular customers.
There is never any question about the fabric. A suit or an overcoat with the Kirschbaum Cherry Tree Brand label is as surely "All-Wool" as the coat on a sheep's back.
Kirschbaum tailoring is hand tailoring—shape and style are needle molded into the cloth by hand and will stay, insuring permanent good looks.
Prices, $15, $18, $20, $22, $25.
The Kirschbaum Special $18 "True Blue," Heavy Weight Serge Suits are hand-tailored, fast-color, "top-style" clothes—a new suit for any that fades.
