AN Object Lesson

Did! It Ever Strike you how careful a druggist has to be in all his operations if he is a successful aid to your physician? His prescription seals must be just right, his drugs must be pure, his knowledge must be accurate and above all his mind must be on his work.

If you watch a conscientious druggist like we pride ourselves on being—compounding a prescription, you will see an object lesson on a serious phase of life—the fight with illness and death. Bring your prescription here to day.

Miller Bests S. Mogenson

The wrestling match at the new opera house last Thursday evening was one of the most interesting of any held here this season. A much larger number of ladies was present than at previous mat games, and a good percentage of lovers of that athletic sport were also present to witness the game.

The wrestling came off after the picture show, the first being a preliminary between Clarence Miller and Earl Hancock, a very spirited contest in which Miller's superior knowledge of the game gave him the best over Hancock only after fifteen minutes and was exciting as you could wish.

Following the above came another preliminary between Arthur Hancock and Lester Hiddelson. The boys not having any experience to speak of went at it hammer and tongs from the first clinch, and gave a ten-minute contest that was worth the whole price of the show and ended in a draw.

After this came the big card, between Warren Miller, our local champion, and S. Mogenson of Bancroft. As the men came together at the call of referee, Miller at once took the offensive, throwing Mogenson to the mat, and from that time on till the end of 56 minutes, when Miller pinned Mogenson's shoulders to the mat with the hammerlock and crotch hold, Mogenson put in all his skill and strength on the defensive, being unable to get up and try conclusions, but in the endless times he wriggled out of close combinations, he received countless applause from those present, and at the close of the fall was the recipient of warm applause for his skillful and plucky fight. After ten minutes' recess, the big fellows again came on the mat, when Miller again took the aggressive and Mogenson dropped to the mat, but Miller went at it again with a surprising spurt of strength and speed and at the end of five minutes he had whirled his adversary overhead and down to the mat, pinning his shoulders with the scissors hold, and was declared winner. The contest was carried on with the utmost good nature, the heavyweights clasping hands and congratulating each other over their work. Mogenson acknowledged that after the first few minutes he knew he had not the least chance of throwing Miller, and his only aim was to keep from being pinned to the mat and the wrestle result in a draw. Miller on the other hand said he had not met an adversary who so persistently refused to be thrown, and thought him a wonder on the defense. Mogenson is 23 years of age, weighed 172 pounds and this was his sixth wrestle. He worked in the creamery here some two years ago, and was known to many present. He is a pleasant, civil and gentlemanly young man and made friends of all he met here at the contest. He told the reporter he hoped to visit us again and in better shape the next time. Miller showed much greater speed, strength, endurance and knowledge of the points of the game than exhibited in previous matches, and we believe if he keeps on will soon be one of the big guns at the game.

Attorneyship Contest Case Stricken With Grief

At the hearing of the county attorneyship contest case before the county court last Thursday, and the arguments of the learned counsel, Prince of Grand Island for the defense, and Nightingale & Son for the prosecution, being heard Judge Smith, struck out all of the complaint pertaining to the corrupt practices act, as not under the jurisdiction of his court, as he understood it, and fixed today (Thursday) for hearing on that portion not stricken out. On Monday of this week, the attorneys for the prosecution filed with his honor their objections to his ruling out the certain portions, claiming he erred in so doing, and asking for an immediate hearing on this latter, but as the defense was in attendance on the federal court at Grand Island, the judge could not fix for the immediate hearing, the time to be set later when the defense could be present. As we understand the decision of the county court, there was a law passed in 1879, relating to contests, and were to be heard before the county court first. In 1899 came the corrupt practices act, on which said county courts have no jurisdiction, but must be taken direct to the district court. These are claimed to be two separate and distinct laws, hence in the opinion of the county court it had no jurisdiction over questions coming up under the corrupt practices act and threw them out. This last act of the prosecution is complaint of error on the part of the court in so doing, and that all three former complaints come properly before the lower court. And so the matter rests at the present writing.

Sensational Suit For $5,000

A suit was filed a few days ago in the District court by Joseph Kowalewski against Ed. Flynn, with whom is impleaded Wm. Graefe for the sum of $5,000, the suit arising from a trouble which arose in Graefe's saloon on the 22nd of last June between Kowalewski, who was bartender in the saloon at the time and Flynn, a farmer living a few miles southwest of this city. The Northwestern will not at this time state any of the circumstances which occurred at the time, not wishing to say anything which might prove prejudicial in advance of the hearing and trial of the case. The local lawyers employed in the impending suit are Judge Aaron Wall for the plaintiff and R. P. Starr for defendants.

News From Lincoln

There will be something doing this winter at your state capital and you will want to keep tab on it. Laws will be made that will affect you directly, no matter how much or how little you own. Watch your home representative and see how he stands on all these questions. If you want a real, live, progressive, fearless, and out-spoken newspaper, right from the seat of war, send 50 cents to The Lincoln Daily News and you will receive that big daily during the whole session of the legislature. The paper will stop when the time is up. Send 50 cents today and the paper will start at once.

Fuel For Your Base Burner

We have just unloaded a car of Youghiogeny coke, nut size, just the thing for your base burner. It makes a good clean fuel to handle and makes lots of heat.

This is a car of 72 hour Eastern coke and it is the best coke that is shipped to this part of the country. No impurities in this. Nothing but heat.

Get a load and see how nicely it takes the place of hard coal. We have it here at Loup City.
