Along R. R. No. 2.

Kuhl Bros. shelled corn for Henry Nelsner and Alfred Jorgensen the past week.

Stewart McFadden has rented V.
T. Westcotts place for next year.

Carl Vian was breaking a colt last week.

Miss Anna Steuthelt was doing dressing at W. Hawks last week.

Miss Ruby Vian visited at the home of Jess Fletcher the past week.

Roy Conger will be home soon.

Alfred Jorgensen sold his corn to the W. H. Gunn ranch.

John Squires went to St. Paul Saturday and stayed over Sunday with his wife, who is at the hospital there.

Daniel Holmberg came near being killed last week when on his way home from town. In some manner the wagon tongue broke in two places letting the wagon run into the horses.

One part of the tongue was forced through one of the horses feet and Mr. Holmberg was picked up, unconscious, but at this writing is getting along as well as could be expected.

Please mail your Christmas packages. Get your stamps of the mail carrier.

Luther Goodwin and John Holm have been hauling hay from the west side of the river this week.

The debate at the school house on Wiggle Creek last Friday night was won by the ladies.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Snyder and family visited at the home of Fred Johnson's, Sunday.

Will Bihrens sold 20 tons of hay to E. G. Taylor the first part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Miller visited at Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Koch Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hans Deitz and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs.
Will Brehens.

Clear Creek Items

A party was given at the home of Mrs. Bryan last Friday evening in honor of Miss Rosa Schmidt.

Mr. Russel and Lewis Adam were Grand Island visitors Saturday.

Mr. Claude Stapeleton and Mr.
Harry Zahn are spending a few days at Shelton, Nebr.

A Christmas tree and program will be given at the Lone Elm schoolhouse next Saturday evening. All are cordially invited.

Mr. Miller and Virgil Weller have been shelling corn in this neighborhood during the past week.

Every fall our exchanges print numerous recipes for the cure of cornstalk disease, but no one ever yet in our knowledge found them to be of any benefit. Here however, is a cure all for the disease: On some convenient hill, if you are fortunate enough to have one, dig a cistern as wide and deep as you want to. Cement this in the same manner as though you wished it to hold water. Get a chopper such as is generally used for preparing ensilage. When your corn is hard the husks beginning to turn a little brown but the stalks still green cut whole bladed corn field, chop it up and dump it into the cistern, spreading it around carefully so that it will pack down evenly. Put a floor over the hole and a roof over the whole. When winter comes draw this fodder out with a windlass or a horse and feed it to the stock. Everything will eat it and prefer it to alfalfa or any other of the best feeds. And you will thrive and such a thing as cornstalk disease will be unknown. Furthermore the cost of corn husking will be saved and your corn field will feed out 40 per cent more than it does now. It will cost you some work in the early fall but you will have a bank account in a few years if you will follow this advice, where you have an overdraft now. If you can't put your sto down then put it up using some of the many well-known makes. But by all means have one of some sort. If you are going to put it down in a hill it will be a good winter job this winter.—Ord Quiz.

A Parental Duty

William Hawley Smith said in part of a lecture pertaining to schools as follows:

"You will go out three times a day to see how the hogs are getting along but you will not go into the school from September to June to see how the children are getting along; and yet the children are all that makes life worth living. There is no power that wields so great an influence on the minds of your children, as the public school, and what is done there you ought to know. Gentleman, I know you are busy, but you should have a little time to loaf in the school room. Ladies, you are busy, but take your work and call on the schools; go and sit down with the teachers and children. It will do them good, and do you good. Don't go to criticize, or to annoy them, but go in a friendly way. It will be worth while."

How to use Red Cross Seals.

With the sale of Red Cross Seals in progress in almost every state and city of the United States, The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis is issuing the following instructions to its fifty thousand paid and volunteer workers engaged in selling the seals, and to the millions who will buy these holiday stickers for use on their Christmas mail.

The Post Office Department has approved of the Red Cross Seal design and they may, therefore, in accordance with order No. 5020 of the Post Office Department "be affixed to the reverse side of domestic mail matter." Red Cross Seals must be placed only on the back of letters and not on the address side of any packages that are going through the mail. They may be placed anywhere on matter going by express. As many seals may be used on the back of a letter or package as may be desired. Everyone is urged to use them liberally, since every seal is a bullet in the fight against tuberculosis.

Care should be exercised in sending merchandise through the mails not to place seals over the string with which the package is tied, since this seals the package against inspection and subject it to first-class postage rates.

Red Cross Seals may be used also on the reverse side of mail matter sent to Austria, Germany, Great Britain and most of the British Colonies except India and Australia, Guatemala, Uruguay and Portugal; refuse to admit mail bearing non-postage stamps.

Red Cross Seals may be used on the face of checks, on bills, on legal documents, and on any commercial paper.
These Christmas seals are not good for postage. They will not carry any mail matter, but any kind of mail matter will carry them. The slogan of the campaign this year is "A million for tuberculosis from Red Cross Seals." Every letter or parcel sent out during the holiday season should bear one or more seals.

YOU WILL WANT THIS

This year during its December Bargain Offer The State Journal will accept $3 in payment for The Daily Journal without Sunday for the whole year of 1912, and as a further inducement will also include a year's subscription to the Independent Farmer's weekly farm and stock paper, and Poultry Topics, a beautiful printed monthly poultry and home magazine.
All three papers from now until January 1, 1913 for this cut-price of only $3. Including the big Sunday State Journal the special price will be $4.
The Journal is the most independent newspaper in the state; prints more state news than any other paper, maintains a strong Washington bureau and uses the full associated press reports. It is unusually clean, excluding all liquor and nasty medical ads and is edited for Nebraska homes.
In these stirring times if you want a newspaper that does things you ought to read The State Journal and if you will send in now you will receive the paper the balance of the year free. The cut-price offer is not good after December 28. Send your money at once to The State Journal Lincoln, Nebraska.

Be a Cheerful Loser

Nobody has any sympathy for a poor loser. A man who enters into the uncertainties of running for public office and cannot accept the result gracefully and philosophically should not become a candidate at the beginning. The man who, after being defeated, continues annoying his friends and the public in common with his grouch, his fault-finding, his accusations and his sour grapes, disgusts his friends and dries up their sympathy and he then becomes a three-fold loser—Everybody admires a cheerful loser—a man who is ready to accept the public's choice in a spirit of manliness and broad-mindedness. He should remember that had the people wanted him in preference to his opponent he would have been elected, but to not accept the result manfully only convinces those who did vote for him that they made a mistake in doing so. A successful candidate can also become just as bad as the defeated grouch by becoming egotis-tically officious and assuming the responsibilities of Atlas, imagining that the universe is now resting heavily upon his shoulders. Self-importance has ruined the usefulness of more young men in official positions than any other shortcoming. Sometimes they do not realize this fact, because of the conviction of their own great importance, until they again appeal to the public for vindication. Vindication comes slowly to those whose actions are inspired by malice, hatred or revenge. The public takes unkindly to it and never encourage those who carry out the plans of those protected by concealment. To be manly is to be fair, honest and honorable, extend the same official treatment to all men and play no political tricks because the game is a long one and is never finished. It is a two-edged sword.
