A Frank Talk on Typewriters

Somehow, the impression has gained ground that there isn't much difference between the various makes of typewriters on the market.

You may think the same thing. It would take a good, sound, logical argument to convince you that all typewriters do not have the same efficiency and that a stenographer cannot secure the same results on every machine.

We are ready to make that argument and to show you by actual demonstration that will do more work, better work, with less fatigue to the stenographer, than any writing machine ever made.

The L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter

How is this possible?

Here are a few reasons:

1. It is ball bearing throughout—others are not.
2. All operations are controlled from the keyboard.
3. It is the lightest touch machine made.
4. It does not "smut" the carbon.
5. The ribbon reverses automatically.
6. The type is so protected that it is not battered by collision.
7. One motion of the hand returns the carriage and operates the line space.
8. It has an inbuilt biller and tabulator.
9. No trouble to write on paper as small as a postage stamp.
10. It is built for service.

Ashton News

If you want your home protected from lightning with Geo. M. King lightning rods call on or phone to John Rowolinski, Ashton Nebraska. My price is right.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sivicki of Wolbach, Nebr., were guests at the Thos. Jamrog home the past week.

Albert Anderstrom, L. B. Cambell Leo Beza, L. B. Jamrog and John J. Goe were among those who attended the park opening at Loup City Tuesday.

A gentleman from Weeping Water, Nebr., was here on Monday night and bought the pool hall of Geo. Polski.

Henry Schuman of Loup City was here a few days this week sojourning at the home of his parents.

H. W. Ojendyk, accompanied by Miss Arlie Corning and Albert Anderson, autoed to Loup City Sunday evening.

F. S. Janulewicz, Leo Beza and John Jamrog, Jr., were at Loup City Sunday witnessing the Loup City and St. Paul ball game.

The exceptionally cool weather the past week has been more or less beneficial for the small grains, although for corn we should have warmer weather.

A subscriber writes us for information about the second bell that is described in the bible, but we think the first one will be amply capable of furnishing red-hot accommodations and steam heat for all who may enter there.

We thought California's lemon crop had been killed, but it seems they hauled a quantity of them to the walter Jags.

On Monday evening the graduation exercises of the Catholic school were rendered at the opera house. On account of being unable to attend in person, we are unable to give a complete account of same. It is, however reported that each number on the program was well rendered, and that the house was packed to its utmost capacity.

We are in receipt of a number of letters from persons asking us how to live forever. There are said to be ways that this can be accomplished, but as those in possession of the secret have never allowed it to get out the test we can offer is this:

Don't blow out the gas.
Don't eat more than one shovelful of arsenic at one time.

Avoid flying machines, powder house and dynamite sticks while they are ignited to a fuse.

Don't eat any meat: it has microbe in it.

Don't drink any water: it is full of germs.

Don't eat vegetables, soap, ground glass or poison ivy.

Avoid standing in front of moving trains on a dark night.

Never call a man a liar when he has been drinking, and has in his hands a breech loading shot gun. Don't make neither end of a mule a plaything. Toying with the business end of a mule is very detrimental to long life.

Avoid growing old. The above instructions if strictly adhered to, with the final advice don't die, will prove very valuable in almost every case. We make no charges for the above information.

According to Sandy Griswold's reply to Joseph Zocholl's question in last Sunday's World Herald, it is probable that the Ashton ball team, the manager, the umpire and the fans that witnessed the game between Ashton and the "St. Paul College Beavers", will be called to the Hague this summer to give evidence before the World's Peace Commissioners, who are to determine whether or not Joe, is entitled to $12 for the exhibition he and his "College Lads" put up while here. Our boys would be willing to leave it to the Boelus druggist to decide what the "College Lads" are entitled to, but in order that "Yours For Justice" may not be wronged, Sandy says it must be decided by the World's Peace Commissioners. It might be well, for the commissioners while in session to decide how a Mackinaw coat may be acquired, and lay down rules for the division of the proceeds of a "class play!" Verily the duties of Peace Commissioners are unlimited. Sandy's answer exactly fits the question. A fellow that would misrepresent a game as "Yours for Justice" did in his question wouldn't know "Justice" from "Falschood," if he met them both on the street.
