OUR NEW MAN OF BUSINESS.

For generations throughout the civilized world the farmer has been regarded simply as a farmer—nothing more.

He has been classed as a farmer, rated as a farmer, treated as a farmer and all because there are none so blind as those who will not see.

But all of that is changed today. The farmer has come into his own, and stands before the world in the twentieth century as the most solid, substantial and reliable class on the face of the globe.

He is a man of business—of tremendous business—the one man without whom the people of the world would cease to exist.

Men go out to the great cities, and many of them rise, and fall and are heard from no more.

But the farmer moves steadily onward, and upward, always to better and greater things.

He is our new man of business—our greatest man of business—the man upon whom all the world depends for the vital sustenance of life.

When the president of the United States, one of the greatest advocates of peace, publicly takes the stand that it is imperative that we have adequate means for national defense, isn't it about time for the layman to look the facts square in the face? American gold will look mighty tempting to foreign nations when this war is over. We have the gold, but not the means of protecting it.

State Educational Association.

At Omaha, November 3, 4, and 5, bids fair to be held the greatest educational gatherings Nebraska has ever seen. Someone has said that the secret of success in the schoolroom lies almost wholly in the spirit of the teacher. The greatest factor for good is the proper spirit and character of the teacher. A meeting of this kind tends to develop this proper spirit and is therefore of inestimable value to the teachers, in whom in great degree is vested the moulding of the characters of our boys and girls. Teachers sometimes find it hard, under the stress of daily duties and discouragements, to keep up within themselves the necessary amount of inspiration and enthusiasm. It is therefore necessary to get this inspiration from some source. I know of no better source than the State Educational Meeting. I trust that the school officers of each district of the county will not only give their teacher permission to close school on Tuesday for the remainder of the week and give the time without stopping the teacher's salary, but that you will urge her to attend. School boards and parents should realize that the school, not the teacher, gets the real benefit of these meetings. The teacher gets new ideas; gets inspiration; gets energy, both physical and mental, and will return to the school a better teacher, and a better companion to boys and girls.

It would be a great help to the educational interests of Sherman county if one member of the school board of each district in the county would attend this meeting. The school board session will be held on Wednesday afternoon, November 3, at 2 o'clock.

Danger From Frosted Corn.

Art O'Neill and Anton Erazim are exchanging views on live stock and the proper methods of feeding, the other day, when Mr. O'Neill referred to the fact that he recently lost a valuable horse, and the cause was attributed to the fact that the animal got loose at night and ate a too large quantity of frosted cane. Mr. Erazim concurred in the opinion and related a number of experiences of his own that would seem to prove that forage of many kinds may possess a poisonous quality when frosted or when the plant has been prematurely killed by frost. For this reason, they agreed, there might be unusual losses expected this year from "corn-stalk diseases," since nearly all the corn has been killed by the frost instead of ripening in the usual way. Whether there is anything in it or not The News does not presume to know, but it gives the opinion and experience of these two experienced stockmen for what it may be worth, with the suggestion that it may be a wise plan to be a bit cautious in pasturing live stock in cornfields this year.—The Ravenna News.

More Political Rumors.

County politics have commenced to brew in Sherman county extremely early in the game. Emil Holub recently announced his determination to file as a candidate for county treasurer, and now news drifts over here from Loup City that Mike McKeon is being talked of as a probable candidate for sheriff. Mike has the peculiar qualities necessary to fill that sort of an office acceptably, and if he wants the job The News is for him.—Ravenna News.

Jas. W. Conger of Loup City and a representative of the Chenoweth Film Co., of Lincoln were here Wednesday and took a picture of the pupils and teachers of our schools. Mr. Conger is preparing a series of pictures for moving picture machines. They are getting up a movie play entitled "The Elopement." The pictures were started at St. Paul and each town on up the line to Burwell, then across to Broken Bow and down the line as far as Grand Island. The above gentlemen will also take pictures of the Boelus Hydro-Electric project.—Litchfield Monitor.

After the ceremony the bridal party returned to the home of the bride where a bounteous repast was served to their many friends and relatives. The afternoon being spent in merry-making and dancing. The happy young couple will make their home near the county seat.—Ashton Herald.

Prices looked anywhere from strong to a dime better than the latter part of last week, and business was tolerably active at the advance all day. Cows and heifers also sold to a better advantage. The demand for stock cattle and feeding steers was very keen and prices anywhere from a dime to a quarter better than last Thursday.

Sheep and lamb receipts totaled 34,500 head. The market for fat lambs was a little slow, but prices were quoted as strong to 10@15c higher than last Friday, or just about steady with a week ago yesterday. Bulk of the offerings moved at $8.50@8.65. Feeding lambs were fully steady. A good share of the desirable stuff moved at $8.25@8.40, and some choice ones up to $8.50. Feeding ewes sold as high as $5.40. Aged sheep were in good supply and sold at prices that were strong to possibly a little higher. Choice yearlings reached $7.00, and best ewes went at $6.15.

"The Difference"

By F. J. DeTamble, Charlotte Branch

A poet could take a worthless sheet of paper, write a poem on it and make it worth thousands of dollars.

THAT'S GENIUS.

Our government can take an ounce and a quarter of gold and stamp it with an eagle bird and make it worth twenty dollars.

THAT'S MONEY.

A mechanic can take material worth five dollars and make it into wheels worth a thousand dollars.

THAT'S SKILL.

A merchant can take an article worth fifty cents and sell it for a dollar.

THAT'S BUSINESS.

The Author of this can write a check for ninety thousand dollars but it wouldn't be worth a cent.

THAT'S TOUGH.

There are automobile makers in this country who use four thousand pounds of material to build an automobile and they will tell you that this automobile will serve them with pleasure and economy.

THAT'S DECEIT.

Everybody who is posted and wants the most for their money buys a "FORD."

THAT'S GOOD JUDGMENT.

NEBRASKA LEADING.
In the record breaking crop of 1915 Nebraska is one of the leading states in the union. The wheat crop broke all records in the history of the state. The Nebraska oats crop this year will total fully 73,000,000 bushels or approximately two million bushels more than last year. In 1915 the Nebraska farmers came within 400,000 bushels of the banner set year in 1910. Then the yield was 71,562,877 and is completely distanced by the new record of 1915.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT DUPLICATED.
While Chris Johansen was papering at a residence Monday the ladder slipped and Chris measured his length on the floor. His hand struck the spout of an oil can which ran in at the fleshy part at the base of the thumb for nearly an inch. At about the same time Otto Bechtold met with an accident at the garage in which he got his hand injured by the point of a sharp piece of steel being thrust into his hand. Evidently they both started for the doctor's office at the same time and met at the office steps, for exactly the same treatment. The wounds proved to be exactly in the same place on the hands and were exactly of the same nature. The only difference is that one is now left-handed and the other is right. The wounds are quite serious, however, and the boys will be laid off for some days.

MID-WINTER MEETINGS.
Representatives of the various societies which compose Organized Agriculture probably will hold a meeting at the office of the State Board of Agriculture in Lincoln November 11. The meetings of the societies, the mid-winter apple show and the rally of the agricultural and live stock interests will take place January 18-23 if the usual policy of the organization is followed. Arrangements will be made for noted speakers.
