WANT INTERPRETATION.

A typical example of inexcusable blundering by congress in the enactment of a statute has been argued recently before the court of customs appeals. The court is asked to interpret the meaning of paragraph 408 of the Underwood tariff act, the first important law | $2 a minute as an actress in the of the present administration.

in the history of the state. Many farmers protected their crops by insurance and received fair and honest settlement from all responsible companies. We represent several of the best companies writing this class of insurance,

We solicit your hail insurance this year and urge you not to write it elsewhere until you have talked with us. You may be aware of the unsatisfactory experience some farmers have had in writing their insurance with strangers. You may already understand the advantage of dealing with home men, who will be here to see that you get a square deal in case of loss, rather than with a stranger who will never return. Your neighbors who insured their crops with us last year will tell you their settlements were satisfactory in every way. Ask them.

Be Sure of Your Plans

When you get plans for the new house be sure that you understand them thoroughly. Some builpers go by rule of thumb and think that they can explain to the owner what he wants better than if they took the trouble to make a blue print of the building.

It is Sure to Cause Trouble

If you think you are getting one thing and the builder has a different idea, and the result is that the work is to be done over or else you are very disappointed in some part of your house. Let me explain my system of making plans and you will be convinced that it is the only way.

WANTS ANALYSIS.

A Nebraska man has written to the state food commissioner asking analysis of a certain lip medicine. He says a doctor applied some to his wife's lips, which were sore, and from that time on she ran after the doctor, deserting husband and home, and that finally they eloped. The deserted husband wants to know if the lip salve comes under all the requirements of the pure food law.
