Ord is having an epidemic of scarlet fever at present.
Lincoln went "wet" by about 600 majority at their city election Tuesday. Evidently Evangelist Schoville did not cut much ice in his attack upon the city and its awful condition.
Our readers will find in this week's Northwestern a complete summary of the laws passed by the last legislature. Either save this week's Northwestern and file it away, or cut out the summary of laws and paste it in your scrap book for future reference, so can refer to it at will.

Grand Island is getting fierce. Two hold-ups the other night tried to convince the Burlington agent that he must open the door so that they could help themselves to company funds, but he invited them to go where the weather is somewhat sultry, at the same time phoning the cultured minions of the law to come and get the men. His nerve won and the bad men fled instanter.

Mrs. John Fisher is on the sick list. Attend the Special Sale of Graniteware at the new Ten Cent Store, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Miss Gracie Conger, who had been making a protracted visit to her sister, Mrs. Art Reed, at Greeley, returned home last Thursday evening.

Five of the lady teachers of our city school autoed to Litchfield last Sunday to spend the day with Miss Bessie Smith, who is teaching on the west side.

Bauker W. F. Mason will this week move into the John Minshull residence in the east part of the city. Mrs. Margaret Ogle will move up from Austin and into her property, as soon as vacated by Mr. Mason.

The big rains of last week Thursday night, which washed out a section of the track between Boelus and Dannebrog, played havoc with the mail service on this branch for forty-eight hours.

We received a pleasant call on Tuesday of this week from our good friend, Jurgen Plambeck of Route 2. Jurgen is somewhat of a lover of the National game, and thinks down his way the Cob Creek boys have all the elements of future big league men. He enjoys sitting on his front porch these fine Sundays and see the boys on the big green near his home, and insists that at least some of them are coming giants in that line.

Boelus was in ill luck last Thursday, on the rain proposition. Thursday night that section got a souser which washed out a big section of track just east of that village, and Friday forenoon suffered from a cloudburst which brought some 18 inches of water in depth over the streets. Traveling men on the motor marooned in that village on account of the washout said they never saw the rain come in such torrents as at that time.

Several of our auto drivers are enthusiastic over the fine condition of the roads west of the river, especially the one from the west bridge out past Pinkney's nearly to Zwink's, which they say has been dragged into as fine shape as the main streets of our city, by the road overseers out that way. We do not know who the road bosses are, but according to our auto people they are Joe Dandy boys when it comes to giving fine roads.

Last Sunday morning at a called meeting of the M. E. Sunday school J. P. Leininger resigned as superintendent and H. R. H. Williams was unanimously elected to fill the vacancy. Mr. Leininger has been closely confined to business in Loup City for several years past, and so during the summer expects to be away a good part of the time. Mr. Williams brings to the office splendid equipment and lots of enthusiasm.

Several times of late we have incidentally remarked about our worthy county judge having the mortal clinch on hitching in the matrimonial harness those whom Cupid has welded together in heart action, much to the chagrin and mortification of the ministerial brethren. But it seems that the judge is to have a combatant along that line who will give him a merry race. Our friend, W. T. Gibson, having been elected justice of the peace, is said to be sitting up nights studying the most approved methods and finest art to be acquired in unting hearts that beat as one, and is ready to perform the functions now so completely absorbed by the judge. Hiz Oner, Justice Gibson, has not as yet shield his caster into the ring, but we may expect to hear of his making a "killing" along matrimonial lines in the near future, and when he does he will have the rest beaten to a frazzel.

However, there being no remonstrance filed against any of the three applicants, a license was issued to each, which again assures this town of plenty of wet goods for the ensuing year.

The base ball game between Farwell and Ashton Sunday on the Ashton grounds was a very loosely played game, the score at the finish being 20 to 12 in favor of the Farwell aggregation. A perusal of the box score will give an idea as to how the game was played.

Our school board on Monday closed contracts with the Misses Klea and Lila McNulty and Miss Stella Jamrog as teachers of our public schools for the ensuing year with Miss Klea McNulty as principal.
The office of justice of the peace having become vacant through the death of John F. Smith, our township board appointed John Rewolinski to fill said office for the unexpired term.
