PRESIDENT'S WORD

Annual Message Pleads for Concerted and Efficient Action.

FOR GREATER REGULAR ARMY tional defense.

Citizen Soldiery Part of His Plan-Problem of Commercial Mobilization Stated-Disloyalty Among Certain Elements in Our National Life Serious Menace to Peace.

Washington, Dec. 7.-President Wilson today delivered the following message to congress:

Gentlemen of the Congress: Since I last had the privilege of addressing you on the state of the Union the war of nations on the other side of the sea, which had then only begun to disclose its portentous proportions, has extended its threatening and sinister scope until it has swept within its flame some portion of every quarter of the globe, not excepting our own hemisphere, has altered the whole face of We demand it also for others. international affairs, and now presents a prospect of reorganization and reconstruction such as statesmen and peoples have never been called upon to attempt before.

We have stood apart, studiously neuof nations should keep the processes lective economic ruin and the breakdustries by which its populations are care of themselves and of the governfed and sustained. It was manifestly ments which they have set up to serve the duty of the self-governed nations them of this hemisphere to redress, if possible, the balance of economic loss earnestly hope and believe that they can be of infinite service.

American Nations Partners. In this neutrality, to which they life and their habitual detachment a clear perception of international duty, the states of America have become conscious of a new and more vital community interest and moral conscious of the many common symbid them stand together.

of our own great nation and of the re- essential first steps, and they seem publics fighting their way to inde- to me for the present sufficient. pendence in Central and South America when the government of the United States looked upon itself as in some against any en and without provoking serious misconnew day in whose light we now stand. when there is no claim of guardianship or thought of wards but, instead. a full and honorable association as of ditions necessary to render the army partners between ourselves and our adequate for its present duties, duties neighbors, in the interest of all Amer- which it has to perform not only upon ica, north and south. Our concern for our own continental coasts and borthe independence and prosperity of the ders and at our interior army posts, states of Central and South America but also in the Philippines, in the is not altered. We retain unabated the spirit that has inspired us through in Porto Rico. out the whole life of our government and which was so frankly put into words by President Monroe. We still mean always to make a common cause of national independence and of political liberty in America.

Attitude Toward Mexico. the case of Mexico, and we have stood of three years. This it is proposed the test. Whether we have benefited Mexico by the course we have pursued | der which the serviceable men of the remains to be seen. Her fortunes are in her own hands. But we have at least proved that we will not take advantage of her in her distress and un- throughout three years, and to come and government of our own choosing. we will not coerce her; and our course with regard to her ought to be suffi- personal accourrements as fast as cient proof to all America that we enlisted and their equipment for seek no political suzerainty or selfish the field made ready to be supcontrol.

The moral is, that the states of America are not hostile rivals but co- tervals at convenient places in assooperating friends, and that their growing sense of community of interest, alike in matters political and in matters economic, is likely to give them a new significance as factors in international affairs and in the political history of the world.

Drawing the Americas Together. There is, I venture to point out, an especial significance just now attach ing to this whole matter of drawing tage because of the economic readjustments which the world must inevitably witness within the next generation, when peace shall have at last resumed its healthful tasks. In the performance of these tasks I believe the Americas to be destined to play their parts together. I am interested to fix your attention on this prospect now because unless you take it within your view and permit the full significance of it to command your thought I cannot find the right light in which to set forth the particular matter that lies at the very front of my whole thought as I address you today. I mean na-

No one who really comprehends the spirit of the great people for whom we are appointed to speak can fail to perceive that their passion is for peace, their genius best displayed in the practice of the arts of peace. Great democracies are not belligerent. They do not seek or desire war. Their thought is of individual liberty and of the free labor that supports life and the uncensored thought that quickens it. Conquest and dominion are not in our reckoning, or agreeable to our principles. But just because we demand unmolested development and the undisturbed government of our own lives upon our own principles of right and liberty, we resent, from whatever quarter it may come, the aggression we ourselves will not practice. We insist upon security in prosecuting our self-chosen lines of national development. We do more than that. Question of Preparedness. Out of such thoughts grow all our policies. We regard war merely as a means of asserting the rights of a people against aggression. And we are as fiercely jealous of coercive or dictral. It was our manifest duty to do tatorial power within our own nation so. Not only did we have no part or as of aggression from without. We interest in the policies which seem to will not maintain a standing army exhave brought the conflict on; it was cept for uses which are as necessary necessary, if a universal catastrophe in times of peace as in times of war; was to be avoided, that a limit should and we shall always see to it that our be set to the sweep of destructive war military peace establishment is no and that some part of the great family larger than is actually and continuously needed for the uses of days in of peace alive, if only to prevent col- which no enemies move against us. But we do believe in a body of free down throughout the world of the in- citizens ready and sufficient to take

But war has never been a mere matter of men and guns. It is a thing of and confusion in the other, if they disciplined might. If our citizens are could do nothing more. In the day of ever to fight effectively upon a sudden readjustment and recuperation we summons, they must know how modern fighting is done, and what to do when the summons comes to render themselves immediately available and immediately effective. And the govwere bidden not only by their separate ernment must be their servant in this matter, must supply them with the from the politics of Europe but also by training they need to take care of themselves and of it.

It is with these ideals in mind that the plans of the department of war for more adequate national defense partnership in affairs, more clearly were conceived which will be laid before you, and which I urge you to pathies and interests and duties which sanction and put into effect as soon as they can be properly scrutinized There was a time in the early days and discussed. They seem to me the Larger Army Plan. They contemplate an increase of the standing force of the regular army sort the guardian of the republics to from its present strength of 5,023 officers and 102,985 enlisted men of croachments or efforts at political con all services to a strength of 7,136 also for the immediate addition to the trol from the other side of the water: officers and 134,707 enlisted men, felt it its duty to play the part even or 141,843, all told, all services, without invitation from them; and I rank and file, by the addition think that we can claim that the task of fifty-two companies of coast was undertaken with a true and dis- artillery, fifteen companies of engiinterested enthusiasm for the freedom neers, ten regiments of infantry, four in the fiscal year 1917 and also for the of the Americas and the unmolested regiments of field artillery, and four self-government of her independent aero squadrons, besides 750 officers peoples. But it was always difficult to required for a great variety of extra maintain such a role without offense service, especially the all important dom of action we sought to protect, which I shall presently speak, 792 noncommissioned officers for servceptions of our motives, and every ice in drill, recruiting and the thoughtful man of affairs must wel- like, and the necessary quota of encome the altered circumstances of the listed men for the quartermaster corps, the hospital corps, the ordnance department, and other similar auxiliary services. These are the ad-Hawaiian islands, at the isthmus, and By way of making the country ready to assert some part of its real power 3 tenders to torpedo vessels, 8 vespromptly and upon a larger scale. should occasion arise, the plan also tion ships. This would be a navy fitcontemplates supplementing the army by a force of 400,000 disciplined citizens, raised in increments of 133. We have been put to the test in 000 a year throughout a period to do by a process of enlistment uncountry would be asked to bind themselves to serve with the colors for purpose of training for short periods whether we will or not. There is, for dertake to impose upon her an order to the colors at call at any time throughout an additional "furlough" We will aid and befriend Mexico, but period of three years. This force of It is necessary for many weighty rea-400,000 men would be provided with sons of national efficiency and develplied at any time. They would be assembled for training at stated in- pendence on the seas. ciation with suitable units of the regular army. Their period of annual training would not necessarily exceed two months in the year. to be absolutely imperative now. We cannot do less. The Naval Program. The program which will be laid before you by the secretary of the navy STRIKING POINTS IN PRESIDENT WILSON'S MESSAGE

The department of war contemplates an increase of the standing force of the regular army from its present strength of 5,023 officers and 102,985 enlisted men to 7,136 officers and 134,707 enlisted men, and supplementing the army by a force of 400,000 disciplined citizens.

It will be to the advantage of the country for the congress to adopt a comprehensive plan for putting the navy upon a final footing of strength and efficiency.

The gravest threats against our national peace and safety have been uttered within our own borders. It is necessary for many weighty reasons of national efficiency and development that we should have a great merchant marine. It seems to me a clear dictate of prudent statesmanship and frank finance that in what we are now to undertake we should pay as we go.

We should be following an almost universal example of modern government if we were to draw the greater part or even the whole of the revenues we need from the income taxes. We have been put to the test in the case of Mexico and we have stood the test. Whether we have benefited Mexico by the course we have pursued remains to be seen. Our concern for the independence and prosperity of the states of Central and South America is not which plans long matured shall be of other nations in rivalry of their carried out; but it does make definite and explicit a program which has heretofore been only implicit, held in the minds of the two committees on naval affairs and disclosed in the debates of the two houses but nowhere formulated or formally adopted. It seems to me very clear that it will be to the advantage of the country for the congress to adopt a comprehensive plan for putting the navy upon a final footing of strength and efficiency and to press that plan to completion within the next five years. We have always looked to the navy of the country as our first and chief line of defense; we have always seen it to be our manifest course of prudence to be strong on the seas. Year by year we have been creating a navy which now ranks very high indeed among the navies of the maritime nations. We should now definitely determine how we shall complete what we have begun, and how soon.

The program to be laid before you contemplates the construction within five years of ten battleships, six battle cruisers, ten scout cruisers, fifty destrovers, fifteen fleet submarines, eighty-five coast submarines, four gunboats, one hospital ship, two ammunition ships, two fuel oil ships, and one regular repair ship. It is proposed that of this number we shall the first year provide for the construction of two battleships, two battle cruisers, three scout cruisers, fiften destroyers, five fleet submarines, twenty-five coast submarines, two gunboats, and one hospital ship; the second year, two battleships, one scout cruiser, ten destroyers, four fleet submarines, fifteen coast submarines, one gunboat, and one fuel oil ship; the third year, two battleships, one battle cruiser, two scout cruisers, five destroyers, two fleet submarines, and fifteen coast submarines; the fourth year, two battleships, two battle cruisers, two scout cruisers, ten destroyers, two fleet submarines, fifteen coast submarines, one ammunition ship, and one fuel oil ship; and the fifth year, two battleships, one battle cruiser, two scout cruisers, ten destroyers, two fleet subgunboat, one ammunition ship, and one repair ship. More Men for the Navy. The secretary of the navy is personnel of the navy of 7,500 sailors, 1,200 apprentice seamen, and 1,500 marines. This increase would be sufficient to care for the ships which are to be completed withnumber of men which must be put in training to man the ships which will be completed early in 1918. It is also necessary that the number of midshipolis should be increased by at least three hundred

If this full program should be carried out we should have built or building in 1921, according to the estimates of survival and standards of classification followed by the general board of the department, an effective navy line. 6 battle cruisers, 25 battleships of the second line, 10 armored cruisers, 13 scout cruisers, 5 first-class cruisers, 3 second-class cruisers, 10 third-class cruisers, 108 destroyers, 18 fleet submarines, 157 coast submarines, monitors . 20 gunboats, 4 supply ships, 15 fuel ships, 4 transports, sels of special types, and 2 ammunited to our needs and worthy of our traditions. But armies and instruments of war are only part of what has to be considered if we are to consider the supreme matter of national self-sufficiency and security in all its aspects. There are other great matters which will be thrust upon our attention great problem of national adequacy. opment that we should have a great merchant marine.

It is high time we repaired our mistake and resumed our commercial inde-Need of Merchant Marine.

For it is a question of independence. If other nations go to war or seek to hamper each other's commerce, our merchants, it seems, are At least so much by the way of at their mercy, to do with as they preparation for defense seems to me please. We must use their ships, and cannot handle our own commerce on the seas. Our independence is provincial, and is only on land and within the Americas together in bonds of hon is similarly conceived. It involves our own borders. We are not likely orable partnership and mutual advan- only a shortening of the time within to be permitted to use even the ships spoken, would, as at present estimated, tempers. America never witnessed and prophets of a new age.

own trade, and are without means to the treasury of some seventy-six and extend our commerce even where the doors are wide open and our goods desired. Such a situation is not to be endured. It is of capital importance not only that the United States should be its own carrier on the seas and enjoy the economic independence which only an adequate merchant marine would give it, but also that the American hemisphere as a whole should enjoy a like independence and self-sufficiency, if it is not to be drawn into the tangle of European affairs. Without such independence the whole question of our political unity and self-determination is very seriously clouded and complicated indeed.

Moreover, we can develop no true or effective American policy without ships of our own-not ships of war, but ships of peace, carrying goods and carrying much more: creating friendships and rendering indispensable services to all interests on this side the water.

Must Provide Ships.

With a view to meeting these pressing necessities of our commerce and availing ourselves at the earliest possible moment of the present unparalleled opportunity of linking the two Americas together in bonds of mutual interest and service, an opportunity which may never return again if we miss it now, proposals will be made to the present congress for the be owned and directed by the government similar to those made to the last congress, but modified in some essential particulars. I recommend these proposals to you for your prompt acceptance with the more confidence because every month that has elapsed since the former proposals were made has made the necessity for such action more and more manifestly imperative. That need was then foreseen: it is now acutely felt and everywhere realized by those for whom trade is waiting but who can find no conveyance for their goods. I am not so much interested in the particulars of the program as I am in taking immediate ad vantage of the great opportunity which marines, fifteen coast submarines, one awaits us if we will but act in this ditional expenditures of money-exwould be my duty to do so in any case; of the matter when it appears that the ures which I myself urge it to adopt. Allow me, therefore, to speak briefly consisting of 27 battleships, of the first of the present state of the treasury and of the fiscal problems which the for its own security and to make sure next year will probably disclose.

State of the Finances. On the thirtieth of June last there was an available balance in the general fund of the treasury of $104,170. have had in my mind no thought of thing in the field of federal legislation. 105.78. The total estimated receipts for the year 1916, on the assumption arising out of our relations with other that the emergency revenue measure passed by the last congress will not be the nations of the world, and there is tion of the railways of the country by extended beyond its present limit, the reason to hope that no question in federal commission has had admirable thirty-first of December, 1915, and controversy between this, and other that the present duty of one cent per governments will lead to any serious pound on sugar will be discontinued breach of amicable relations, grave as after the first of May, 1916, will be some differences of attitude and policy originally proposed. The question is $670,365,500. The balance of June last have been and may yet turn out to be. not what should we undo? It is, and these estimated revenues come, I am sorry to say that the gravest therefore, to a grand total of $774. threats against our national peace and do that would supply us with effective 435,605.78. The total estimated dis- safety have been uttered within our means, in the very process of regulabursements for the present fiscal year, own borders. There are citizens of tion, for bettering the conditions unincluding $25,000,000 for the Panama the United States, I blush to admit, der which the railroads are operated example, a very pressing question of canal, $12,000,000 for probable de born under other flags but welcomed and for making them more useful servtrade and shipping involved in this ficiency appropriations, and $50, under our generous naturalization ants of the country as a whole. It 000 for miscellaneous debt redemp- laws to the full freedom and opportions, will be $753,891,000; and tunity of America, who have poured of wisdom, therefore, before further the balance in the general fund of the the poison of disloyalty into the very legislation in this field is attempted, to treasury will be reduced to $20,644,- arteries of our national ife; who have 605.78. The emergency revenue act, if sought to bring the authority and continued beyond its present time limitation, would produce during the half contempt, to destroy our industries opinion, as a guide to dealing with the year then remaining, about $41,000, wherever they thought it effective for 000. The duty of one cent per pound | their vindictive purposes to strike at on sugar, if continued, would produce them, and to debase our politics to about $15,000,000. These two sums. amounting together to $56,000,000, if hosts by which our nation has been not ships enough of our own. We treasury at the end of the year an enough to have brought deep disgrace available balance of $76,644,605.78.

to carry out the program of military

be for the fiscal year 1917, $93,800,000 anything like this before. It never Those figures, taken with the figures for the present fiscal year which I have already given, disclose our finan- out of great free stocks such as supcial problem for the year 1917. As- plied some of the best and strongest suming that the taxes imposed by the emergency revenue act and the present duty on sugar are to be discontinued, and that the balance at the close of the present fiscal year will be only fortunes of the older nations and set $20,644,605.78, that the disbursements up a new standard here—that men for the Panama canal will again be of such origins and such free choices EARLY RECALL IS REQUESTED about twenty-five millions, and that of allegiance would ever turn in the additional expenditures for the malign reaction against the govern army and navy are authorized by the ment and people who had welcomed congress, the deficit in the general fund of the treasury on the thirtieth this proud country once more a hotof June, 1917, will be nearly two hun- bed of European passion. A little dred and thirty-five millions. To this sum at least fifty millions should be added to represent a safe working balance for the treasury, and twelve millions to include the usual deficiency ashamed to prepare for it, as if we estimates in 1917; and these additions would make a total deficit of some two hundred and ninety-seven millions. If the present taxes should be continued. ly come about and we are without throughout this year and the next, however, there would be a balance in a half millions at the end of the present fiscal year, and a deficit at the end of the next year of only some fifty millions, or, reckoning in sixty-two millions for deficiency appropriations and a safe treasury belance at the end of the year, a total deficit of some one hundred and twelve millions. The obvious moral of the figures is that it is a plain counsel of prudence to continue all of the preesnt taxes or their equivalents, and confine ourselves to the problem of providing $112,000,000 of new revenue rather than $297,000,-New Sources of Revenue.

How shall we obtain the new reve nue? It seems to me a clear dictate of prudent statesmanship and frank finance that in what we are now, I hope, to undertake, we should pay as we go. The people of the country are entitled to know just what burdens of taxation they are to carry, and to know from the outset, now. The new bills should be paid by internal taxation.

To what sources, then, shall we turn? This is so peculiarly a question when it would seem that every man which the gentlemen of the house of representatives are expected under the Constitution to propose an answer to that you will hardly expect me to do more than discuss it in very gen- no nation but his own. But it cannot, eral terms. We should be following an almost universal example of modern government if we were to draw purchase or construction of ships to the greater part or even the whole of and calling themselves Americans, the revenues we need from the in- have so forgotten themselves and come taxes. By somewhat lowering the their honor as citizens as to put their present limits of exemption and the figure at which the surtax shall begin to be imposed, and by increasing, step | flict above their regard for the peace by step throughout the present gradu- and dignity of the United States. They ation, the surtax itself, the income taxes as at present apportioned No laws, I suppose, can reach corwould yield sums sufficient to balance the books of the treasury at the end of the fiscal year 1917 without any- also speaking of these and expressing from Archibald when the British auwhere making the burden unreasonably or oppressively heavy. The precise reckonings are fully and accurately set out in the report of the secretary of the treasury which will be im- the discredit they are daily bringing mediately laid before you.

And there are many additional sources of revenue which can justly be The plans for the armed forces of dustries of the country or putting any must not fall into the patent error of Fifteen of the true bills charge extorthe nation which I have outlined, and too great charge upon individual ex- supposing that her real strength tion; another fifteen, containing sevfor the general policy of adequate penditure. A one per cent tax per preparation for mobilization and de- gallon on gasoline and naptha would fense, involve of course very large ad- yield, at the present estimated production, $10,000,000; a tax of 50 cents penditures which will considerably ex- per horse power on automobiles and try should be available and ready for ceed the estimated revenues of the internal explosion engines, $15,000,government. It is made my duty by 000; a stamp tax on bank checks, law, whenever the estimates of ex- probably $18,000,000; a tax of 25 cents penditure exceed the estimates of per ton on pig iron, $10,000,000; a tax revenue, to call the attention of the of 50 cents per ton on fabricated iron congress to the fact and suggest any and steel, probably $10,000,000. In a means of meeting the deficiency that country of great industries like this it not much longer be able to cope with to the pride of the peoples whose free duty of training the citizen force of men at the Naval academy at Annap it may be wise or possible for me to ought to be easy to distribute the bur- it successfully, as at present equipped suggest. I am ready to believe that it dens of taxation without making them and co-ordained. I suggest that it anywhere bear oo heavily or too exand I feel particularly bound to speak clusively upon any one set of persons or undertakings. What is clear is, deficiency will arise directly out of that the industry of this generation the adoption by the congress of meas- should pay the bills of this generation.

I have spoken to you today, gentlemen, upon a single theme, the thorough preparation of the nation to care of entire freedom to play the impartial role in this hemisphere and in the world which we all believe to have any immediate or particular danger nations. We are at peace with all the whole number of those sturdy upon us and to have made it necesuse of processes of law by which we dreamed it possible that men sworn into its own citizenship, men drawn they may be dealt with. Are Disgrace to the Nation.

I wish that it could be said that sentiments of allegiance to the governments under which they were born, had been guilty of disturbing the selfpossession and misrepresenting the temper and principles of the country during these days of terrible war, who was truly an American would instinctively make it his duty and his pride to keep the scales of judgment even and prove himself a partisan of There are some men among us, and many resident abroad who, though born and bred in the United States passionate sympathy with one or the other side in the great European con also preach and practice disloyalty. should not speak of others without Von Papen who, in a fetter taken the even deeper humiliation and scorn | thorities searched him, made a referwhich every self-possessed and ence to "these idiotic Yankees." thoughtfully patriotic American must feel when he thinks of them and of upon us.

comes from armaments and mere safeguards of written law

What is more important is, that the industries and resources of the counmobilization.

The transportation problem is an exceedingly serious and pressing one in this country. There has from time to time of late been reason to fear that our railroads would would be wise to provide for a commission of inquiry to ascertain by a thorough canvass of the whole ques tion whether our laws as at present framed and administered are as serv iceable as they might be in the solu tion of the problem. It is obviously a problem that lies at the very foundation of our efficiency as a people. Such an inquiry ought to draw out every circumstance and opinion worth con sidering and we need to know all sides been providentially assigned to it. I of the matter if we mean to do any Regulation of Railroads. No one, I am sure, would wish to take any backward step. The regularesults and has fully justified the hopes and expectations of those by whom the policy of regulation was whether there is anything else we can seems to me that it might be the part look at the whole problem of co-ordination and efficiency in the full light of a good name of our government into fresh assessment of circumstance and several parts of it.

For what we are seeking now, what in my mind is the single thought of during the two months of the fiscal the uses of foreign intrigue. Their this message, is national efficiency and year remaining after the first of May, number is not great as compared with security. We serve a great nation. We should serve it in the spirit of its peculiar genius. It is the genius of added to the revenues of the second enriched in recent generations out common men for self-government, inuse them as they determine. We have half of the fiscal year, would yield the of virile foreign stocks; but it is great dustry, justice, liberty and peace. We should see to it that it lacks no instrument, no facility or vigor of law, to The additional revenues required sary that we should promptly make it sufficient to play its part with energy, safety and assured success. In and naval preparation of which I have may be purged of their corrupt dis- this we are no partisans but heralds

TOLD TO LEAVE U. S. . elements of that little, but how heroic, BOY-ED AND PAPEN, OF CERMAN nation that in a high day of old staked its very life to free itself from every entanglement that had darkened the up a new standard here—that men and nurtured them and seek to make while ago such a thing would have seemed incredible. Because it was incredible we made no preparation for it. We would have been almost were suspicious of ourselves, our own comrades and neighbors! But the ugly and incredible thing has actualadequate federal laws to deal with it. I urge you to enact such laws at the earliest possible moment and feel that in doing so I am urging you to do nothing less than save the honor and self-respect of the nation. Such creatures of passion, disloyalty, and anarchy must be crushed out. They are not many, but they are infinitely malignant, and the hand of our power understood to have determined that should close over them at once. They have formed plots to destroy property, eign officials who make themselves they have entered into conspiracies against the neutrality of the government, they have sought to pry into every confidential transaction of the government in order to serve interests alien to our own. It is possible to deal with these things very effectually. I need not suggest the terms in which

While we speak of the preparation

Washington, D. C. - Immediate withdrawal of Captain Karl Boy-ed and Captain Franz von Papen, respectively naval and military attaches of the German embassy, has been requested by the state department. In making formal announcement of this action Secretary Lansing said the attaches had rendered themselves persona non grata to the United States government by improperactivities in connection with naval and military matters.

EMBASSY, MUST GO.

Continued Obnoxious Activity of Officials Prompted Lansing's Order.

Wilson Approves Decision.

The secretary acted with the full approval of President Wilson, who is the United States shall be rid of forobnoxious by activity harmful to the best interests of the nation.

The complaints against Von Papen and Boy-ed were accumulative, dating back to the early days of the European war. The case against them is peculiar, not being capable of legal proof. It consisted of an accumulation of suspicious circumstances and conditions which connected the at taches with attempts to violate the only a few men, misled by mistaken neutrality laws of the United States. The accumulation was sufficient to convince the department that the official status of the attaches in the United States should be discontinued.

It was understood that while in the case in New York nothing actually had been proved against Captain Boyed, in view of the attention attracted by the case, officials reviewed his record and determined that now was a good time to get both Captain Boy-ed and Captain Von Papen out of the United States. The state department does not have to have legal evidence, but tan act as it has done in the cases of the attaches, upon the question of obnoxious conduct. The attaches need not have been guilty of technical violation of any law.

Von Papen's principal offenses consisted of sending a letter to Germany by Archibald and the interest he is said to have in fomenting ruptions of the mind and heart; but I strikes in munition factories. It was Forty-six Indicted.

Chicago - Forty-six indictments. naming fifty-four defendants, were of the nation to make sure of her returned as a result of the grand resorted to without hampering the in- security and her effective power we jury's inquiry into alleged labor graft. en counts each, charge conspiracy; a third batch of fifteen charge malicious mischief, and one indictment containing sixteen counts charges conspiracy. The defendants named ranged from heads of local labor organizations and small plate glass manufacturers to sluggers. Testimony before the grand jury wove a long tale of intimidation, extortion and the harassment of persons who declined to submit to the demands of certain union business agents and their alleged associates. Total bail in the cases aggregated $10,530,000.

Wilson's Name Filed in Nebraska.

Lincoln, Neb .- The name of Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States, has been filed with Secretary of State Pool of Nebraska as a candidate for renomination. Electors who signed the petition ask that the name be placed on the preferential primary ballot next spring in this state. The name of Governor John H. Morehead tops the petition and is closely followed by those of Jefferson H. Broady and John G. Maher, the two democrats who circulated it. On the list are Dr. P. L. Hall, national committeeman, John E. Miller, a regent of the state university, John W. Cutwright and L. B. Tobin of the Daily Star of this city and other well known democrats.

Will Protest in Earnest.

Washington. - Vigorous representations will be made to Great Britain by the United States against the requisitioning of the American steamship Hocking without prize court proceedings. This became known after the receipt of official confirmation from American Consul General Young at Halifax of reports that the Hocking had been held.

Keeps Man Chained to Post. Watertown, N. Y .- The court martial of Colonel Robert Hirst, third in fantry, U. S. A., is being held at Madison barracks. Colonel Hirst is charg ed with keeping a soldier who struck him handcuffed for several days, and chained to a post, Wilson Will Attend Hayes Event. Washington.-President Wilson told Colonel Webb C. Hayes, son of former Preident Hayes, he would be present at the dedication of a Hayes monument at Fremont, O.

Teutons Threaten Greece,

Athens.-Representatives of Augtria and Germany have informed the Greek government that if the demands of the quadruple entente are granted the central empires "will cease to consider Greek Macedonia as friendly territory."

British Gunboat Sunk. London.-A dispatch to the Daily Telegraph from Athens says a British coast defense gunboot in Povotian waters has been sunk by a German submarine.

WORTH KNOWING

That lightning flashes appear to zigzag is an optical illusion, according to shows and demonstrations where elec- ity on meteors, states that these boda German scientist, who contends that | tricity is not available the Louisiana the effect is due to the eyes twitching when flashes occur. French hospital attendants have succeeded in impregnating rubber gloves with the salts of certain metals and making them impervious to X-rays for the protection of persons using the and galvanized wire, heretofore thrown ably at the same height or very nearravs.

For educational motion picture Mr. Dennings, the well-known author-State university has equipped an auto- velocity, apart from what might be in-mobile with a generator. Pittsburgh manufacturers have discovered that pigments for coloring very nearly the same region gave in paints can be obtained from the liquids

Action of Meteors.

Writing in Nature of the last display of Perseids, as observed in England. ies exhibited a distinct difference in duced by differences in position and distance. "Two meteors appearing in several instances an apparent speed that are used for finishing tin plates essentially dissimilar, though presumly so."

FROM OVER THE WORLD

In only fourteen Chinese cities are I there telephone systems of appreciable size. Cars of a new type, with a capacity of 70 tons, are being placed in service by the Pennsylvania for hauling pipe of the National Tube company, 770,000 pounds having recently been shipped ers returning goods. Only a restricton these for export, consigned to the ed number of articles may be returned United States Steel Products company | within 36 hours in an undamaged confor the Oil ell Supply company.

A new electrical process makes charcoal from sawdust waste.

with rank of professor range in this

The salaries of college teachers country from $450 to $7,500 a year. St. Louis business men are sitting down hard on the practice of custom-

Making Progress. "Well, we are getting along pretty well in our plans for defense." "So?"

"Yep; got an advisory board and a gasoline engine."-Louisville Courier-Journal.

Don't Need Any. Edyth-So Jack kissed you the first time he called. Had you given him any encouragement?

Mayme-Encouragement! Say, you evidently don't know Jack.