Try some of the Comstock flour at Reynolds' Feed Store.

Mrs. Cora Zimmerman last week received a nice new piano lately purchased.

Pure Bred Banded Plymouth Rock eggs for setting $1.00 per 12. $4.00 per 100. Mrs. H. J. JOHANSEN.

Two large silos for sale. Prices right. ROBERT DINSDALE, Loup City.

Robt. Dinsdale with two cars of cattle yesterday caught the Omaha market at 8c, getting $113 per head.

Mrs. Ollie Howard and children are here from Central City visiting at the home of Grandpa Williams.

Easter supper at the Presbyterian church next Tuesday evening, April 23. Plates 25c and 35c.

Irvin Conger, on Tuesday of this week, moved into the old J. W. Conger cottage east of the Conger bungalow.

Miss Maud Conger is visiting friends at Aurora, Hampton and other points for a couple of weeks, leaving last Thursday morning.

5000 different samples and stock of wall paper to pick from, 8 cents and up per double roll. East side of the square. Jones the painter.

Mrs. E. Holcombe returned last evening from an extended visit with her daughter, Mrs. Henry French at Elm Creek, Mrs. French returning with her for a visit.

Mrs. Tucker of near Greeley Center who had been here visiting her sister Mrs. Skip Thrasher, and other relatives, for a fortnight, returned to her home last Saturday morning.

We understand the administrators sale of good at the implement house or the late T. M. Reed will continue for the next thirty days, when a big public sale and auction will be had for the disposition of the remainder.

Mrs. H. P. Ferdinandt and children went to Dannebrog last Friday for a week's visit. They will then return to Loup City for a time, the Ferdinandts having given up their home and taken rooms at the big Hale residence in north Loup City, till Mr. Ferdinandt finishes up his business here when the family expects to go to Minnesota to live, where he will go into the undertaking business as we understand. However, Mr. Ferdinandt expects to remain with the Hale Furniture Co. for a couple of months yet, before he leaves.

P. P. Platz and family left last Friday for Fremont for a number of days' visit returning to Loup City for a few days, and then we understand will go from here to Hood River, Oregon, to the home of Mrs. Platz's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira E. Williams, but just where they will finally make their future home they are yet undecided, or at least are not ready to give out through the columns of the Northwestern. They are splendid young people and wherever they conclude to locate, the people will find them among the best people to have in their midst.

Martin Enevoldsen was over from Pool last Thursday disposing of some of his property holdings and finishing his business relations here. He reports farming much pleasanter and more lucrative than being a paid workman for a railroad company, and better than all, your own boss. Martin made one of the best foremen of section work along this part of the Union Pacific lines, as is evidenced by the number of medals he has in the past received from the company as a result of the excellent condition of the road bed through his territory. It will be a long time before the U. P. people will secure a better one. However that is all past and Martin has joined the great army of tillers of the soil and will tickle out of Mother Earth a good competence for his old age, which will be several score of years or more, from his physique and everlasting well springs of youth bubbling through his make-up.

Oliver Mason has moved into the H. P. Ferdinandt residence in the southeast part of this city. Home-made summer sausages at Lee Bros.' meat market at 15c per pound. List your farm or city property with J. W. Dougal, "The New Real Estate Man."

Rev. J. C. Tourtellot left Tuesday morning to attend the session of the Presbytery being held this week at Wood River. It was expected that E. G. Taylor would also attend the session, but he is so busy with mill and electric problems that he was not even himself sure he would attend.

All parties indebted to the estate of T. M. Reed are hereby notified to call at once and settle, otherwise these accounts will be collected at your expense. W. P. REED, Administrator

Will Betts Passes Away

Will Betts, who has been suffering for a number of months with ulcerations of the stomach, died Monday evening of this week at his home in Litchfield. The funeral will occur this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Presbyterian church in this city, friends bringing the body over by wagon road from his home, and interment will be at Evergreen cemetery by the side of his mother, whose funeral occurred from the same church just one week previous. Mr. Betts was for years a resident of Loup City, going from here to Litchfield to take charge of the telephone matters there, and was well and favorably known over the entire county. His burial will take place under the auspices of the Odd Fellows, delegations to be here from Rockville and Litchfield at least, besides from over the county in general. The Northwestern will contain an obituary notice next week.

Reynolds' is the place to get home cured Bacon and Hams.

The Northwestern is in receipt of a musical composition, published by the Willis Music Co. of Cincinnati, the words and music being by Mrs. L. F. Burleigh, wife of our son, Frank W. Burleigh of Columbus, Ohio, and entitled "My Prairie Queen." We may be pardoned for calling attention to this production by our talented daughter by marriage, and for the pride we feel in her achievement, as the words and music both have received much encouragement from people well versed along musical lines "Daddy" has every reason to be proud of her.

Uncle Andy Gray was in to see us Monday, and was to go to Omaha again yesterday to have another operation on his face, where the cancerous affection has been troubling him for so long. He has been to the hospital three times and it is claimed all symptoms of cancerous affection has been eliminated and this time certain nerves killed which have been causing him untold misery. Uncle Andy told us that he has not had a moment free of pain for a past four months and he is unable to stand it longer and must have relief. He feels assured that the old trouble has been cured and that when the nerve forces which have been causing him so much trouble have been killed he will return to his old time health. We certainly trust he is right.

The last number of the lyceum bureau course at the opera house last Saturday evening, by the Weeks company was a good one. A full house greeted this excellent company and they certainly merited the continued rounds of applause and encores which greeted each number. Arrangements are being perfected for another course by the same bureau for next winter and be under the auspices of the B. of E. club, they having made such a complete success of the one just finished. Of course our people are proud of "Our Girls" and the perfect manner in which they have conducted the course this winter, and no doubt is expressed that they will not have nearly the strenuous time in carrying the next one forward.

The Northwestern family is now settling down to comfortable home life after having had the home turned topsy-turvy for the past two months, painting, papering installing electric light wires and fixtures, etc., making life a howling wilderness of discontent. C. R. Sweetland, was the artist who did the electric work and so far as we are able to judge, did a dandy job and got us ready for the new lighting in the very best workmanlike manner. Painter George Stork was the genius who painted us up so our best friends can hardly recognize us and he is the boy who can do it to perfection. When it came to the papering and decorating, A. L. Gilbert, assisted by his gentlemanly helper, Frank Martin, put on the new dress as nice and slick as could be wished and ended the muddle, and now we are getting in our right mind again. When it comes to artistic workmen, these Loup City artists are there with the goods.

Public Sale

The Glee Club's "Dress Rehearsal"

The Northwestern this week has a confession to make public. On Friday evening, March 29th, occurred the opera, "Dress Rehearsal," given by the young ladies of the "High School Glee Club." The event being of marked interest, we thought it unnecessary to make special note of it, thinking not for a moment that our memory would trick us, but being a number of days prior to the publication of the paper, and many other matters engrossing our attention, we unparadonably forgot for the time being to write it and the paper went to press without mention of one of the prettiest little operas ever given in our city, and since that time we have been ashamed to look the members of the Glee Club in the face till we could make amends honorable. It is the desire of the Northwestern that no event of interest fall of mention in its columns, and though our publication has passed since, we are going to yet have our say in regard to the above pleasant entertainment. "The Dress Rehearsal" was a musical production along the lines of a parody on "Cinderella" and was supposed to emanate from the boarding school for young ladies. From start to finish the work of the Glee Club was most perfect and the characters sustained lifelike, so to speak. The opera was under the direct supervision of Mrs. Elva Mathew, who had charge of an opera given here a year ago by the same young ladies' club, and which was so highly spoken of at the time and was a guarantee that the "Dress Rehearsal" would be something rich and rare, which it was. We have not the time or space to give a review of play, nor speak of each individual participant, but it to say that each did her part in the best possible manner, and the opera was complimented by our people with a crowded house, at which standing room was at a premium. Loup City people appreciate highly the talent among their young people and so far they have never been victims of misplaced confidence, and in this instance were more than pleased with the production of the "Dress Rehearsal."

Mellor goes to Washington

Secretary W. R. Mellor of the state board of agriculture is starting to Washington to appear on Wednesday at the committee hearing on Maguire bill which proposes an appropriation $100,000 for a government building at each state fair. This is the bill which Mr. Mellor prepared and had introduced. It is being backed by all the state fair associations of the country and also by the American Trotting association. State fair officials from Tennessee, Minnesota, Kentucky, Ohio, and North Carolina will be at the hearing to assist Mr. Mellor in presenting the arguments for the bill.

Why it pays to buy a custom made suit made by our famous Chicago Tailors Ed. V. Price & Co. We sell these suits on a commission. This commission is much less than the percent made on ready made clothes. For this reason, we are sure of the sale of every suit before we send in an order. When a merchant buys a stock of ready made suits there is a percent off the stock which they have to carry over and sell at a big discount with perhaps a loss. In order to make up for this loss, the percent of the stock which they do sell, is sold for such a big profit that you cannot get the value for your money that you can when ordering a suit from Ed. V. Price & Co. Before you buy see J. W. Dorsey, west side square.
