WILSON GETTING MUCH ADVICE
President-Elect Reads Letters and Editorials Discussing Tariff Matters in General
HIS PRESENT POLICY IS TO LISTEN

Proposes to Devote Practically All of This Week to Business of His Own State—Political Matters in General

Princeton, N. J.—"Very useful and important indeed," was the comment which President-elect Woodrow Wilson made on the array of editorials, statements and declarations from prominent persons being published in various newspapers advocating or opposing an extra session of congress to revise the tariff.

"Are you going to take all these clippings with you on your vacation?" he was asked.

"Oh, no," replied the governor. "I've read them already. The newspapers certainly are helping me in my listening policy."

The attention of the president-elect was called to an argument in an editorial that inasmuch as he had not received a majority of the popular vote and that since both the republican and progressive parties favored a policy of protection, therefore the country had voted against tariff revision.

Wilson considers attention to affairs in the state of New Jersey his immediate duty. He announced that he would devote practically all of this week to state business. This means that things national that may concern his future administration will not be taken up until late in December, because he will start at the end of the coming week on a steamship trip and a vacation, which will keep him away from political callers or office seekers for nearly six weeks.

The president-elect believes there is no necessity for haste, that by the time he is back from his vacation public opinion on various questions will have crystallized and that then by taking counsel with his advisers he will be able to make important announcements about his future policy.

DELZEL TOPS HIS TICKET.

Superintendent of Schools Leads in Sixty Counties.

Omaha.—Complete official and unofficial returns from sixty-one counties on officers below governor indicate that James E. Delzell, candidate for superintendent of public instruction, will lead the republican ticket.

He has 94,463 votes against 78,889 votes for Clark, his democratic opponent. Secretary of State Wait is second man with 91,765 votes to his credit against 79,242 for J. W. Kelley,

Work of Short Session. Washington.—Most of the members of congress who returned to Washington predicted that the coming short session of congress would be devoted to the passing of appropriation legislation necessary for the running of the government and to little else.

NORRIS' LEAD 13,000

MOREHEAD'S MAJORITY OVER ALDRICH ABOUT 10,000.

VOTE FOR OTHER CANDIDATES

Less Than 15,000 of the 235,000 Votes Estimated to Have Been Cast Now Missing.

Omaha.—The World-Herald says: Less than 15,000 of the 235,000 votes estimated to have been cast in Nebraska for the leaders of the republican, democratic and progressive tickets were missing from the World-Herald's election compilations last night.

On the returns Congressman Norris, republican, has a lead over Shallenberger for the United States senatorship of 12,000 votes, which he should increase to over 13,000 in precincts not yet reported.

Governor Aldrich is 10,000 votes behind Senator Morehead for the governorship, with the probability of an even run in outstanding precincts.

Governor Wilson's lead over Roosevelt for the preference of Nebraska's eight presidential electors is 32,700, which confirms the World-Herald's estimate at 9 o'clock Tuesday night, when Wilson's plurality was fixed at 35,000.

Seventy-five per cent of the vote presumably cast on the various state officers below governor has been tabulated and shows majorities of from 3,300 to 12,200 for the republican candidates. The closest race is that between Taylor and Harman for railway commissioner, Taylor leading in three-fourths of the total vote by 3,254. The biggest republican majority is that of Martin for attorney, he leading Morrissey by 12,248.

Returns on congressmen are almost complete save in the Sixth district, where the sparsely settled counties are slow in reporting. Outstanding ballots can in no case alter the results, which give the republicans three and the democrats an equal number of representatives in the house of congress.

Tribute From the Pulpit.

Princeton, N. J.—President-elect Woodrow Wilson Sunday heard for the first time a pulpit tribute paid to him as the future executive of the nation. He sat in his usual pew at the First Presbyterian church with Mrs. Wilson and the Misses Jessie and Eleanor Wilson and listened attentively to both prayer and sermon in which divine guidance was besought for his administration. In his first prayer the Rev. Sylvester W. Beach appealed for God's protection and aid for the future president.

Big Mail for Wilson.

Princeton, N. J.—The postman that has the Wilson home on his route has had to get help. On one trip alone he carried 1,000 letters. This is the daily average now. Most of the letters are congratulatory, though not a few contain suggestions. The president-elect is going to try to answer most of them before he goes away on his vacation. He planned to spend the day at his correspondence and take a walk in the late afternoon. Saturday he expects to see the football game here.

POOR JOHN NEATLY CAUGHT

Cleverly Contrived Trap That Led to the Downfall of One Forgetful Husband.

He had returned home in the evening tired and ready for a restful hour or two.

"John, my love," said his little wife sweetly, "did you post that letter I gave you this morning?"

"Yes, my pet," said John, hiding his conscience-stricken face behind the newspaper.

"Well, what is your answer?" still more sweetly.

"Wh-what is what?" gasped John.

"What is your answer, dear?" said his little wife, clearly. "That letter was addressed to you."

"Addressed to me?" exclaimed John. "I didn't notice it."

And then, like a foolish man, he fell into the trap and produced the letter from his pocket to see. The envelope was not addressed to him; but a long and severe lecture was shortly after.

Newspapers and Literature.

All this over emphasis of the unmeaning surface is due to a confusion of newspaper and literary standards, ends, aims. The word literary has come to suggest an absence of red blood; spinners and knitters in the sun; the 35-cent magazine crowd; this is nonsensical, of course. In its elemental meaning literature is at least as stern a job as journalism, albeit the intention and function of the latter is merely to present things that happen, of the former to volatilize such material into hovering and potent meanings, to strike the rock and raise a spirit that is life.

English Stump Speech.

A correspondent, "Old Briney," sends us the following specimen of frenzied stump oratory: "Feller blokes! Thanks ter th' gov'ment, yer got yer 'dminishin' wage, and yer little loaf, an' all that. Watcher get ter do now is ter go fer devil-otion and local anatomy, an' go it blind!" (Loud cheers.)—London Globe.

At 2:00 a. m.

Mrs. Klatter—What is it a sign of when a man stumbles going upstairs?

Mrs. Klubmann—I know very well what it's a sign of when my husband does it.

A Change.

She—Mr. Scraggington and his wife were riding in their auto yesterday when it skidded and they fell out.

He—Well, that was a little variety for them. Usually their falling out takes place at home.

Summer Styles.

Patience—I see the suffragettes have come out against the secret ballot.

Patrice—Yes, women, as a rule, prefer open-work.

The Kind.

"How did they succeed in catching that defaulting aviator?"

"With a fly detective."
