Auto Speeding

Comes to Grief

On Tuesday of this week, on complaint of Stanley Goc, a fine of $5 and death of Stanley Goc, a fine of $5 and costs were assessed against Otto Henning for exceeding the speed limit on our streets in driving his auto. This is the first case that has come before County Judge Smith since the wholesale drag net was used some months ago, in which some half dozen of our auto drivers made contributions for the same offense. The complaint this time was not made at the instance of the peace officers, but by one of the gentlemen, who was among the first contributors to the auto speeding fund. While Mr. Henning admits he might possibly have been exceeding the limit allowed by law, he spoke a volume of truth when he incidentally remarked there were others doing the same thing. While that is undoubtedly true, it is necessary for complaint to be made before action can be taken by the proper tribunal. In the other cases, complaint was made by officers of the law. In this case, complaint was made by an auto owner who, himself, had felt the force of the law against such violation. That the law is violated as a rule, rather than as an exception; there is no doubt, but there is even then some excuse for its violation. Very few autos are equipped with speedometers, and very few auto drivers realize how slow they must necessarily go to stay within the prescribed limit. Those who are in the habit of riding in autos will bear us out in the above assertion. Then another thing. In almost every neighboring town and hamlet are to be found warning signals in the outskirts, giving the limit at which autos must speed within the limits of said city, town or hamlet. Such sign boards of warning have the effect of being a continual reminder, and as such have a splendid effect. This Loup City has failed to do. We call attention of our city council to this in the hopes that they may remedy that defect, believing it will have much bearing on future speeding within the city limits.

Bill's Hard Luck

Jack: Hello, Bill. How are you? How are your crops?
Bill: Haven't got much since that hail storm we had last week.
Jack: You don't mean to tell me that you were hauled out?
Bill: Well, I might just as well have been cleaned as the way things look now. It sure hit me hard, and I had prospects for a bumper crop. You know, Jack, I'm renting, but I had hopes that I could buy a little piece of my own, and so much depended on a good crop this season. I had a chance to buy a forty on easy terms and if I got a crop it would go quite a ways to help me get a start.
Jack: Didn't you have your grain insured? I had all of mine insured and the insurance man was out to see me yesterday and believe me, he treated me great.
Bill: What Company insured your crop?
Jack: Why, the St. Paul Fire and Marine. They have been writing hail insurance around here for years. I get a policy with them every year.
Bill: That's the same Company that wanted to insure my crop, but I told the agent I was too busy to talk insurance. Gee, I wish I had taken out a policy to cover at least my interest in the crop.

New Stallion Law

The new Stallion Registration law is practically a re-enactment of the law of 1911 excepting that it names as the Registration Board the Governor, State Treasurer and Commissioner of Public Lands and Buildings. These are all executive officers as named in the Constitution and cure the defect in the old law as found by the Supreme Court. The new law provides that all 1913 inspections made and certificates issued by the old Board are hereby legalized. In the office at Lincoln are many affidavits of inspections made, from which the certificates can be issued as soon as the three dollars fee is forwarded by the owners. A new lien law was also passed which should be satisfactory to all stationers, but if the stallion owner does not secure and post his stallion certificate as provided by law it is doubtful if any service fee can be collected by those not conforming with the laws of the state.

Arcadia Man Came

Near Getting His

According to the Independent, an Arcadia man came within an ace of death of serious injury at Grand Island a few days ago. J. W. Wilson, a farmer from Arcadia, who went down there to purchase some horses saw a young man swing from the train at the factory while the train was going to the sales stables, and Mr. Wilson, who is an elderly man, thought he could safely do the same. However, in jumping he fell backward, one foot coming so near going on the rails as to cause the loss of the heel of his shoe and make a slight abrasion of the skin. He also received a cut on his head about five inches long and his body was quite badly shaken up.

Ours is the first organization of its kind in Sherman county or in this part of Nebraska. To secure our charter and comply with the law under which we are authorized to do business, it was necessary for us to have a cash capital, fully paid up, of not less than $25,000 and to deposit at least $10,000 in cash or first mortgage securities on improved Nebraska farms, at not to exceed 50 per cent of their value, with the state Auditor. Having fully complied with these requirements we are authorized by law to receive trust funds for investment, to act as agent, assignee, receiver or trustee, to execute trusts committed to us by the courts, to take, accept and hold by gift, grant, assignment, devise or bequest all kinds of real estate or personal property in trust, to care for, manage and convey same according to such trust, to act as attorney, in fact for persons or corporations in the management or control of real or personal property, to borrow and loan money on approved security, to act as administrator of estates, executors of wills, guardians of infants or incompetent persons, by ourselves or in connection with others. To buy, own, hold and sell municipal bonds, stock, notes, warrants and bills of exchange.

We must at stated intervals publish a sworn statement of our financial condition in a newspaper and submit to examinations by the state authorities in about the same manner as our state banks. In short, we can do almost anything a natural person can do, and many things they cannot, in a safer and we believe a better way.
