Loup City People Sail for Fatherland

On Saturday of this week, Mr. and Mrs. John Ohlsen and daughter, Miss Frieda Ohlsen, leave for a three-months' trip to Germany. They will be joined in New York by Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Wiel of North Platte, the ladies being sisters, and the party will sail the 24th instant on the "Imperator," the newest and largest ship afloat, and which is now making its maiden trip across the big pond. The big Leviathan is 919 feet in length, depth 62 feet, beam 98 feet and capacity of 50,000 tons. We wish them bon voyage, happy visit and safe return.

Plenty of dishes at the Ten Cent Store.

While Supervisors Bill Brown, John Welty and Wenzel Rewolinski, with Standard Bridgeman Rife were being driven to the west side of the county yesterday, their auto struck a culvert bridge with such an abrupt rise that the party made an aerial ascent, and in attempting to get through the canopy Rill developed more lip than a democratic newspaperman hunting for a postoffice, while Rife, in attempting to protect his body by "cheeking" it through the top, came off loser and less handsome in facial expression. Neither gentleman could afterward capture the capital prize in a beauty show.

Be sure and go to Vic Swanson's for Dry Goods. We handle good goods. Past experience has taught us to buy nothing out the best. We cater to quality and our prices are down to what you pay elsewhere for cheaper goods. We boast in saying we have the most up-to-date line of Dry Goods in Loup City. Let the habit of buying Dry Goods at Vic Swanson's and you will always be satisfied, because our goods will give you wear and always show quality. Vic Swanson's. The House of Quality and low prices.

Miss Elizabeth Luce of our city schools and her good mother left yesterday morning for New York state, stopping at Lincoln to visit for a few days en route, thence to Chicago and on to Chautauqua, N. Y. After a season there, Miss Luce goes to Niagara Falls, where she will be joined by Miss Ada Smith and from there they plan to take in the Thousand Isles and other noted scenic places in the East, returning home some time in September.

After Route No. 2 news items had been printed on first page we received the following additional items: A boy was born at Albion, Neb., last Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Cash. Joe Daddow was out on Route 2 yesterday. Pete Ogle, with a bunch of supervisors, made a trip on Route 2 yesterday.

Carl de la Motte was up from Hazard township this week during district court enjoying our grand, new and commodious court house. There are few counties in the state which have so fine and attractive a temple of justice as we have. The people of the county have a right to be extravagant in their praises of the plainly affair in the center of our court house square.

H. M. Bushnell, Jr., of the Lincoln Trade Review, has been in the city the past two days interesting our business men in his good publication. Almost to a man, they have met him cordially and Loup City may expect a write up of the city and its wonderful growth, improvements and standing in the Review in the near future, showing what he thinks of our live wire little city.

Miss Coral Daddow this morning accepted a position in this office to learn the Art Preservative of Arts, so to speak, and we trust and believe she will become a proficient lady composition. Mrs. Henyan, who has been a most efficient help in the office, and whose health is not of the best, will resign her position as soon as Miss Daddow can take up the work so as to relieve her.

The Northwestern has had an elegant sign placed on the iron post in front of the office, formerly used for an acetylene street light. The sign is the workmanship of that boss brush artist, Painter Ed Jones, and is a fine piece of work. Just notice it and you will say so too.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church of this city yesterday afternoon entertained some 28 ladies of the Arcadia society, they coming down on the freight and returning home on the evening passenger.

Mrs. Willard Thompson is on the sick list. See the new numbers of music at the Ten Cent Store.

A marriage license was issued the 17th instant to Otto B. Lueck of Arcadia and Miss Uouella M. Dewitt of Washington township this county.

Among the attorneys from away who were interested in cases in the District Court here this week were Lawyers Bell of St. Paul and Meyers and Prince of Grand Island.

Our German Evangelical friends will hold their picnic at Jenner's Park next Sunday after morning church services. The park will be closed to all others that day.

Fire works of all kinds at the Ten Cent Store.

Clifford Rein came home from the State University last Saturday evening. He is assisting his father in the clerical work of the district court for a time.

Mrs. A. H. Hansel left for Rome, New York, Tuesday morning, called there by the serious illness of an aunt, and will be absent for a couple of weeks, at least, visiting old friends of her childhood days.

Mr. Edgar Daddow, the young man who suffered the loss of an arm and nearly lost his life in the explosion of gas where he was working in a plant in Omaha, is here with his family, visiting his mother and other relatives and friends. They will remain a month or more.

Miss Angelette Barnes of Holdrege, this state, arrived in Loup City Monday evening for a few weeks' visit, the guest of Mrs. Wm. Criss. She will be remembered as visiting here about a year ago, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Perry, then connected with the Keystone Lumber Company.

Some alfalfa, you bet! Wm. Larsen of the Mercantile Co., on Tuesday was showing a bunch of alfalfa cut from his lots in town that measure full six feet in height. It is claimed much of the first cutting of alfalfa in this section will go as high as three tons to the acre.

Our egg item of last week has brought out a bigger specimen. The one we spoke of weighed 3 1/2 ounces, and now comes Mrs. George Whittaker with one weighing 3 3/4 ounces. Can any one beat that?

Will Taylor and Robert Young left Monday morning for Omaha where it is their purpose to help build up the tornado district, if there is any lack of carpenters there to do the work. We trust the boys will get good jobs and make a mint of money.

Clare Kettle, Steve Polski and a whole lot of the good Ashton fellows were over here courting this week, making no difference whether they were married or single.

Herbert Nightingale has developed a painful case of blood poison on his left hand, from a slight scratch on that member. He has had it lanced twice but it is still quite bad.

If you are in need of cement blocks see C. J. Tracy. He has a large quantity on hand fully seasoned and at prices which will make you buy as a matter of speculation alone, whether you need them at the present or not. He will give you an eye-opener on the low price of the same.

Sunday school meets at 10 a. m. at the Baptist church. Morning service at 11, the topic of the sermon being, "The Children of the Church." At 7:15 p. m. there will be song and prayer service. Subject of the sermon at 8 p. m. will be the "Sky Pilot." All are invited to attend these services.

Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Kearns returned Friday evening last from Bellevue College, where they went to witness the graduation of their son, Archie. The good doctor and his wife have a right to feel proud of their boys.

C. E. Mellor, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Hallene Mellor, left Saturday morning for Chicago, where Miss Hallene will visit for the month's vacation she takes from her duties at the telephone office, while Mr. Mellor goes on to Danville, where his business cares are at present.

Misses Addie and Florence Leininger returned last Saturday evening from University Place, where they were attending school and where Miss Addie graduated with honors. Miss Florence will continue her studies there next year.

H. A. Hinman will remain with Rexall drug store for the present at least.

Mrs. A. T. Conger and children left Monday morning for a month's visit with Mrs. Conger's mother at Blair, this state. Ashley is another handsome widower now on the Loup City market. My, but the tunchis getting numerous. Ashley makes about the fortieth of us fellows who are homeless.

R. P. Starr was too ill to deliver an address at the K. P. Memorial meeting at the opera house Sunday, being confined to his home. Mrs. Starr, also, is only able to be up a portion of the time since her recent operation. Surely our friends are having their portion of ill-health and misfortune.

There were two games of base ball at Rockville last Sunday, one between the Loup City and Rockville high school nines, which came out with even scores, 2 and 2, and the other between Ashton and Rockville nines, which, as our reporter left the scene, stood some 16 to nothing in favor of the Rockville boys. A large crowd from Loup City attended.

Albert Anderstrom, the popular implement dealer of Ashton was in this city Sunday night, returning home Monday morning. He was coming up from Rockville Sunday evening by auto and his machine went wrong down at Austin just as the rain struck that place, but just what further history was made we were unable to find out for from that point Albert was as close-mouthed as an oyster. We delegate our Ashton correspondent to probe into the furtherness of the matter and the whyness of his frequent visits to the county seat.

The Northwestern is in possession of a romance in real life. Now, it is not in connection with marriage or elopement, as you would infer from the above, but in which an orphan finds a home according to the rules of facts stranger than fiction. Last Saturday morning, little Carl Hansen, orphan child of Mrs. Hansen, deceased, left to make his future home with one of the professors of York college, whose name we did not learn, and thereby hangs the romance. Perhaps a couple of years ago, when little Carl and his mother were on a train, there was also on the same train the professor above mentioned, who took a fancy to the boy and made the request that in the future if he were left an orphan, he might adopt him and give him a home. The departure of the boy for York is the culmination of the story. Some time ago, the mother died and since that time the boy has made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Thornton of this city, and arrangements were made a few days since to adopt the lad by the York professor, the boy going to his new home last Saturday.

Auction Sale

I will sell at public auction at my residence, one block south of city reservoir, Loup City, Saturday, June 28, 1913, beginning at 2:30 p. m., the following live stock: sixteen milch cows and four calves; also about 200 bushels of corn on my farm. John N. Fisher.

Temper and Good Looks.

Thoughtfulness for others and unselfishness are great beautifiers, for all perfection of skin and feature will not make up for an unlovely expression due to a hard heart.

Every girl is not possessed of an amiable temper or a pretty face, but every girl may try to improve both her temper and her face. She may not be able to alter the shape of her nose or the color of her eyes, but if she cultivates an interest in those about her, if she tries to make the world happier for those with whom she is brought into association, she can scarcely fail before long to win a pleasing expression of countenance that will cause physical defects to be forgotten. And, after all, there is some satisfaction to be got out of working on one's disposition and cultivating the higher self.

Natural Result.

"I hear that young Billikins has got a windfall." "Yes, and he'll immediately proceed to blow it in."

Must Be.

"They're always late with this fruit I order." "Why don't you order dates? Then they'd have to be on time."
