Everybody welcome.

Don't go up to Pony Lake fishing for the whole country is one big lake. The carrier and the bunch he went with will not soon forget their trying experience autoing in water and deep mud. How would you like to run on a high center as we did, all four wheels dangling in the air and water rushing by you on all sides? It would not have been so bad had it happened in the day time. It was four hours before we got free. This is only one of a dozen like experiences we had while gone. It rained every day we were up there. Big rains too. We had fifty or sixty fish in a hole along in the side of the lake all the fish we had, and when the Thursday night's flood came the lake rose so high our fish swam out into deep water. You can imagine the water that fell that night when a lake a mile wide by some two miles long rose that high. In all we caught about one hundred fish. In one hour any other year one could get more than that. Wil Garner and family were also enjoying the fine weather up there.

Farmers and Mule Breeders.

The breeding of mules for farm use has been neglected in this section for years. As a work animal it is conceded that the mule has no equal, Harry Obermiller, who lives just south of Schaupps, and who is an old-time and experienced mule breeder, announces that he will offer for service this season, Prince Albert, a magnificent black Spanish Jack. He is a big fellow; is 16 hands high and weighs 1,050 pounds. He is a jack of fine action and has a record as a foal getter. The service fee is $10, and he will make the season at Mr. Obermiller's farm, a quarter of a mile south of Schaupps. Mr. Obermiller announces that he will make a specialty of breeding so-called barren mares.
