THE DAY OF RECKONING.

The legislative history of two years of democratic rule was completed March 4. Those two years have been marked by one of the most active periods of law making this country has ever seen.

What does a study of that record show?

It discloses the fact that during that time the democratic congress has enacted and the democratic president has signed more crude, imperfect and nugatory laws than ever were written during the same length of time by any American congress.

That there has been a tremendous quantity of legislation cannot be denied. More than four hundred public laws have been placed upon the statute books by the democrats since they came into power.

Those who have closely observed the methods of legislation used by the democratic majority are not surprised at the family results. The present administration has been admittedly notable, even notorious, for its steam roller short cuts in enacting laws.

It is conceivable that a few bills might be put through a legislative body in this way and emerge in perfect form. But to use such methods indiscriminately, as the democratic congress has done, is practically to insure the enactment of laws which future congresses must either repeal or spend many weeks to amend.

Specific examples of blundering will not be enumerated in this article. It is enough at present to make the general statement that the democratic party has "sown a wind of legislation and is reaping a whirlwind of mistakes." Future articles will appear that will show in detail the various instances of blundering, careless drafting of bills that finally went on the statute books without correction.

A preliminary statement made by the superintendent of the North Platte experimental substation concerning Sudan grass says: "The results of the two years have not proved to us that Sudan grass is superior to sorghum, but later tests under different weather conditions may give results that will indicate that Sudan grass is superior to sorghum as an annual forage crop under Nebraska conditions.

The complete statement will be sent on request upon application to the bulletin clerk, University Farm, Lincoln.

A circular telling of the production requirements of the different breeds of dairy cattle and expenses in securing official tests has just been issued by the dairy department of the University of Nebraska.

RAG WEED.

The thorns which tear a man most are usually of his own planting.

The mills of God are grinding with exactness at the end of the long lane which has no turning.

He who uses a giant's strength to pull a dandelion will bump the back of his head against a brick.

An anxious youth writing to his home paper wants to know if he can kiss a girl when a star shoots. He can, if he has the girl and she will let him.

There is absolutely no grain of pity in consequences. To appeal to them for quarter is absolutely useless. We must go back to the cause of consequence and right that, to correct the evil.

A man entered one of our stores the other day and asked the price of sulphur. When told it was ten cents he said "I can get it from the mail order house for eight cents." "Yes," replied our merchant, who had evidently heard that argument before, "and you can get it in hell for nothing, and won't have to pay the freight."

He sold him the sulphur alright.

Moses was the first journalist, because he wrote on the tablets of stone but Noah went him one better and advertised. Noah built the ark and announced the day for sailing. He whooped 'er up lively and made a great display.

The non-believers scoffed at him and died in the wet water. Thus again did the man who advertised triumph. You can't keep a good man down, especially if he advertises.

SCHOOL NOTES.

Miss Lucienne Chase was absent last week because of sickness.

The high school boys have begun to practice base ball. "Keep it up boys, and show the neighboring towns the difference between base ball and foot ball.

The junior class held two class meetings the past week and as their class meetings always result in acts, be prepared to say yes when they call upon you and ask you to buy a ticket or tickets for the concert the 29th.

The botany class have become so intent upon their search for flowers that they have contracted a mania for anything green. The other day one of their number was found kneeling on the sidewalk trying to dig up a green '18 with a small pocket knife.

The high school pupils were both alarmed and astonished at the radical change which came over Miss Fawthrop last week. For three days she spoke very seldom, but the change was not permanent and now since her cold has improved she talks as much as formerly.

The old brick school house has passed through many hard tempests, but the building never shook in a storm as it did last Wednesday afternoon in the great storm of sighs and lamentations caused by the contents of the report cards which at that time were given out to the 11th and 12th grades.

The second annual debate on a practical topic occurred in the 9th grade last week. The question was as follows: Resolved that Miss Fawthrop believes in athletic training. The strongest proof on the affirmative side and it was the following by Tena French.

I know that Miss Fawthrop believes in athletic training because as I was sitting in my seat chewing gum she passed up the aisle and after stumbling over my feet asked me to take my gum out of my mouth and put my feet in. This proof was conclusive and won the debate.

An Interview With Mr. Ford

The following interview was given by Mr. Ford to one of the aggressive Ford agents, who returned to his home and gave it to his territory in the following newspaper advertisement:

This is the Most Important Advertisement I Ever Caused to be Published.—Read Every Word—and then Marvel!

On a personal visit to Mr. Henry Ford I broached the subject of a possible August 1st Rebate.

(The Ford Company announced last year—as you well remember—that if their total sales reached 300,000 cars between August 1, 1914, and August 1, 1915, each purchaser during that period would receive back a refund of $50.00 to $100.00.)

"Mr. Ford," I suggested, "Is there anything I can say to our people with regard to the Ford Motor Company's car rebate plan?"

"We shall sell the 300,000," was the quiet reply—"and in 11 months ahead of August 1st!"

"Then a refund is practically assured?"

"Yes—barring the totally unexpected. We are 50,000 to 75,000 cars behind orders today. Factory and branches are sending out 1800 daily."

I then said to Mr. Ford: "If I could make a definite refund statement we would increase our local sales 500 cars."

"You may say" was Mr. Ford's deliberate and significant reply to this—"You may say that we shall pay back to each purchaser of a Ford car between August 1, 1914 and August 1, 1915, barring the unforeseen, the sum of $50.00. You may say that I authorized you to make this statement!"

What can I add to the above? $15,000,000 in cash coming back to Ford owners! And to prospective Ford owners up to August 1, 1915, it actually means—Ford Touring cars for $490.00—less the $50.00 rebate! Ford Runabouts for $440.00—less the $50.00 rebate! What is there left for me to say?
