THE BACK BONE IN OUR SUITS

is the all wool material that is used exclusively. No suit of ours was ever known to lose its shape, fade or go threadbare along the lines of cotton or mercerized fabrics

There are a lot of men who can't tell the difference between cotton and wool fabrics but you don't need to know this when you buy here because only pure wool is handled.

New Parcel Post Rulings Now in Effect

The postmaster general has just issued an order which changes materially the manner of packing certain kinds of merchandise for mailing and makes practical the shipping of butter and eggs and other farm products by parcel post. Butter, for shipment in the local zone—that is, for delivery at the office of mailing or on a rural route starting therefrom—will be accepted for mailing if wrapped in such a manner as to prevent damage to other mail matter. Butter, destined for shipment in any other zone except the local zone, must be enclosed in a wood, metal or heavy corrugated in paste board box or container. Twenty pounds is the maximum which may be shipped beyond the second zone. Butter in parcels weighing more than twenty pounds for delivery in the local, first and second zones may be accepted in cans or buckets having a tight bottom and will be handled outside of mail bags. The same provisions apply to lard and perishable articles such as dressed fowls, fresh meats, vegetables, berries, fruits and other articles which quickly perish or decay.

Eggs will be accepted for local delivery when properly packed in a basket surrounded by some material to ease the jar and absorb the breakage. Eggs for mailing to a distance must be wrapped each one in excelsior or cotton and placed in a strong container of wood, metal or heavy corrugated paste board and wrapped so nothing can escape from the package. In the local, first and second zones, eggs in parcels weighing more than twenty pounds will be accepted for mailing when packed in crates, boxes or buckets, having tight bottoms to prevent the escape of anything from the package, and will be handled outside of mail bags.

These changes are for the purpose of rendering the parcel post of greater service to the farming community in the shipping of butter, eggs and farm produce and will be very acceptable to all concerned. The rules which were formerly in effect with reference to the packing of parcels of produce were so rigid as to be almost prohibitive.

Another innovation permits the sender of a parcel post package to attach a letter or communication to same. The communication must be enclosed in a sealed envelope and stamped with the proper amount of postage. It may then be attached to the parcel which bears its proper postage and the two may ride together to their destination as fourth-class mail matter. The letter must be attached to the outside of the parcel and not enclosed within. To enclose a personal communication within a parcel of mail matter taking a lower postage rate renders the sender liable to a fine of $10 for this offense against the postal laws.

Books are admitted to the parcel post since March 16th. But printed matter and circulars and photographs are still third-class matter and are not mailable as parcel post matter, except that printed matter in one parcel weighing in excess of four pounds will be treated as fourth-class matter.

These changes are in the interest of better parcel post service to all the people. It appears to be the determination of the post-office department to render this service simple, complete and effective. The steady increase of parcel post mail gives assurance of the popularity of this manner of transpiring merchandise and its saving of time, trouble and expense. J. G. Alden, Postmaster.

Will Not Divide Political Plun.

Governor Morehead has announced to democratic editors, it is said, his intention to give the printing of the constitutional amendments only to democratic papers. It will amount to about $184 for each paper printing the proposed amendments. This is a different system from that adopted by former Governor Aldrich, who gave democratic editors a share of the swag, which amounted in that year to over $500 for each newspaper.—Omaha Examiner.

Commercializing the Word of Jesus Christ

The free will offering of Billy Sunday for his work in Pittsburg, as reported by the Gazette Times, totaled $37,215.43. It would require the labor of the average skilled workman forty years to earn that amount. If he happened to have a goodly flock dependent upon him he would have to pay rent all the time, and would scarcely have saved enough to pay his funeral expenses. Yet the man who claims to be a follower of Him who had not where to lay his head is thus bountifully rewarded for eight weeks "work for the Master." In Penecostal times spiritual benefits were not measured by market values. Now it seems that the individual "called" to the work of saving sinners is entitled to cash benefits commensurate with visible results. Brands from the burning at so much per brand. Pittsburg is a wealthy city. It is the home of a considerable number of millionaires and an army on the borderline of destitution. Somewhere in the good book is the admonition "Feed my lambs," but the Pittsburgers seem more inclined to lavish all the benefits upon the shepherd. Commercializing Christianity contradicts the essence of the gospel of Christ.—Ex.

After Only Six Months of Demoratic Tariff

After six months of the Democratic tariff the following results appear:
Revenue from duties decreased more than $25,000,000.
Imports of raw material for use by American manufacturers decreased $27,000,000.
Imports of party manufactured articles for further use in American industries also decreased $27,000,000.
Exports of finished American managers decreased more than $20,000,000.
Exports of manufacturers for further use in industries decreased $13,000,000.
Imports of manufactures increased $4,500,000.
In other words the manufacturers of the United States have had use for $54,000,000 worth less of material in the last six months than they had in the corresponding period a year ago when a protective tariff was in force; they have exported $22,000,000 worth less of their products; and foreign manufacturers have sold $4,500,000 more of their products in the United States.
The cost of living is no cheaper and people have less money to meet it.
The country's revenues have decreased at the rate of more than $50,000,000 a year necessitating the importation of an income tax which may or may not make up the deficit.
