STORY WITH TWO SIDES.

Marital troubles, like the poor, are always with us. A farmer; living not more than 2,000 miles from Fairbury, had an advertisement inserted in a paper reading: "Notice—My wife having left my bed and board, I will not be responsible for any debts she may contract."

Whereupon the wife read the paper and went mad, so blamed mad she grabbed her typewriter and wrote for publication the following:

"Whereas, my one-time husband has published in the paper that I have left his bed and board. Well, his bed was little better than a board—why should I not leave it? I paid for the bed from money I made teaching school before we were married and made the feather tick with my own hands and killed the bedbugs that got on the slats. I could stand the bugs better than him. The bugs worked only nights and while they have a disagreeable odor when smashed they smell all right if you leave them alone, but as for the old man, when it was only about once a month that he washed his feet and the tobacco smell on his clothes clung to him like a house. Leave his bed and board—I should say I did. I furnished the board—cooked the meals stood off the grocer and the meat man. If it hadn't been for the kids I'd left him long ago. As for contracting debts, he never did any contracting. That's what those debts needed—contracting; they always expanded when he was around and I took in sewing to keep them from expanding any more. You'll have to go to work now, and contract them yourself. Keep your old bed and board I don't want any more of them."—Journal.

SHOES ABOUT TO SOAR

New York—In the opinion of speakers at the annual convention of the National Shoe Retailers' association, the retail price of shoes may soon reach $10 a pair. "Pure shoe laws," already adopted in twenty-five states, and several measures of the same nature now pending in congress, were given as the chief cause for increasing the price of footwear.

Clear Creek Items

L. B. Van Dyke shipped a car of cattle to Omaha Tuesday.

Harry Hinman was in this vicinity last week fixing telephones.

George Zahn hauled a couple loads of oats from Mason this week.

Edgar Van Dyke hauled wheat to Mason Tuesday and Wednesday.

Edgar Van Dyke purchased a team of horses from Glen Smith this week.

Lawrence Lowry returned to his school duties at Broken Bow Saturday.

Mrs. Hagar and little daughter spent Tuesday with Mrs. Warren Edson.

Miss Russell and Dwight Chamberlain visited Sunday afternoon at the Adam Zahn home.

A number of school children in this vicinity have just recovered from an attack of chicken pox.

Another of Ross Haddix's horses were taken sick this week. Mr. Haddix has already lost several horses this winter.

A few of the farmers in the neighborhood have been losing cattle lately. Blackleg is thought to be the prevailing disease.

Dated January 27th, 1914.
E. A. SMITH,
County Judge.
Last pub. Feb. 12.

GOTCH SAYS HE'S THRU WRESTLING

Frank Gotch champion wrestler of the world who has been retiring annually for the last four years, probably is out of the game forever, says the Kansas City Star. Gotch was recently offered $30,000 for three matches to take place in New York, but he turned down the offer. In the past the jingle of the coin has lured him from his Iowa farm, but now he says that no amount of money can induce him to enter the game again. In a letter to his manager, Emil

Blank, received yesterday, Gotch says:

"Please announce positively that I am through with wrestling forever. My wife and myself have gone over the matter thoroughly and nothing will ever induce me to change my mind. The call of the foreigners and the offer of big purses will never make me leave the farm again. I would suggest that Beell and Americus get together and then let the winner of this match defend the title. I will willingly waive my right to the title in favor of the winner of the match between Beell and Americus."
