LOCAL NEWS.

Mrs. James Johansen got home last evening from Illinois at the funeral of her beloved father.

Just received a new lot of pattern hats at Mrs. Mathews.

Mary Reiman went to Sargent for a two week's visit with her sister.

Do you know why some canned goods you buy are so tasteless, flat and unpalatable? Ask The Mogul man. He knows and will be pleased to tell you. Phone 58. Joe Vaughn.

Grandma Reiman returned from Arcadia Tuesday accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. John.

The ladies of the Butter Club gave a surprise the other afternoon on Mrs. Malbaff at the home of S. E. Thrasher, the ladies bringing with them a fine lunch.

Caller: Why, Mrs. Guillicuddy, how very delicious are those peaches. Did you put them up?

Hostess: Oh, no; they are Mogul Brand Peaches—just like home canning and costs much less. I buy all my canned goods at the Mogul Store. Phone 58. Joe Vaughn.

Len Knapp was down from Logan last Wednesday evening having some repairs to his auto. From Len we learned that his sister, Mrs. George Petersen, now at Brooks, Minn., was to go to a hospital for an operation for gall stone trouble. He had not heard further at that time as to how she had passed through the operation. The many friends of that lady will be anxious to know about her and Len promised to let us know as soon as he heard.

Later—Word was received from Mr. Knapp Tuesday morning of this week that Mrs. Petersen had undergone a successful operation for both gall stones and appendicitis at Rochester, Minn., and was reported as getting along nicely since the operation. This will be pleasing news to that lady's friends here.

Price-winning Rose-Comb Rhode Island Reds 40c per setting. White rabbits for sale. Chas. Marey.

The Northwestern's job department is overcrowded with work at present, and in fact has been so since we secured the services of J. R. Gardiner, some seven months ago. Our job department is complete with the very latest and up-to-date series of type, with several hundreds of dollars worth of stationery in stock, and we have the only first-class job printers in the city, so it is no wonder our job department is overrun with work. At this writing (Monday morning) we have 15 jobs on the hook which could not be reached last week. Surely, we feel mighty good over it all and return thanks to our patrons, to whom we owe our good fortune.

ALONG ROUTE TWO

Road Boss Ernest Daddow dragged the roads in his fist last week.

Vida Cowling's school closed last Friday with a fine program.

C. S. Morrison dragged the roads in his district last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ondrake this week moved to Ravenna.

John Kociemba marketed a load of wheat Saturday.

Miss Annette Petersen visited last week at the home of Fritz Bichel.

Don Holmes hauled a 4-horse load of hay from Behrens last Friday.

Miss Mamie Ondrake has been at Mike Klimick home the past week.

Ted Gasteyer visited his Co. friend, Brown, several days the past week.

Mrs. Jewette is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Smalley, this week.

Mrs. Neisner's girl has a touch of tubercular troubles and at times is quite poorly.

Mrs. Neisner's children, Margaret and Justin have been tussling with the chicken pox the past week.

C. W. Burt has rented the Art Wilson place and will farm it this coming season in addition to his own.

Road Boss John Petersen in the southwest part of Clay dragged his roads last Friday.

Mrs. W. H. McLaughlin took the train for Aurora, to be at the bedside of her sister-in-law.

M. E. Goddard and family have moved on the place vacated by Art Wilson.

Cecil Draper and James Kilpatrick fixed their mail boxes on wheels last week.

Frank Pinskiowski did some well repairing on the southwest part of Route 2 last week.

Tom McFadden has been going through a severe siege of lumbago the past ten days, but is better at present.

John Petersen was working the roof of Henry Obermiller last Wednesday, but found too much frost in the ground.

Henry Dolling bought the John Ohlsen bungalow west of Robt. Dinsdale's and Ann has been busy this week building a fence there.

To the patrons of Route 2: The ancient prayer that is going through the mails is not allowed by the post-office department. Carrier.

There was party at Winnifred Hughes a short time ago. Some of those who attended got lost on their way home.

You can send a parcel package with a letter attached now. But the letter must have the regular postage on it and be tied to the outside of the package.

We forgot to mention last week that Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Jorgensen helped to boost the court house at the rally in Wiggle creek, by rendering some appropriate songs.

Lawson Baillie's little daughter, Rev. had a birthday last week and celebrated it by treating her teacher, Margaret McFadden, and her schoolmates to cake, not forgetting those who were at home, sick.

Farmers are commencing to realize that to burn the old strawstacks in the spring is a mistake, and a good many are spreading the straw out over their lands. The manure spreader has made this possible.

W. O. Brown and C. J. Nordstedt anchored some white willows in the river at the south end of the south bridge, to keep the water from washing the bank. The willows not only give temporary relief, but after a few weeks form a sand bank, take root and make rapid growth, forming a permanent relief.

The carrier encountered all kinds of April fool pranks on the first. A few of them were nailed down; paper sack filled with sand and laid in the middle of the road nicely tied up, and other tricks too numerous to tell about. The carrier bit on most of them, but the children had a good time.

Glen Cash had a runaway last week Wednesday night, but did not forget for some time. He met a team in the road thus forcing Glen's buggy off a high culvert. This frightened the team and they ran away. After going a short distance the doubletrees snapped, thus freeing them from the vehicle. Running a short distance further the team straddled a telephone pole, tearing the harness to pieces and each went his own way, nor were found till the following day. Glen was not hurt seriously.

Willie, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Verne Alleman, aged some eight years, met with a serious accident last Friday evening about 6 o'clock, while cutting hay on top of the stack some ten rods from the house. After cutting hay all the hay necessary, he slid down the side of the stack with the hay knife in his hand. Before he reached the ground, the knife slipped from his grasp and struck the earth point up, the little fellow's body sliding on the point, and cutting through the clothes and four or five inches in length. The knife entered the body just above the appendix. How brave the little fellow was for he took hold of the knife and pulled it out of his body himself. Then he ran to the house telling his mother what had happened. She examined him and found it worse than she had expected. The intestines were out of the hole in his body the size of your fist. Dr. Bowman was called and dressed the wound. He then phoned

Shoe Department

PURE LEATHER. Does it pay to buy an off brand of shoes at a cheap price? No it does not, for many shoes are not made of pure leather and to look at them they look as good as the best but when one comes to wear a pair they will soon see where the trouble is, and this is the cause of so many SHOE dealers going out of the shoe business. They have not been handling the right kind of shoes. We handle the STAR BRAND SHOES which stands with the best. When you once buy a Star Brand Shoe you will wear no other. We handle them in Ladies' Men's, Boys, Girls and little Children's. STAR BRAND SHOES ARE BETTER, try a pair Loup City Mercantile Co.
