RECORDS OF PLAYERS CAREER OF CICOTTE OF THE WHITE SOX OUTFIELDER GEORGE BURNS

HUSKY TASKS THAT CONFRONT AMBITIOUS YOUNGSTERS.

George Gibson of Pittsburgh Worked in 140 Consecutive Games During Season of 1909-Other Interesting Figures.

Each season ball players individually and as a team start out with the determination of smashing some of the old records and establishing new ones for themselves. Here are a few of the records-taken from Spalding's 1914 Guide-which show the rather husky task that confronts the players of this era who have recordbreaking ambitions.

In 1909 George Gibson, the Pirate catcher, worked in 140 consecutive games. In July, 1908, Roger Bresnahan, then with the Giants, did not have an assist or put out in a ten-inning game. An average of .990 for the season was turned in in 1904 by Joe Sugden of the Browns, in 1906 by Jack O'Connor of the Browns, in 1907 by Frank Bowerman of New York, in 1909 by Forrest Cady of the Red Sox and also by George Gibson of Pittsburgh.

In the pitching line, Charles Radbourne, with Providence, in 1883 worked in 37 consecutive games and won 28. In 1884 he pitched 72 games in one season-a record that was duplicated in 1889 by John Clarkson, then with Boston. Keefe, pitching for the Giants in 1889 and Marquard, pitching for the same team in 1912, are tied with 19 consecutive victories in one season.

Charles Sweeney, pitching for Providence against Boston in 1883, struck out 21 batsmen. Amos Rusie in 1892. gave 261 bases on balls in one season. In 1875, Al G. Spalding pitched 63

Burns justified the confidence placed in him. He played in 150 games, hit for .286, stole 40 bases and scored $1 runs, some record for a lad in his first real season. Burns was born in 1892 and makes his home in St. Johnsville, N. Y. YOUNG PLAYERS EXCEL

REASON WHY AMERICAN LEAGUE LEADS OLDER RIVAL

Sentiment Seems to Cause Nationals to Keep Old Stars in Regular Lineup-Comparison of Roster Is Quite Interesting.

(By FRANK G. MENKE.) Because they persist in hanging on to their veterans long after their real usefulness is gone—that's the reason why the National league, once the classiest organization in baseball has had to yield first place to the American league.

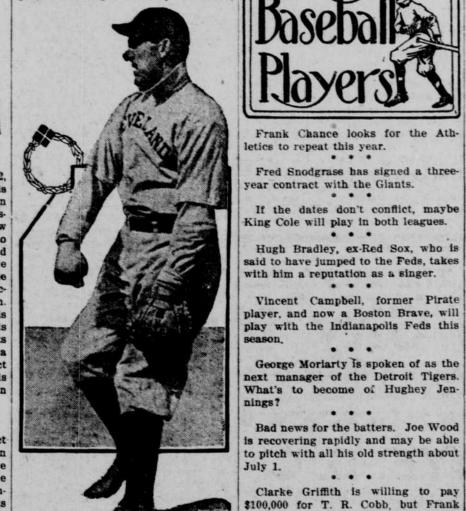

There has been no denying of the fact that for the past four years the American league teams have had it "on" their National rivals. The American leaguers have been triumphant in the last four world series combats, and in the majority of post-season games between the Americans and Nationals the teams of the younger organization have been triumphant. In 1913 the American leaguers were winners in every series in which they engaged with the Nationals.

A glance through the baseball records shows the reason. The American league keeps a star player as long as he performs in major league stylebut not one day longer. They cut him adrift when he starts to skid and supplant him with new blood-bring to the fore some youngsters who soon shine just as brightly as did the stars of old.

With the National league it is different. Sentiment seems to cause waiting to break in.

400 odd, then in that league, are still in American league harpess. Those men are Lajoie and Turner of the Naps, Crawford of the Tigers, and Bender and Plank of the Athletics.

Stovall, who joined the Naps back in 1904, was with the St. Louis Browns until last fall, and now is with the Federals. Harry Davis, a star in 1904, is still on the Athletic payroll, but he plays no longer. Jimmy Callahan, now manager of the White Sox: Clark Griffith, now manager of the Senators. and Nick Altrock, coacher, are the only players who played in 1904 who still are drawing salaries from the American league.

But it's a bit different with the National league, which carried and best to make the Nap team, played regularly in 1913 nearly 25 men who were in the game in 1904, and even earlier than that date. Included catcher, says that the recruits with in this list are Wagner, Bresnahan, Mathewson, Ames, Gamnitz, Huggins, lot of youngsters he has seen together Mathewson, Ames, Gamnicz, Huggins, Evers, McCormick, Wiltse, Needham, in a long time.

Glancing over the 1909 rosters of the American and National leagues, and comparing them with the present ones, shows that the Nationals still coach of young heavers as there is in there was nothing in his past that he have nearly 70 men in their lineups who were there in 1909, while the Americans have only about 40. This means that the American Leaguers have weeded out the slipping stars of the world to be lost in. Besides, Jack new one in athletics. Charles Parker, the other days, and that the National Leaguers have hung onto them-and lost considerable prestige thereby.

The result of these conflicting policies has been shown in the inter-league clashes in the past few years. The American league outfits, composed to get six hits in one game. And mostly of kids, have been able to there are not very many who made as sweep everything before, them: the many as five, either. National league, with its heavy membership of slipping veterans, have slowed up and have had to yield beover the Murphy-Evers episode that he fore the onslaught of the younger orboldly broke into print with the stateganization.

It seems to be up to the National Leaguers to weed out the veterans and let the bench-warming kids ooze out into the spotlight if they want to save themselves from slipping to a minor league status when compared with the speed boys of the American league. The new organization has forged ahead so rapidly in the past few years, has so closely outclassed the Nationals, that many skeptical fans are declaring that the Nationals today, despite their galaxy of stars, Fraternity. That is why the Federals do not rank superior to those of the first division teams in the class AA minor leagues.
