The Northwestern gave not a little space last week to the organization of the local progressive party in this county. While the new idea boys here repudiated any thought of fusion with the republicans on the county ticket, we find that in a majority of the counties where the new organization has been perfected they have followed the express wish of the chief captains of the new political industry in taking county politics out of the fight, in order to center all the fight to be made between the moosers and the republicans on the heads of the tickets. Perhaps the local bull moosers are wiser than their brothers in other counties, but we have our doubts as to their wisdom in making a three-cornered political fight in this county. Had they endorsed or nominated the candidates on the local republican ticket, as has been agreed upon regarding the state republican ticket, their wisdom would have been unquestioned, while the contrary is expressed by not a few of the more conservative believers in the new organization.

Politics seems to be cutting a queer quality of ice these days. In California, the law is so fixed that the supreme court has decided that Taft electors cannot get on the official ballot, thus disfranchising all who would vote for the president for re-election. Even the supreme court in so rendering decision condemns a law to be so construed. The democrats in this state have been trying to fix it so the Roosevelt people can not get on the official ballot. Oh, politics can cut queer antics here and there.

The pugilist preacher, Rev. Wedge and the Presbytery have kissed and made up, the punching preacher confessing his pummeling qualities are not in keeping with his profession, and the Presbytery accepting the apologies and allowing him to go ahead in the religious work.

The secretary of state and the district court have decided the progressives have a right on the official ballot in this state and the democrats have taken the matter on up to the supreme court. Now suppose the supreme court upholds the secretary and the district court? Then how about the supreme court disfranchising the Taft men there? Funny Poly Tigs.

Quizzing one of our most prominent merchant, who was in Omaha last week visiting the Ak-Sar-Ben festivities and buying goods, he said that outside of Loup City the bull moose talk was at the minimum. At Omaha, Columbus, Grand Island and other points, he heard very little bull moose talk and it seemed to him that the Roosevelt wave was subsiding. Nowhere he had been did people seem to have even ordinary interest in the new party. But then those other towns do not have such workers as Lou Hein, Ed Jones, E. L. Arthur and a dozen other hard pushers we could name.

The socialist candidate, Emil Seidel, says if the socialists get in power "the government would assume control of all the farming land of the country, either by confiscation, purchase or taxation." Ah, ha! but they are not in control yet. But how would you farmers, who own your holdings, or who intend getting hold of a farm of your own, like that kind of anarchistic utterance?

At Omaha last Saturday night, Emil Seidel, candidate for vice president on the socialist ticket, lambasted Roosevelt to a finish. He said, "Roosevelt pleads for honesty; this man who was in the president's chair for seven and a half years and discovered that he had to form an honest party when he couldn't get back in; he pilfered twenty-one planks from the socialist party. He had to call in a socialist to help him write planks that would appeal to the workingmen; he has stolen our platform and our principles, but he has not only stolen our thunder, but he has gone to every party and taken something from it." Seidel claims Roosevelt has stolen the socialist platform and is trying to steal his way into a third term. And Roosevelt, in his creed claims he will be accused of being a socialist and anarchist, while some of our leading local bull moosers have plainly claimed to the editor of the Northwestern that the Roosevelt idea is the first step toward socialism, others saying "Bosh! It is to head off socialism." Our belief is that Roosevelt, being a mighty cute politician, and viewing the unrest of the people, thought he saw a chance to ride into the presidential chair on the wave of popular discontent. Whether he will succeed will be answered at the polls on Tuesday, Nov. 5.

Motormer Bert Morris had a grief kick coming yesterday, when, after having spent sleepless hours in patching up his motor and getting it in fine running shape, they took it away, put it on the Ord branch and gave him another untamed bronc to break in.

An obituary of Mrs. Clark Alleman, written by Mrs. Ida McCoy Burwell, will appear next week, being handed in too late for this issue.

Card of Thanks We take this means of expressing our thanks and appreciation of the loving assistance by friends and neighbors in the funeral arrangements of our loved one. Clark L. Alleman and family, Mrs. Mary Alleman, Albert S. Snyder and family.

A surprise party was given on Charles Marcy, last evening by the pupils of the 6th and 7th grades, at the home of his parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Marcy, the occasion being the 12th anniversary of his birthday.

Mr. Chas. W. Schwamer of Ord was here last Monday visiting his brother, Lou Schwamer, and on that evening in his honor, Mr. and Mrs. Schwamer entertained some twenty young men of our city to a 6 o'clock dinner, with an evening at whist.

The Northwestern this week published Vol. 1, No. 1, of the Northwestern District Call, a miniature newspaper for the dental association of this district, of which our popular dentist, Dr. S. A. Allen is president, the little paper being filled with good things for dentists and edited by the doctor. It is a splendid innovation for the association, and is gotten out to advertise the next meeting, which is to be held at Hastings, Oct. 15. Thus, together with quite a little more advertising relative to the coming meeting, also gotten out from our job department, will undoubtedly result in creating much added interest and attendance at the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Jaque Neimis of Chicago, the latter formerly Miss Mary Wagner of this county, and sister of George Wagner, and Mrs. John de la Motte of the southwest part of Sherman, are visiting the latter. They expect to return to their home tomorrow. Mr. Neimis is connected with a job printing establishment in his city.
