their son, Ernest, who so faithfully nursed his father for so long here before the removal of the family to Butte, is now on the government tug, "Horace Harding," of the engineering department, in the Gulf of Mexico, now at Mob!le, Alabama. He expects later to go to South America. Their son Newton and family now live in British Columbia, while Theodore, Jr., is still at Butte, thus showing that the good family has again become scattered since the reunion here while the father was so ill. They write that they are doing well at Butte and like it ever so much. However, Mr. and Mrs. Pilger have been very much disappointed since going to Butte Mr. Jaeneke says: "I was ruptured on my right side 19 years ago, and on the left side 3 years ago No one by the missing of so many numbers of the Northwestern, but my ruptures up with poor trusses that generously absolve us from fault. bought them. by saying the fault lay in not sending us their later address, and the postoffice department being dlined to take the risk of an operacareless with second class matter, so while they received their letters regularly the papers very frequently missed, and by the way the very ones which contained than ever. news of especial interest to them. 'DOC' MIDDLETON

Douglas, Wyo .- "Doc" Middleton of Ardmore, famous outlaw, gunman and general charac ter of the old northwest, is dead at the Douglas jail, where he was servinfi a sentence for illegal selling of liquor. Middleton, who during the early days infested the Wyoming-Nebraska border, at one time conducted a ranch near Rushville, Neb., which was a rendezvous for road agents and outlaws, and where scores of nefarious expeditions are said to have been carried out.

When the news of the decision was received in Kearney, Ed. T. McDermott, for the plaintiff in the case before the supreme court, announced that a rehearing of the case would be asked for.

If the decision of the supreme court is made to stick, it will re sult in the immediate return to office of Hallowell and the removal of the present county judge, J. E. Morrison, who was appointed by the county board following the ousting of Hallowell. The grounds that the legislature had not by general law the power to remove Hallowell was the argument preented strongly by Judge W. OPERATION

Wonderful Healing of Rupture

How n Boelus Man Got Rid of a Severe. Painful and Obstinate Double Rupture, Without the Slightest Trouble.

Below is a picture of Fred J. Jaen-We have received a letter from eke, a well known and popular farmer of Boelus. Neb., R F. D. 1. If you Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Pilger at could see him at his work, particular-lary heavy farm work, jumping and climbing around like a youth—you of interest outside of personal cor- would scarcely imagine that he had respondence. By it we see that rupture.

Afraid of Operation

Like most others, Mr. Jaeneke detion, the loss of time away from his work, and the expense and the danger had to be considered too. Moreover, it is a well established fact that many rupture operations are not successful the bowel soon breaks through the sewed up opening and protrudes worse

Heard of Dr. Rich

"Although my friends insisted that an operation was the only thing for much likelihood of their missing ration, if possible, so I consulted Dr. Rich of Grand Island. Dr. Rich cured my double rupture in a few treatments. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble, comfort and contentment from the very beginning. I could not ask for better or more painstaking treatment than I received PASSES AWAY from Dr. Rich. I am glad I went to Dr. Rich and advise others snffering with rupture to do the same and stick

> Why Ruptures Are Neglected The principal reason why so many people neglect their ruptures is because they think a knife operation is the only way to get cured. They dread the idea of taking chloroform and be-ing cut open. But since the discovery of my method there is no reason why anyone should continue to suffer with rupture when they can be cured easily, simply and satisfactorily.

People With Small Ruptures Remember! You with small ruptures should remember that large raptures were once small ones. A sudden misstep, slip or fall, hard coughing or sneezing, or continued neglect may any day cause your rupture to enlarge to enormous size or even strangulate and endanger life. Don't allow your With the coming of the law Middleton and his kind were relegated to the discard, and of late rupture to enlarge and threaten life. Take it in time. Come now and take advantage of my New Plan, the fair-eft rupture offer ever made, and get cured before spring work opens.

Ruptured Children

Parents will foolishly allow their children to grow up with one of the greatest curses to humanity. Parents if your child is ruptured. do not conif your child is ruptured, do not con-demn him to go through life with this vitality-sapping and dangerous affliction. Have him cured while the muscular tissues are developing and can be easily strengthened. Bring in your ruptured children. Do not neg-lect them. Fit them for the battle of life. It is your duty. They are not able to help themselves, but you should.

My New Plan Cure

A new lan for the New Year. No trouble to get rid of your rupture now Reversing the decision of the district court on the grounds that legislature has not the power to cuse for any man, woman or child io proposition that has ever been made don't take my treatment.

KEEPING SOUND AND NORMAL

Too Many Neglect the Wonderful Ma-Which Constitutes the Human Body.

You never saw a clock that didn't all persons interested in the estate o wouldn't break down, a lamp that did Andrew J Gray, deceased: wouldn't break down, a lamp that did not require refilling. Experience has taught you when to use the key, where to look for lost screws and bolts, and what oil will produced the most light with the least waste.

It's surprising how careful we are with the things upon which we depend for comfort, and the tools on which we rely for our livelihood. But how about the most important piece of machinery under the stars—that body of yours? It's far more delicate than the most intricate machanical device, much more sensitive. A marvelous affair, strung with minute nerves, crossed and criss-crossed with tiny feed and drain pipes, equipped with a furnace, storage stations, little warehouses to hold emergency supply-in fact, it is a manufacturing plant with more departments than you'd ever imagine, and every one of them needing constant attention. You are as healthful and capable as you are sound and

If you exercise half the care in your body-keeping that you do in your housekeeping there is no telling how long you'll live or how comfortable you can be. Every pain, every ache, is a little warning-one of nature's alarm signs telling you that something is out of order, one of the little wires is tangled or a pipe is choked up. Your boilers may need a good cleaning. You have put improper fuel into your furnace, and it is either generating too much warmth or too little .-Woman's World.

No Grammar for Her.

In a Fort Scott school the teachers gave orders for all pupils to buy a certain kind of grammar, and bring the book to the class the next day. When school started one little girl walked to the front of the room and carefully laid a note on the teacher's desk. She picked it up, rather surprised, but she was more surprised when she read the following note: "I do not desire that mattie shall ingage in grammar, as I prefer her to ingage in more useful studies, and can learn her speak and write proper myself. I have been through two grammars, and can't say they did me no good. I prefer mattie to ingage in German or drawin' and vockal musich on the piano."-Fort Scott Tribune.

Give the Frail Ones a Chance. "I observe with surprise," commented Alexander Akinside. dyspeptic dissertationist, "that all th correspondents who write about th discourtesy of street car patrons t each other invariably claim to hav seen nobody but husky brutes of me sitting, and frail women standing hanging to straps and wabbling for bly about. If it is really true to the slender young gentlemen who for the clothing advertisements no get seats and robust women ne stand, it is high time that a mi meeting is called and something 6 about it."-Kansas City Star.

Arthur T. Hadley, president of Yale, said of youth at a tea in New Haven: "I find youth modest, almost overmodest. I don't agree with the accepted idea of youth that is epitomized in the anecdote.

"Acording to this anecdote, an old man said to a youth: "'My boy, when I was your age thought, like you, that I knew it all,

Worth Knowing. The bank clearings of the country which represent financial exchange transactions amounted last year to more than $170,000,000,000, of which Fatal Year.

This year must be written into his tory as the most fatal to human beings since the flood, at least, and more by the records than that year of the wisdom of Noah, by thousands. With the slaughter increasing in that proportion for centuries to come there will be no occasion to bother about the earth being over-populated Worcester Telegram.
