Republicans Hopelessly Split

At Lincoln Tuesday the republican state convention split in two pieces, the Roosevelt men doing the steam rolling and the Taftites withdrawing and holding a ramp convention in the Lincoln hotel. The action of Tuesday's republican state convention, or conventions, as it turned out to be, can only terminate in a bitter campaign between the Taft and Roosevelt factions, and the result very possibly the same as mentioned in the bible, viz: "A house divided against itself," etc. Much bitterness resulted, and judging by the reports in the dailies of the day's proceedings, the Taft followers in the state will do by the candidates favoring Teddy as the Taftites have already sworn to do to the republican national ticket.

We believe Gov. Aldrich did serious harm to his candidacy by allowing himself to be elected as presiding officer of the convention, knowing as he did the temper of the convention and his acknowledged stand for Roosevelt against the national republican nominees. By his action in getting into the forefront, when political wisdom would have advised his remaining in the background, he must know that he has lost to a large extent the vote, sympathy and support of republicans who propose standing by the nominees of the republican national convention.

It is too early in the day, and too closely following on the heels of the state convention to analyze the disastrous results to the republican party in Nebraska by its doings. It would seem that some compromise could have been effected, but it is too late now to cry over split milk. The medicine has been mixed, and however bitter will have to be swallowed. All we can say is that it is a blankety blank shame that the republicans have no more sense than to play into the hands of the common enemy.

Ravenna is interested in the proposition of being on the Canada to Gulf line, or the extension of the Kearney and Beloit railroad. The question seems to be settled that the road will make Loup City one of its points, and Ravenna would be practically in line between Loup City and Kearney.—Lincoln Trade Review.

Since the republican state convention, the broadening of the faces of our democratic friends is as marked as the renewed growth of Sherman county corn fields since the recent rains. Confound the democrats!

Two car loads, thirty-five head of Nebraska cattle sold in south Omaha day before yesterday for $4,770.06, or a little more than $136 per head. This was $9.65 per hundred weight, a new high record for this market. Peanut butter a fair substitute for meat, can be bought for about twelve cents a pound.

As so many have made inquiries as to the origin of the term "Bull Moose" as applied to Roosevelt's proposed new party, we believe the term was coined by Teddy himself. As the story goes, when the steam roller was smashing his candidacy at Chicago, some one asked him how he felt. "Fine as a bull moose," the ex-president is said to have aptly replied.

The Bryan steam roller was so carefully oiled and so expertly engineered at the democratic state convention at Grand Island Tuesday that the Dahlgren crowd was crushed out of all semblance of factional form. And wonders of wonders; Little Giant Thompson was finally elected to something. He was made chairman of the convention.

On the seventh page of the Northwestern will be found the five constitutional amendments to be voted upon this coming fall election. These are to run for thirteen consecutive weeks prior to the election and this paper will publish the entire time required by law. Our readers should digest each one thoroughly so as to be perfectly conversant with the provisions of each that he may vote intelligently on the same.

We received a pleasant call last Thursday from Editor Mel Gordon, who has just started a new paper at Sargent, the News, publishing the first issue last week. Bro. Gordon is a printer as well as editor, going to Sargent from Seward, and thoroughly understands all branches of the business. His first issue is a neat, clean looking sheet, and very attractive editorially and typographically. We exchange with pleasure.

Teachers' Institute

The Sherman county teachers' institute opened Monday morning with over fifty teachers in attendance. This number has since increased to eighty-eight. Supt. L. F. Currier was in charge of the institute on Saturday by the illness of his wife and was unable to be present on the first day of the institute. In the absence of the superintendent, Miss Conger took charge of the enrollment and the instructors went on with the regular work. The work of the institute is largely method work, consisting of lectures and demonstrations by the instructors. Superintendent H. E. Bradford of the Kearney city schools has charge of the Geography, Grammar, School Management and the Music. Professor M. C. Laffer of Peru Normal gives instruction in History and Civics, Reading and Arithmetic and Miss Newman of Lincoln has the Primary work. The teachers are taking much interest in the work of the institute and are making such notes as will assist them in retaining the main points made by the instructors.

Was there ever such a time for daily newspaper readers? Everybody wants a daily paper now, and they want one that will give them the "straight" of everything going on. The State Journal is that sort of a paper, and to induce you to become a reader now makes the very low price of only $1.50 from now until January 1st 1913, for both the daily and Sunday paper. Send your order and money now and the paper will start at once. It will stop on January 1st. Write to the State Journal, Lincoln, Neb.

Dr. Bowman is at present wearing an unusually happy smile. He informs us that Mrs. Dr. Bowman will sail for America August 3rd, having completed her work at Edenburg, Scotland, where she has been taking a course in diseases of women and children. Miss Elizabeth Dinsdale, who accompanied her across the big pond for a visit with relatives, will return with her and the two ladies will make a short visit with Mrs. Bowman's parents in Michigan, and expect to arrive at home about the 25th of the present month.

Policemen Dog's Only Enemies.
With unconscious humor, a woman summoned at Brentford, Middlesex, England, recently, on a charge of allowing a ferocious dog to be at large, pleaded that it was friendly with everyone but policemen, and it had never bitten anyone else.

Allen Property Holders.
The law of the land respects the right of citizen and alien alike to have and to hold property. The alien resident in the United States may dispose of his property by will with the same feeling of security as the American. This is equally true of the alien who has taken steps to make himself a citizen of the country.

Notice to Non-Resident Defendants
Annie S. Nave, an insane or incompetent person, and Ira E. Williams, non-resident defendants, will take notice that on the 10th day of July, 1912, the plaintiffs, Arminta Adams and Russell D. Adams, filed their petition in the District Court of Sherman county, Nebraska, against said defendants, impleaded with Hattie A. Lowry, guardian of the estate of said Annie S. Nave, the object and prayer of which petition are to obtain the decree of said court that the said Annie S. Nave and the said guardian of her estate, Hattie A. Lowry, have no right, title, estate, or interest in the following described real estate, to-wit: The west half of the north-west quarter, and the west half of the southwest quarter, of section eight, in township fifteen, north of range sixteen, west of the 6th principal meridian, situated in Sherman county, Nebraska, and that the title and possession of the plaintiff, Arminta Adams, in said land be quieted and confirmed in her, or that, in case the Court should find that the said Annie S. Nave has the undivided one-sixth interest or share in said land, then that the Court do render judgment confirming the respective shares of said Arminta Adams and said Annie S. Nave in said land, and that partition be made of said real estate according to the respective rights of said parties, and in case said partition cannot be equitably divided, that the same may be sold and the proceeds thereof be divided between said parties according to their respective rights; also that the Court do find and decree that the mortgage in favor of the defendant, Ira E. Williams, which is recorded in book 44, at page 18, of Mortgage Records of said county, is a valid lien upon all of the land owned by said Arminta Adams, and that, in the event of the sale of said land, the said mortgage may be paid the amount due upon said mortgage as found by the Court out of that part of the proceeds of the sale of said lands which belongs to the said Arminta Adams, and for general equitable relief.
You are required to answer said petition on or before the 19th day of August, 1912.
